ALDEN'S MANIFOLD CYCLOPEDIA.

A Cyclopedic of Universal Knowledge, and Unabridged Dictionary of Language in one work, in 40 handy volumes, large type, with over 4,000 illustrations. Cloth, per vol., 60c., per set, $24.00. Half Morocco, per vol., 85c., per set, $34.00.

Discount LARGE DISCOUNTS from above prices to early subscribers—the net prices being slightly advanced each month. Early orders help to meet the enormous cost of publishing; pleased patrons bring other patrons; therefore, not only first come "first" served, but first come "best" served!

A COMPARISON OF CYCLOPEDIAS.

Alden's Manifold, 40 volumes, 25,600 pages, contains approximately 14,080,000 words, cost,	$24.00
Appleton's, 16 " 18,408 " " "	15,928,000 " " 80.00
The Britannica, 24 " 20,940 " " "	26,006,400 " " 120.00
Johnson's, 4 " 6,983 " " "	10,962,310 " " 35.00

Manifold Merits.

"The price is very low, the form exceedingly handy for a work of reference, and the editing skillful and comprehensive."—Literary World, Boston.

Low Price.

"The literary skill and judicious editorship which have characterized the undertaking from the outset have been in no degree relaxed."—Sun, New York.

Literary Skill.

"An unabridged dictionary and a storehouse of information on almost every conceivable topic. The more we see of the work the more we are pleased."—Educational Monthly, Akron, O.

Handy—Ten to One.

"The convenient form, the excellence of binding, paper, and illustrations, and the skillful arrangement of articles make this a handy cyclopedic, which will be used ten times where the bulky 'Britannica' would be consulted once. The illustrations are really helpful, and are numerous. No matter what other cyclopedias a writer may have, 'Alden's Manifold' should be upon his shelves."—The Writer, Boston.

Alden's Ideal Revolving Book Case. No. 3 represented in the accompanying illustration; price $10.00, by express.

The two sides alike; 136 inches of shelf room; will hold 125 to 150 volumes of average size. Made of cherry birch, with birds-eye maple panels; hand carved. May be knocked down and set up again in five minutes. The only knock-down revolving case ever made.

Space, beauty and convenience considered, the cheapest bookcase manufactured. No other article of furniture of equal cost will equally adorn a cultured home. Shelves are adjustable, thus fitting books of any size.

Cheaper styles, not "knock-down," as low as $3.00 and $6.00.

Catalogue, 96 pages, of Standard and Popular Books, sent free. Lowest prices ever known. Agents Wanted. JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher
