

Leave your laundry bundles at THE HESPERIAN office and have them sent to a first class laundry.

Mr. Ed. Fowlie, of Crete, stopped to see the sights of the university while on his way back to Doane.

Not long since a letter came to the university directed to "J. B. McCorky," from the Kansas university.

A. V. House, Doane's orator, was here last week. He is taking an active interest in the coming contest.

Mark Woods has lately recovered from an abscess in his side. For a time Mr. Woods' condition was critical.

Dr. Lees has formed an extra class in Greek, which meets once a week to read the second book of the Anabasis.

Although the registration is not yet complete, there is a large number of students enrolled for the spring term.

J. W. McCrosky has been elected as associate editor to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of D. W. Bush.

The young ladies in the scientific department kill flies by holding them up to a sponge saturated with chloroform.

Lieutenant Griffith has given H. C. Peterson a leave of absence from military duties until after the inter-state contest.

The first proof sheets of the new catalogue have been looked over and the catalogue will probably be out by May 1.

We understand that the Adelpian quartet from Doane College will sing at Grace M. E. church next Saturday evening.

Miss Anna Atwood has returned to school, but on account of ill health she will not do any work except in the art department.

Schell in the meeting of the athletical association: Mr. President I think the gentleman Miss Understake the object of this association.

Ashland school is retained on the major course for two years longer, and the Tecumseh school is placed on the same course for one year.

Professor Cushman, of Drake university, Des Moines, Ia., visited our institution last week. He was much interested in several of the departments.

"And may I go out with the boys without asking the faculty?" was one of the many questions asked about our university by a newly matriculated student.

Hereafter, having finished the school of the companies, we will have battalion drill every Monday afternoon, skirmish drill on Wednesday and dress parade Friday.

The freshmen have appointed a foot ball and base ball committee. The class expects to take an active part in outdoor games and will probably do some good work.

Movements have been started to consider measures designed to simplify our curriculum. Probably the group system used at Johns Hopkins will be introduced.

Mrs. Dr. Mathewson, mother of H. P. Mathewson called on her university friends, while returning to California from the east, where she has been visiting for some time.

Every one of the school-ma'ams who attended the state teachers meeting is now the happy possessor of a tintype, eighteen for a quarter, that represent Gillispie with his senior hat.

Requirements for preparatory Latin have been increased for admittance to the freshman class to three books of Caesar, five orations of Cicero and thirty lessons in Allen's or Daniel's composition. This was done on the recommendation of high school superintendants, who attended the state teachers meeting.

Tuesday last Misses Ida and Lizzie Bonnell with friends returned from a trip to Salt Lake City. A feature of their enjoyment while gone was in meeting Frank Manley at Rock Springs.

The Palladian freshmen have invited the Irving society of the city high school, and the Orphelian of the Wesleyan to attend their special program to be given Friday evening April 18.

Miss Brownie Baum from Omaha recently visited Miss Lottie Andrus. A leading feature of Miss Baum's entertainment was a very enjoyable card party given on the evening of the 2nd.

Mr. L. E. Benton, a former student who took special work under Professor Bessey, is now studying botany in the University of California. He recently sent to Mr. Webber two fungi to be named.

Professor Bessey has recently received a picture of the late Dr. Parry, who was very prominent in American botanical services, and who was connected with the Davenport academy of sciences.

About a thousand choice German specimens consisting of Uredineae, Lichens, and Algae have been added to the herbarium. Mr. Webber has also received from Germany 2,000 flowering plants and 200 fungi.

We have it direct from a sojourner in sopherian society that one of the editors of our bright contemporary does not believe the adage, "Take care of the pence and the Pounds will take care of themselves."

The officers of the Palladian boys debating club for the spring term are: President, J. H. Johnson; vice-president, G. S. Cushman; secretary, Harry Lord; treasurer, J. L. Wallace; sergeant-at-arms, C. R. Welden.

The cabinet cases that have been delayed so long by the inability of the contractors to get the desire material for making them, are at last nearly ready for the many specimens that have been collected from time to time.

Professor Hicks has recently received some fine specimens of mammalian fossils of the tertiary age. These fossils are found in large quantities in the western part of Nebraska where they are gradually being accumulated.

The last volume of Saccardo's Sylloge Fungorum has been added to the botanical library. This set of ten volumes has been issued by one man during the last ten years, which is remarkable as it embraces 32,000 species of fungi.

The officers of the Union boys debating club are: President, L. E. Troyer; vice-president, J. A. Barkley; secretary, G. L. Town; custodian, H. A. Senter; attorneys, A. M. Troyer, W. F. Wolfe; sergeant-at-arms G. L. Sheldon.

The officers of the class of '94 for the spring term are: president, C. E. Teft; vice-president, R. H. Johnson; secretary, Miss Gertrude Marsland; treasurer, A. Tower; custodian, G. Woods; class poet, Miss Mary Edwards; sergeant-at-arms, H. J. Podlesak.

Dr. Lees recently examined Pawnee City academy. He called upon the principal of the Pawnee City high school and visited Tecumseh high school. Pawnee City academy is not quite prepared for the major course but hopes to be in a year or two.

At the beginning of the term Marsland spent a few days in Peoria Ill., attending to business. On his return he visited Knox college, where he was very cordially entertained. Marsland says there are lots of pretty girls attending Knox college.