

Campus Canards.

I'll smoke a "Punch", Manley.

Manley has the cream of the candy trade.

What ails the class in University Algebra?

H. P. Barrett is visiting with us this week.

Miss Keyser, of Doane, is visiting Miss Carse.

Be sure and go to Winger & Miller's for your underwear.

Latest styles in neck-wear, collars, and cuffs at Ewing & Co's.

For some unknown cause the base ball excitement has all died out.

The best judges of artistic work go to Kelley & Co for Photos. No. 1026 O st.

"Mortar boards"! What an acquisition they will be to the average Freshman head.

University students can get best lead pencils for 25 cts. per dozen at Winger & Miller's.

Dr. B. Bell Andrews, of Nemaha City, was visiting friends at the University this week.

Go to T. Ewing & Co's emporium for fine clothing, gents furnishing goods, hats and caps.

"It is not all life to live—nor to wear canes, etc.;" is the Soph version of that familiar quotation.

The howling breezes, that waft the dust to our eyes, are certainly growing more numerous than pleasant.

Possibly some of these chilly mornings and evenings will induce you to look at W. R. Dennis' line of underwear.

The Union and Palladian debating clubs seem to have better prospects than ever before, for doing good solid work.

And now comes the "would be startled prep" and innocently inquires if there is a special police force for hallow e'en.

H. E. Grimm, of Roca, came in to attend the general meeting of students, Saturday evening, to discuss "fraternity problems."

The preps are wrestling hard with civil government. They have already acquired more knowledge than the ordinary congressman.

For the past two or three days wild geese in flocks were noticed flying southward. Another harbinger of approaching cold weather.

The Cadets and band have been out on dress-parade several times this term. Taking in to consideration its being the fall term they make a fine appearance.

The notice in our last issue of the Hesperian election was intended for the preceding one but by mistake came as stated. Only two weeks late and nobody to blame.(?)

Professor Culebrtson, formerly of the University, is running his extensive sorghum works day and night. It is a new industry for this state and the professor seems to be making a success of it.

Our fall and winter stock is now complete.—T. Ewing & Co.

N. B. Secure yourself against the coming crisis!—the chapel choir seriously threaten dissolution.

What ails our "campus" now? Fences down—fire, you know, gates open, cattle, horses, pigs, and town-boys, running at will! What's to be done about it?

We had intended to make a note on the influences of cold on chapel piety, but on giving the subject a more careful consideration concluded to defer our remarks until brighter times.

The new feature of library work—the clipping plan—progresseth in the hands of the professors of history. This is well worthy a more extended notice; an editorial perhaps would better do it justice.

With due respect for the rights of contestants and the principles involved, we note the struggle commenced between our literary societies and the secret fraternities. Let the struggle be waged calmly and fairly, and may the right prevail.

I have just received a new outfit of dental tools and materials. Am prepared to do all kinds of work which comes in my line. Satisfaction guaranteed. A liberal reduction to students. Come and see me.—W. A. Hull, 1105 O St. Over Harley's Drug Store.

The co-eds are taking the cake in athletic sports this year. They seem to be more enterprising than the boys. It is time the boys woke up to this idea. It is to be hoped before another year there will be a gymnasium in connection with the University.

Why are the preps so coltish? When "let out" of class they generally fly around through the halls, talking tolerably loud and making us fear, at least with respect to the co-eds, that a large majority of ought-to-be High School students are loafing in this vicinity.

The University of Nebraska is going to be represented at the New Orleans exposition, by a barrel of potatoes sent by Judge Savage of the college farm. Each potato is to be labeled and decorated with the required amount of trimming. They say it is doubtful whether they would stand a chance at a one horse county fair.

Many of the students find it to their interest to board at the Howard House. This house has recently changed hands and now more than sustains its former reputation of being the best dollar a day house in the city. Mr. Carder printed the first number of the STUDENT ever published and will welcome the boys at all times.
