

E. P. Holmes '78 was a delegate to the County Convention and won great favor by a brilliant speech in presenting the name of John Wright who had legislative aspirations.

W. A. McAllister '77 is in Europe yet, and will remain during this year. The sight of Mc's smiling countenance would do us almost as much good as the death of that rich aunt whose heir we are.

Miss Alice Frost '76 is teaching the Grammar school in Beatrice. She had been teaching in Ashland and the Board undertook to reduce the wages of all the city teachers and Miss Frost "struck," and accepted her present more profitable and pleasant position.

J. S. Dales '73 and A. W. Fields '77 were unsuccessful candidates for delegates to the County Convention. Too bad, gentlemen. But it may be well for you to learn to eat crow in this stage of your career, that in possible future contingencies the taste may not be so revolting.

G. E. Howard '76, having spent two years touring and studying in Europe, has returned and accepted the position of acting Professor of English Literature. Mr. Howard was always a student of superior ability, and his many friends will rejoice at this recognition of his talents. His appointment will give an impetus to many students who look for reward in the same way he gained it. We hope the time will soon come when pupil teachers will be a permanent institution in the University.

PERSONALIA.

S. P. Platt has gone to Omaha to enter the Business College there.

Miss Josie Goodale from Columbus Neb. is the guest of Miss Minnie Heath.

Miss Emma Smith, of Saunders Co. was in attendance on the Baptist Convention.

Miss Emma Seifert has been very sick with typhoid fever. But is now slowly convalescing.

The STUDENT has been favored with a call by Miss. Mollie Carter '78 and Miss. Phoebe Carter.

D. H. Mercer, the energetic President of the Palladian Society has been sick with the shakes.

Owen McConnel, Captain of the Capital B. B. C., is employing himself on the University "diamond."

Clem Hardy, the good looking son of our worthy mayor, is ornamenting the University this year and sports the only plug hat on the premises.

Miss Florence Brooks is at the Commercial, and her many friends will be pleased to know that she will attend the University the remainder of the term.

George Hartman, from the Gibbon academy, is attending the University. The local papers of his district speak very highly of him as a smart young man and fine orator.

We were pleased to "shake" with F. C. McCartney, the tony and talented editor of the High School. Owing to his energetic efforts it is taking a high rank in educational journalism.

E. Ewan, J. F. Lefler, Charley Polk, J. L. Shank, Orla Brainard, E. F. Steele Frank B. Hall and many other old students whose names we do not now recall, were in the city during the Fair

Messrs. Nicols and Wicks, formerly students in North-western College, have entered the University. If the North-western has any more such as they are to spare, we should more than pleased to receive them.

We find on our table the card of Amos Gantt, editor and proprietor of the Western Nebraskian. Mr. Gantt once warmed the seat we now occupy, and became known to fame by an ingenious theory as to the origin of the fire that destroyed one of the University edifices. We regret exceedingly that we were not in when you called, but try again Bro. Gantt.
