MANY YEARS AGO.

Files of The Journal, May 27, 1874.

Quite a number of farmers last spring sowed flax. This is a new feature in farming in this county. Such things cringe enterprises in the right direction. The parties who have flax growing state that the same is looking finely.

There is some talk among our citizens in regard to constructing and launching a steamboat on the Loup river, provided the proper material aid can be realized. Wonders never cease, and our citizens may yet see a steamboat gliding beautifully up the Loup river.

It has been noticed that a great many trees, from the tough cottonwood to the tender peach were killed during the past winter. Several farmers, who keep well posted in matters of this kind, say that it was owing to an early frost in September last. Many cottonwoods as much as four years old, have been killed, what ever may have been the cause.

Messrs. E. J. Baker, T. C. Ryan, J. C. Morrissey, Hugh Compton, Wm. McAlister, A. Friedline and J. Stauffer have generously donated the necessary number of buckets to the Columbus Hook and Ladder Co. The requisite number of buckets having been contributed by the above named merchants and dealers; it was not necessary to call upon others though doubtless they would have contributed.

There were a great many people in town on Saturday last purchasing supplies. Most, if not all, the corn ground has been planted, and many farmers began harrowing Monday. It is reckoned the best plan is to harrow just before the weeds make their appearance above the surface. Columbus is to have two base ball clubs this season. Go in, boys, there is good material here for two No. 1 clubs.

Wall Paper

Now that spring is on the way, would it not be a good idea to think about repapering the rooms? Our line of wall paper has never been surpassed, either in quality, pattern or price, and all who have had work done by us have been well satisfied.

For many years the problem of preventing the river from washing away land adjacent to it has perplexed those owning it and it has cost thousands of dollars to have been expended in trying to prevent this damage, but without success. The owner of the land was compelled to sit by and see his property eaten away. But a new plan has been devised that seems to fill the bill, and it is so simple that one wonders why it was not thought of before. The Omaha Current Deflector company, who own the patent, have been putting in some work here which speaks for itself. On J. H. Galley's farm, southeast of the city, the river was rapidly eating away the land and the current next to the bank was from eight to ten feet in depth. This was about four weeks ago, and today there is only about two feet of water and no current to speak of, the main channel being to the south. Their system consists of wire netting, which is anchored in the river above where the current strikes the bank, thereby checking it and causing a deposit of sand to be made so as to form a sand bar where the channel formerly was. Besides this work they have been doing some for M. Brugger and also for the county at the Loup bridge. At the latter place the current threatened to wash around the south end of it and necessitate a longer approach, but this danger has been removed, and the danger has been removed. The cost of the work is very reasonable, $2.55 per rod, and as the diverting of the channel seems to be the remedy for cutting, it looks as though the problem had been solved.

Last Saturday a couple of knights of the road entered Friedhof's store and asked to look at coats. While one was thus engaged the other managed to get away with a pair of pants, but was caught in the act by the clerk and forced to disgorge. After the pair had left the store it was discovered that another pair of pants was missing, and Chief Schack was notified. He was given a description of the culprit and about five o'clock located him and placed him under arrest. He was taken to the Friedhof store and searched, but nothing was found, and he claimed the other fellow was the culprit. The other fellow, who was a printer by the name of Collins was discovered Sunday morning just after he had boarded the blind for Central City, and the authorities there were notified to look out for him and placed him under arrest as soon as the train arrived and Monday he was brought back to this city by the sheriff and placed in jail, and will have to answer for his work. There was a large number of tramps in town last Saturday and it was rather a strenuous day for the police.

Patron's day will be Friday, May 29. All the schools will be adjourned in the afternoon, in order that the patrons and pupils may have an opportunity to see the display of school work at the High school. This work will be from every room in the city. It will consist of writing, drawing, map work, industrial work, mechanical drawing, wood work and iron work from the manual training department, and biological work from the science department. Every patron is urged to be present and see something of what is being done by the pupils. Many patrons on account of other matters do not visit the school often, but at this time we hope every patron will avail himself of the opportunity to come any time from 1:15 to 4:30. It will be an encouragement to the children and will enable you to see how your child's work compares with that of others in the lines displayed.

The first of the weekly band concerts will be given in the park next Friday evening, as the boys have been successful in raising the amount of the subscription required. The change from Wednesday night, which has long been the regular night, to Friday is for the benefit of the traveling men. During the last few years quite a number of traveling men have moved to this city and this year they donated liberally to the band concert fund. As they cannot be in the city the first of the week, and a good many of them are here Friday, the change was made for their benefit, and it will make no material difference to the citizens of Columbus.

Platte county farmers are beginning to take an interest in the stocking of the country with game birds. Roy Clark, of Woodville township, who is serving on the jury this week, in speaking of the matter, said that a number of his neighbors had read with interest regarding the work of the Columbus Game and Fish Protective association, and that they were thinking very strongly of purchasing a number of settings of pheasant eggs and stocking the timber in their locality. Those interested will see to it that the birds are properly protected, as they will allow no hunting on their lands.

R. Spies. Cards and dancing were the amusement, and during the evening punch was served by Mrs. H. B. Robinson and Mrs. H. Merdock. Many of the guests pronounced this the most enjoyable dancing party of the season.
