

spend his vacation. He says he is going to Harvard to study next year.

Tingley was born to greatness; Baughman achieved greatness; but Church, lucky man, had greatness thrust upon him.

The students in military science jumped up and cracked their heels together eleven times at the easiness of the exam.

The janitor of the Memorial Hall showed our typos great kindness by loaning them two large lamps during the gas famine.

The Philos and Unions seem to be engaged in a rivalry regarding artistic display in their respective bulletin boards. Pals where are ye?

There is nothing in this world like being a genius, and yet if everybody was a genius, what a chestnut a genius would be, anyway!

Mr. Franktorter is recovering but slowly. During his absence from his work at the high school Mr. Fulmer has charge of his classes.

Mr. Englehardt, an old student, who has been absent from school the past term, has returned to town and will begin school next term.

Messrs. T. S. Allen and H. C. Peterson were selected by the University Union to represent that society in the University local oratorical contest.

And the juniors came, and Prof. Hunt came, and the questions blew and beat upon that class, and it flunked, and great was the flunk thereof.

Pizey's midnight ride at Weeping Water and the many pleasant associations connected therewith will probably long be remembered by all parties concerned.

Drs. Warner and Wolfe will be here and begin work next term. Professor Warner will give an elective in social science and Professor Wolfe in philosophy.

The band boys have received a very remunerative position at a summer resort in the Catskills for next summer. We guess there won't be any cats left next fall.

The Kappa Kappa Gammas held a reception at the home of Miss White, December 14, in honor of their sister, Miss Moulton, who has left for her home in the east.

Mr. John Silvernail, '83, now superintendent of the manual training school at Kearney, Neb., was in Lincoln, and attended the reception to Lieutenant Griffith.

Dr. Billings has returned from the east with wrath in his heart against his opponents who had seized upon his absence to more effectually oppose him. Look for developments.

He was a massive professor,
He flunketh one of three;
Of all the Junior class in themes,
Full one-third flunketh he.

It is a criminal offense for a Union to look at Palladian.

The Bigelow line of succession is broken if another heir does not appear soon, to take the place of the deceased rather in Union politics.

To be a Bigelow is greater than to be a king.

Bigelow's family report to the faculty was inoculated by Dr. Billings.

Radical change of policy. Bunt once believed in student rule, now he believes in "Hunt" rule. Why? To save his scalp.

Prof. Hunt's defense before the faculty was well received,

Company D prime, or E, seems about to turn up its toes. It is rent by intercentine strifes and rude dissensions, as we are told, mark its course, which, by the way, is like unto the course of love, rough—exceedingly rough.

It is rumored that the Lincoln Military band wish to sell their instruments. This would be an excellent opportunity for the regents to get a new set of instruments for the cadet band. They are sadly in need of such a set.

The second Preps elected the following class officers for the next term: president, Mr. Fowle; vice-president, Miss McDermitt; secretary, Miss Brockman; treasurer, Mr. Gansoa; sergeant at arms, Paul Pizey; historian, Mr. Anderson.

A great number of the students slaughtered the Thanksgiving bird at their homes. They were wise in availing themselves of their last chance so to do, for be it known that the faculty have sat upon the Thanksgiving holiday. Yea, verily!

There is a fellow in this University who has just learned to dance, and now he can't do anything but dance. At all times, seasonable or unseasonable, his feet persist in going, and yet he rooms very near the University. "The excessive fatigue, you know."

"The gods give no great good without labor" is an old proverb, and a true one; the hardest labor is not that which is best paid, however. To those in search of light, pleasant and profitable employment, we say, write to B. F. Johnson & Co., Richmond, Va.

A Lincoln society young girl,
Now a 'Versity special young girl,
A delicate constitution,
Take music and elocution,
Raise Ned in the halls, young girls.

The Unions elected the following officers: President, G. H. Baughman; vice-president, Miss Louise Pound; secretary, A. M. Troyer; assistant-secretary, Miss Cora Smith; treasurer, H. C. Peterson; critic, E. R. Holmes; sergeant at arms, C. W. Bigelow and Miss Nettie Clenen.

A cop (for the benefit of all who are not freshies we state that we mean a policeman) was seen in the halls, searching with his eagle eye for Professor Hunt and Lieut. Griffith. He said he wanted them for witnesses, but as he winked as he spoke, we suspect he wanted them for principals.

It is said Eagleson was mistaken for a minister at a Wabash ball Thanksgiving evening. As soon as the girls found out that he was a University student, the many sombre glances that had been directed towards him ceased, and smiles greeted him at every whirl the remainder of the evening.

The quantitative laboratory enjoyed some excitement lately. A reagent bottle was missing. The astounding fact was announced to the class and to the police department. Everybody hung under a cloud. Detectives from Scotland Yard were telegraphed for. The laboratory was locked and all the inmates searched. The next morning the bottle was in its place. One of the students had taken distilled water home in it to make ink with.

The senior class have elected the following members to represent them on Commencement day: F. A. Manley, Philodicean; Alfred Pizey, F. W. Collins and T. A. Williams, Palladian; Miss Myra Clark and T. S. Allen, Union. A few in the class, who have hitherto always been found crying out for unity, saw fit to bolt the actions of the class, and have since attempted to override the will of the majority by submitting a minority report to the faculty.
