Columbus defeated Shelby Sunday by score of 8 to 3, and next Sunday are scheduled to play Central City. The team defeated the home team in six games, July 4 and 5 and the latter going to give the visitors the worth their money, so a good game can be looked for.

Hose Company No. 1 now leads in the firemen's league, they having defeated the Hookies Sunday by a score of 6 to 5. The Hookies lay their defeat to errors of first, John Staab of No. 2's played and for the Hookies Sunday, as one of their regular men was absent, Batteries: Hookies, Haney and Hirschbrunner; No. 1, Becher and Graves.

Next Sunday Hose Companies No. 1 and 2 are scheduled for a game, and the No. 2's promise that there will be something doing all the time and when the game is finished the percentages of the boys will all look alike.

Following is the standing of the clubs in the firemen's league:

TEAMS	Played	Won	Lost	Per Cent
Hose Company No. 1	3	3	0	100
Hose Company No. 2	3	2	1	66.6
Hookies	3	1	2	33.3

ELLIOTT, SPEIGE AND GO.

In company with Nicholas Miller, the writer made a trip to the harvest field of Bert Hastings, on the Osterhoudt and Becker farm, two miles north of David City, Friday. Mr. Hastings was cutting grain with a gasoline engine and seemed to make it jibe. While it cannot be said that it was a "howling success" it was the only way that Mr. Hastings could out his grain. It required a strong four-horse team to draw the harvester over the soft ground. A 2 1/2 h. p. Olds gasoline engine furnished the motive power to do the cutting and binding. Mr. Hastings first tried a 1 1/2 h. p. air cooler but it was not sufficient to do the work. The larger engine, a water cooler, performs its part all right. The ground was so very soft in the wheat field that Mr. Hastings had given up cutting his wheat for the time being, and had commenced on his oats, although they were a little green. With Mr. Hastings' ingenuity we think he will eventually succeed in getting all his grain out in pretty good shape. The weather this week has been quite favorable.—Butler County Press.

There is not today between the flowing tides of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans a more unique character than J. Mohammed Ali. This man was born a high caste Hindu. He was educated in the highest universities of his country and was prepared for the priesthood. His father was an educated man, the court physician to his Highness the Prince of Kapurthala. Coming to America to complete his education Ali became converted to the Christian religion and has been a growing faith. J. Mohammed Ali speaks the language of America fluently and in his several lectures takes for his theme the down-trodden condition of his countrymen. He dresses in native costume. It is interesting to know that Ali has been cast off by his family since he renounced his Hindu faith. Thus his conscience has cost him title, social position and an uncounted fortune. He will be one of the interesting speakers at the Columbus Chautauqua which will open Tuesday afternoon, August 4.

The romance of the West is fast dying away and it lives only in the plays depicting life and character during the period when we had a frontier. Among the plays of the West which are now the fad, probably the best is "The Montana Limited," the latest production of the Kline & Gazzolo Amusement Company. The situations of the drama are intensely dramatic, but they are in no sense sensational as is the rule in the ordinary Western melodrama. The scenic investment of the drama is of the highest order of merit, the principal scene being that of a railroad train in motion and the robbery thereof. There is abundant comedy of the wholesome sort and there is not a draggy moment throughout the play. The characters include cowboys, Indians, Mexicans, and road agents. The play is of high grade and will afford reliable entertainment for those who love the better class of drama which relies for success upon superiority, artistry and realism. At the North Opera House, Tuesday, August 4.

John Feekin narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday afternoon, while threshing at the M. O. Cassin farm, one mile west of Columbus. The engine had been running about two hours, when the explosion occurred, blowing the back out of the engine and scattered iron in every direction. The force of the explosion was very great as it blew large pieces of iron over forty feet. As this was the first time the engine had been used since being repaired, it is not known what caused the damage. Mr. Feekin was himself the engineer, and just stepped off the coalbox when the explosion occurred, and was so close that he was blown under the water wagon. He was immediately taken to his home in east Columbus, but later it was found that he had received no serious injury, but was badly bruised about the face and arms, and although several men were working in the field, no one with the exception of Mr. Feekin received an injury.

The first steam plow ever used in Howard county arrived in St. Paul last week. It will plow thirty acres a day and will be employed upon the splendid stretch of stiff clay lands which lie west of the county seat. This probably foreshadows the time when the farm plowing will be done by a neighborhood plow, worked by a man with special skill in handling machinery. Already potato digging in some of the potato centers of Nebraska, like Beaver Crossing, in Seward county, is done by a special machine and gang of men, who get out a big crop in a day or two which would keep the old time farmer, two hired men and all the family breaking their backs all the fall.—State Journal.

Platte county will go before the state with a candidate for a state office, M. D. Karr of this city having filed for the republican nomination of railroad commissioner. The Journal is pleased to make this announcement, as Mr. Karr is a man who is especially fitted for the position, being a large shipper and familiar with the needs of the patrons of the roads. As president of the Columbus Commercial Club he has shown himself to be the right man for the place, and the republicans of the state could not do better than place him in nomination for the office of railroad commissioner.

Mrs. Frances Nelson, wife of William Nelson, who resides in south Columbus, passed away Saturday evening at eight o'clock, death resulting from heart failure. Deceased had been a patient sufferer for the past two years, and for the past six weeks had, at times, been very ill. Mrs. Nelson was born in Jackson county, Alabama, in 1839. A few years later she, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maxwell, moved to Hamburg, Tennessee, where, in 1853, she was united in marriage to William Nelson. To this union ten children were born, four of whom are deceased. Soon after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson went to Missouri, but did not remain there long, when they moved to Indiana, where they resided for twenty years. From there they came to Nebraska, settling in Columbus, where they have resided for the past thirty-six years. Deceased was a devoted Christian and was always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need, and by her kind and loving nature won many friends, who will always reverence her name. Besides her aged husband, she leaves several children, namely: John Nelson, Mrs. Martha Smith and James Nelson, residing in this city, Mrs. Bertha Clark of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. Anna Cleveland of Edenville, Nebraska, to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the United Brethren church, Rev. Lohr, assisted by Rev. Johannes, pastor of the German M. E. church, conducting the services, and interment was made in the Columbus cemetery. Relatives who attended the funeral from out of town were Mrs. Clark of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. Cleveland of Edenville, Nebraska.

The German automobile in the New York to Paris race arrived in Paris, July 26, and was greeted with loud cheers as it swept up the crowded boulevards to the finishing post, and escorted by a large number of automobiles. As the German car had completed the circuit of the world at Berlin, its arrival here today was not attended by any official ceremony. It is announced as certain that the American car in the New York-to-Paris race will be adjudged the winner owing to the non-compliance of the German competitors with certain conditions governing the race. Automobile Topics has received a splendid photograph which shows the true sportsmanship of the Americans in the New York to Paris race. The photograph shows the German car in a bog, far over the hub, with the big American car tugging at a tow line, trying to extricate the Germans from the difficulty. The fact that the German car was first into Paris did not give that car the race, as the Americans would win if they reached Paris within thirty days of the time of the Germans. This was time allowed the Americans for the gain made in America which the Thomas car sacrificed by the useless trip into Alaska and on account of the distance the Germans shipped by rail in the United States when the car was shipped from Pocatello, Idaho, to Seattle in order to catch the same steamer to Asia.

The South Side Sports and Walter Luer's Pick Up team crossed bats at the field school Sunday afternoon, during which time two games of ball were played, each game resulting in a victory for the Sports. The first score being 12 to 5, while the second was 16 to 4. The South Side team was composed of Harry Williams, centerfield; Otto Boettcher, pitcher; Carl Boettcher, short stop; Clifford Galley, first base; Stephen Douglas, second base; Frank Moersen, third base; Clyde Douglas, right field; Jay Hensley, left field; Ben Turnis, catcher. The opposing team consisted of Nels Nelson, pitcher; Leo Nelson, catcher; Otto Conner, first base; Ben Davis, second base; John Glur, right field; Joe Nelson, center field; Walter Luers, short stop, and Harry Colton left field. The South side boys challenged their opponents to another game, whenever a satisfactory date can be arranged, and no objections whatever will be raised concerning the married men, who wish to play in the Luer's team. The second game was no doubt as interesting as the first, and as both teams are composed of boys with sterling good qualities much is expected of them in the near future.
