

Jennie M. Stout, a member of the class of '86, is attending school in Jacksonville, Illinois. She, with her brother Charlie, completed the course this year. As an example of the work she is doing, Jennie took the first prize for being the neatest and best typewriter in the class. Her many friends receive "printed" pages from her frequently.—Beatrice Exponent.

The majority of the students do not appreciate the treats they have had the opportunity to receive from the Haydon Art club, and yet there are quite a number that do appreciate and take advantage of the opportunities. Added to the exhibition of the "Wise and Foolish Virgins," the regular monthly programs which are held in the chapel, was the very entertaining and instructive illustrated lecture by Professor French, of Chicago, February 26, on the "Wit and Wisdom of the Crayon." The small audience that listened to it, received and appreciated a rare treat.

Why cannot the higher classmen have more liberties and more privileges? Why could it not be arranged so that a student who is doing special work in any line could, at any time he should see fit, have access to material and literature: at liberty to delve and dig at any time, day or night, that he may see fit to do so, rather than to have those privileges doled out to him like bread to a beggar? That is, for example a man who is making a special study in a science at liberty to go into the library and laboratory at any time and solve any idea that comes to his mind; the student in literature at liberty to in the library to delve and search on any line when he has an idea in his mind. This privilege is given the higher students in some of our neighboring colleges, and with very satisfactory results. It is granted to a very few in this institution and with the best results. Those few who enjoy this liberty in the departments in which they are doing special work have proven to be the students of those departments. Why cannot that privilege be made general?

As there was no society last Friday quite a number of students of the U. of N. improved the opportunity to visit our neighbors, the Orphelians, of Nebraska Wesleyan University. The crowd arrived at the university in several detachments, and one small detachment of two arrived at Twenty-seventh and Vine after the last car had wended its solitary way to the wilds of University place. As the exercises at Wesleyan commenced at sundown, none of the visitors heard all the program. A "paper" was an important feature of the program and this let a flood of light in upon the internal workings of a boarding school. The number of "mashes" and the manner of transferring unsatisfactory "mashes" was startling. Of course everybody stayed to business meeting and were entertained by the reading of a splendidly robust specimen of constitution which had probably been in course of construction since last September. The only really sad feature of the visit was that French and Allen did not get to deliver some little flowery speeches they had prepared. After some ineffectual attempts on the part of Forsyth to get the cars to start, leaving half the crowd behind, the whole mob boarded the two one horse cars and with the aid of a great deal of noise arrived in town.

The following have already been received as samples of University yells. Manley and Fifer are supposed to be the originators:

- (i) Hoopee, Hoopee, do 'em again,
Haidee, Haidee, U. of N.
- (ii) Haidee, Haidee, U. of N.
Rah-doo, rah-doo, Amen! !
- (iii) Rah, rah, rah,
U. of N.
Haidee, Haidee,
Haidee!

B. F. JOHNSON & Co., 109 Main St., Richmond, Va.

Smith (with smiling face)—What have you got the blues about? Jones—Nothing to do. Times are dull. Smith—Well, now, old fellow, I am glad I struck up with you. You sit right down and write to B. F. Johnson & Co., of Richmond, Va., and they will put you in a way to make money faster than you ever did before. I was out of work, too, but began a little correspondence with them and now I am growing fat and rich. Too busy to talk longer now.

ARE YOU INTENDING TO BUILD A HOME?

If so, send us your address and 50 cents in stamps or postal note for our new book containing over Fifty Different Styles and Plans of Houses, costing from $2.00 to $3,500, suitable for city, town or country, arranged by the best architects in the United States and Europe. The book gives pictures and plans of each house, showing just how they look when completed. Any carpenter can build from these plans. If you ever intend to build a house, write at once as this advertisement will not appear again in this paper. Address, F. C. SHEPARD, Evansburg, Pa.

A PROFITABLE BUSINESS.

Those who take an agency for a reliable enterprising house, learn their business and stick to it, "get on" in the world. People who have any idea of engaging in any canvassing business will do well to write George Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine—the great art and general publishers. They offer the most exceptional advantages to those who are sufficiently enterprising to be willing to make a push in order to better their condition. It costs nothing to try. Women make successful canvassers, as well as men. Full particulars will be sent to those who address the firm: their full address is given above.
