MANY YEARS AGO.
Files of the Journal June 10, 1874.
Ground was broken Monday for Bone-steel Bros' business house, Turner & Hulst's bank, J. A. Baker's business house and Wm. Hunnehan's dwelling, all on Nebraska Avenue. These will add greatly to the appearance of that part of the city.

White covered wagons are the kind of vehicles we have become accustomed to see, and on some of them are various mottoes, and names. A few days ago a train passed along our streets on which was painted the one word, "Texas." They had five wagons and ten horses attached to a picket line running from a wagon in the front of the horses led, to a wagon following in the rear of the horses.

Last week this part of the "Great American Desert" was again visited by soft and gentle showers of blessed rain, infusing new life and vigor into vegetation which in some places looked sick and many thought near unto death. At this locality we have been favored with frequent gentle rains, and the most of the gardens we have seen about town look well, and garden vegetables are growing rapidly. A good rain again yesterday.

Last week, some seventy Otoe Indians visited this place. They were on their way to visit the Pawnees. We came across one of them, a tall, straight Indian with a plug hat on, who gave his name as George. He stated that they expected to make presents to the Pawnees and receive presents in return. They would have a "big eat" and a "large dance." George was looking about our stores with a view to invest in some showy articles for presents, we suppose to the fair squares of the Pawnees. We notice that ribbons of "loud" colors suited best his fancy. George stated that their wheat on the Otoe reservation looked much more promising than the same did here, and that the corn was some larger than it was here.

Wall Paper

Now that spring is on the way, would it not be a good idea to think about repapering the rooms? Our line of wall paper has never been surpassed, either in quality, pattern or price, and all who have had work done by us have been well satisfied.

Kavanaugh & Betterton

Late North with caretaker Louis Fritts and the fast pacing horse Black Douglas, shipped out from here Monday evening for Davenport, Iowa, where Mr. North will continue the preparation of his horse for the strenuous campaign he has mapped out for him. Weather conditions have been such here that it was useless to try and bring the horse up to his speed. Black Douglas is entered in races at Peoria, Ill., Terre Haute, Ind., Libertyville, Ill., Galesburg, Ill., Davenport, Iowa, Dubuque, Iowa, Hamlin, Minnesota, and Milwaukee, Wis. Purse of $1,000 are hung up at the first five meetings, and at the latter two places $5,000 each. Mr. North did not think that he would start his horse at Peoria, July 3 to 10, as he will have to race against horses from the south that are already in condition, but at Terre Haute, July 14 to 17, he will more than likely face the starter. When he left here Black Douglas never looked so well and strong. There is no doubt that Mr. North has one of the best horses ever raised in Nebraska—one that is always willing to go a long journey, and no matter where he races, the horse that leads him to the wire will realize that he has been in a sure enough race. Everybody here will watch with interest the career of this horse, and any good luck that may come to the owner will be fully enjoyed by his friends at home.

The Edwin Strong Co. will make its initial appearance under canvas here, starting Monday night, June 15, and continuing every evening for a week, with a change of play nightly, opening in the four act drama, "Hearts and Flowers." The company has been augmented since its previous appearance here at the opera house by a military band of fourteen pieces, under the leadership of Prof. Banks, formerly with the Coliseum Band of Chicago. There will be daily free concerts at noon, and at 7:30 p. m. in front of the show grounds on 13th street. Miss Kathryn Dale of this city, whose histrionic ability is so well known, and whose genial personality has won for her a high place in the esteem of all those with whom she came in contact during her residence in Columbus, is still enacting the leading feminine roles with the company.

A little incident occurred in this city the other day, that for real child innocence is about the best that we have heard lately. A gentleman living in a small town not far from Columbus, had business to transact here, and brought his young son along to take in the sights. They were compelled to remain over night, and after they had retired, the following conversation took place: "Papa, how do they grow beer?" "They don't grow it, son, but make it." "Well, I saw a sign today where it said beer garden," was the young lad's reply.

The contractor is just completing the cement floor in the new cattle barn on the State Fair Grounds at Lincoln. This barn is a mammoth building 174x255 and will have stalls for 636 head of cattle, superintendent's office and toilet rooms, and the total cost will exceed $33,000. Cattle Superintendent O. E. Mickey of Osceola reports the receipts of entries daily, and the management confidently expect that the ample provisions for caring for cattle will result in the largest exhibit Aug. 31st to Sept. 4th ever held in Nebraska.

A quiet wedding took place at the German Reform church, Wednesday afternoon, when the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Garlepow, Miss Emma, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Fritz Ablegger, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Ablegger will make Columbus their future home.

Miss Bertha Schupbach, the third and fourth grade teacher in the Second ward school, gave her scholars a pleasant treat Wednesday afternoon taking them to Wm. Poesch's candy factory and giving them each a dish of ice cream. Miss Schupbach has just closed a very successful term of school, and her many friends will be pleased to learn that she has been retained for another term.

Miss Emma Perier of Lincoln, district deputy of the Royal Highlanders, is here and it is probable that she will remain until the latter part of the week. The local lodge, which was organized recently, is progressing rapidly, and it will not be long until it will be numbered among the strongest of its kind in the state.

There was a heavy rain Sunday evening in the northwest part of the county—in fact it was almost a cloudburst. On Monday morning the Looking Glass creek had raised so that the Spalding freight was held at Monroe until afternoon, when the track, which was overflowed a mile west of Monroe, was repaired, and on Tuesday the Albion freight could not get through west of Genoa, as the Beaver, which was the highest known in years, had washed out a culvert over a dry creek. A work train was called into service Tuesday afternoon and the damage repaired.
Omaha papers report that William A. Cunnison, convicted of a felony in Platte county, is free. Information was filed against him in district court on February 28, 1908. The court had adjourned since the February 27, and another session did not begin until March 2. The supreme court says that the law requiring information to be filed in term is mandatory and that information filed when the court is not in session is void.

Peeping Jack is again making his appearance this summer. He was seen peeping into the windows at the home of Louis Maier on East 13th street, Monday evening, but a kind and thoughtful neighbor frightened him away. This may be a warning for many housewives to close the shutters and draw the blinds so the light of the lamp may not cause the wandering Jack to call at their homes.
E. H. Flitton, manager of the Globe Optical Co., Omaha, will be at the Clother Hotel, Saturday, June 13, with a complete equipment for testing eyes and fitting glasses. During the third week in June, County Superintendent Lecron will send out notices to the various districts, notifying them how many scholars there are that have applied for high school privileges. Under the new law pupils passing the eighth grade examination have their tuition in any accredited high school paid by the district in which they reside, and the superintendent has quite a number of these applications on file. At the annual school meeting provision should be made by the districts for paying this tuition, otherwise the additional tax is added in the county clerk's office.

There were two resignations presented to the city council at their meeting last Friday evening, the first one being that of Rev. G. A. Munro as a member of the Library board, and the second was that of Joe Stovick as night engineer at the water works. Rev. Munro's resignation was accepted and the mayor presented the name of Louis Lightner to succeed him, which was approved by the council. Mr. Stovick's resignation was also accepted, but his successor has not been named, the committee on water works being instructed to secure a competent man to fill his place. A number of years ago the council was asked by Ingra Wiltzinsky to exclude certain real estate from the corporate limits of Columbus, and this request was complied with. But according to the statement made by Wiltzinsky, through his attorney, this does not seem sufficient, and he asks the council to go through the same formality again, which they will do. A petition was presented to the council, signed by T. Friedhof and others, asking that a cement walk eight feet in width be built through the park, from the northeast corner to the southeast corner, and was referred to the committee. A cement walk was ordered built on the west side of Lewis street, from Thirteenth street to the Union Pacific tracks. Adolph Hoge and Ed Branigan were awarded the contract for sprinkling the residence portion of the city. The semi-annual report of Water Commissioner Branigan was received and adopted.
