Buying paint used to be like the proverbial buying of a "pig in a poke." Mixtures in which chalk, ground rock, etc., predominated were marked and sold as "Pure White Lead," the deception not being apparent until the paint and the painting were paid for. This deception is still practiced, but we have learned to expose it easily.

National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine Pure White Lead, realizing the injustice that was being done to both property owners and honest paint manufacturers, set about to make paint buying safe. They first adopted a trade mark, the now famous "Dutch-Boy Painter," and put this trademark, as a guaranty of purity, on every package of their White Lead. They then set about familiarizing the public with the blow-pipe test by which the purity and genuineness of White Lead may be determined, and furnished a blowpipe free to every one who would write them for it. This action was in itself a guaranty of the purity of National Lead Company's White Lead.

As the result of this open dealing the paint buyer to-day has only himself to blame if he is defrauded. For test outfit and valuable booklet on painting, address National Lead Company, Woodbridge Bldg., New York.

Sewing Room Vaudeville. "It's nip and tuck with me," said the Sewing Machine, "though I ofter strike the seamy side."

"I do something of a reel," an nounced the Spool Cotton. "I have a good eye for the thread of a plot," complacently declared the Needle. "I gather interest as I go along," boasted the Ruffler.

"I do a pretty smooth turn in my cancan," modestly remarked the Oil. "When I try to do anything," mournfully remarked the Eye, "I get the Hook.

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right Starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other makes.

Newspapers of the World.

There are 12,500 newspapers published in the United States; about 1,000 of them are published daily and 120 are managed, edited and published by negroes. In Asia there are 3,000 periodical publications, of which the greater part appear in British India and Japan; the latter country publishes 1,500 newspapers. Africa has only 200 newspapers, of which 30 are published in Egypt and the rest appear in the various European colonies.

Just a Plain Commoner. Royal names for hotels are sometimes the cause of peculiar misunderstandings. An aged farmer from the home county decided to make a visit to Toronto. It was the first time he Mr. Carter. "Don't you find it almost had been at a city station and when a impossible to distinguish between hotel crier hurried to him with the in- them?" terrogation: "King Edward?" the newcomer simply smiled as he answered: "No sir-Thomas Cox of Eramosa."

Starch, like everything else, is being constantly improved, the patent There's as much difference betwixt Starches put on the market 25 years ago are very different and inferior to white men. I was looke you at first. those of the present day. In the lat- | says to meself that they're as like est discovery-Defiance Starch-all in- as two pease. But, now, look at those furious chemicals are omitted, while two mugs there in that door. They're the addition of another ingredient, in- no more alike than you and me, as vented by us, gives to the Starch a Mr. Wilson here can tell you, sor." strength and smoothness never approached by other brands.

A Financier.

"Dear, what in the world was the lawn mower doing at the foot of the stairs when I came in at midnight last night?"

"Didn't you tell me that you had taken out an accident policy on your life?"-Houston Post.

Your Druggist Will Tell You That Murine Eye Remedy Cures Eyes, Makes Weak Eyes Strong. Doesn't Smart. Soothes Eye Pain and Sells for 50c.

one never finds a strong man ungrateful.-Mountfort. Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c. You Ingratitude is a sign of weakness; pay 10c for cigars not so good. Your deal-er or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill. A wise man is apt to know when he has enough before he gets it. FITS, St. Vitus' Dance and Nervous Diseases per-manently cured by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer.

Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ld., 231 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The best workman is he who loves his work .- T. T. Lynch.

Use Allen's Foot-Ease ed, aching, sweating feet, 25c. Trial package 8. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Greatness and goodness are not means, but ends .-- Coleridge.

ually; Dispels Colds and Head aches due to Constipation; Acts naturally, acts truly as a Laxative. Best for Men, Women and Child ren-Young and Old. To get its Beneficial Effects Always buy the Genuine which has the full name of the Com-

FIG SYRUP CO.

by whom it is manufactured, printed on the front of every package.

SOLD BYALL LEADING DRUGGISTS. one size only, regular price 500per bottle.

SYNOPSIS.

Giles Dudley arrived in San Francisco to join his friend and distant relative Henry Wilton, whom he was to assist Henry Wilton, whom he was to assist n an important and mysterious task, and who accompanied Dudley on the ferry boat trip into the city. The remarkable resemblance of the two mens noted and commented on by passential. sers on the ferry. They see a man with snake eyes, which sends a thrill through Dudley. Wilton postpones an explanation of the strange errand Dudley is to perof the strange errand Dudley is to perform, but occurrences cause him to know it is one of no ordinary meaning. Wilton leaves Giles in their room, with a nstruction to await his return. Hardly has he gone than Giles is startled by a cry of "Help." Dudley is summoned to the morgue and there finds the dead body of his friend, Henry Wilton. And thus Wilton dies without ever explaining thus Wilton dies without ever explaining to Dudley the puzzling work he was to perform in San Francisco. In order to liscover the secret mission his friend had entrusted to him, Dudley continues his lisguise and permits himself to be known in the secret mission with the secret mission his friend had entrusted to him, Dudley continues his lisguise and permits himself to be known in the secret mission of the secret mission him secret mission of the secret mission him secret mission as Henry Wilton. Dudley, mistaken for Wilton, is employed by Knapp to assist in a stock brokerage deal. Giles Dudley finds himself closeted in a room with Mother Borton who makes a confidant of him. He can learn nothing about the mysterious boy further than that it is mysterious boy further than that it is Tim Terrill and Darby Meeker who are after him. He is told that "Dicky" Nahl s a traitor, playing both hands in the game. Dudley gets his first knowledge of Decker, who is Knapp's enemy on the Board. Dudley visits the home of Knapp hand is stricken by the beauty of Luella, his daughter. He learns the note was lorgery. He is provided with four guards, Brown, Barkhouse, Fitzhugh and Porter. He learns there is to be no trouble about noney as all expenses will be paid, the nire of the guards being paid by one 'Richmond." The body of Henry Wilton s committed to the vault. Dudley re-sponds to a note and visits Mother Boron in company with Policeman Corson. Giles Dudley again visits the Knapp nome. He is fascinated by Luella and nored by Mrs. Bowser. Slumming tour hrough Chinatewn is planned. The trip o Chinatewn. Giles Dudley learns that he party is being shadow by Terrill. CHAPTER XVII-Continued.

'Oh, isn't it sweet! So charming!" cried Mrs. Bowser, as we came into full view of the scene and crossed the invisible line that carries one from modern San Francisco into the ancient oriental city, instinct with foreign life, that goes by the name of Chinatown. Sordid and foul as it appears by daylight, there was a charm and romance to it under the lanternlights that softened the darkness. Crowds of Chinese hurried along the streets, loitered at corners, gathered about points of interest, but it se as though it was all one man repeated over and over.

"Why, they're all alike!" exclaimed Mrs. Bowser. "How do they ever tell each other apart?"

"Oh, that's aisy enough, ma'am," replied Corson with a twinkle in his eye. "They tie a knot in their pigtails, and that's they way you know

"Laws! you don't say!" said Mrs. Bowser, much impressed. "I never could tell 'em that way.'

"It is a strange resemblance," said

"To tell you the truth, sor, no," said Corson. "It's a trick of the eye with you, sor. If you was to be here with em for a month or two you'd niver think there was two of 'em alike. one and another as with any two

The difference between the two Chinese failed to impress me, but I was mindful of my reputation as an

"Oh, yes; a very marked contrast." sworn that they were twins if Corson | had suggested it.

dubiously.

In and out we wound through the oirnetal city-the fairy-land that all right enough," said Corson, "but busy with strange crowds, changing at prayers.' times as we came nearer to a tawdry odors. Here was a shop where ivory explanation without further remarks ger, fear and brutal passions. in delicate carvings, bronze work that from Mrs. Bowser. showed the patient handicraft and groart of the ancient empire. Next the in the conversation long enough to anand opium, and in whose misty depths the others to file out, a voice that the Black Smoke, and, like many anfigures of bloused little men huddled thrilled me spoke in my ear. around tables and swayed hither and "Our guide is enjoying a great fa- of the subtle drug. thither. The click of dominoes, the vor." It was Luella, noticing me for As I moved forward, Luella clung to rattling of sticks and counters, and the the first time since the expedition had me and gave a low cry. The Wolf excited cries of men, rose from the started.

throng. "They're the biggest gamblers the Ould Nick iver had to his hand," said favor I was enjoying. Corson: "there isn't one of 'em down there that wouldn't bet the coat off his

"Dear me, how dreadful!" said Mrs. Bowser. "And do we have to go down into that horrible hole, and how can we ever get out with our lives?"

"We're not going down there, ma'am," interrupted Corson shortly. "And where next?" asked Luella.

The question was addressed to the policeman, not to me. Except for a formal greeting when he had met, Lu- subjects has come to an end." ella had spoken no word to me during the evening.

"Here's the biggest joss-house in town," said Corson. "We might as well see it now as any time." "Oh, do let us see those delightfully horrible idols," cried Mrs. Bowser. The policeman led the way into the dimly-lighted building that served as a temple.

I lingered a moment by the door to see that all my party passed in. Porter, who closed the procession. "Where?" I asked, a dim rememsent him in pursuit of the snake-eyed part of the people. As a part of San man giving the information a sinister Francisco it is only vile." twist.

wright halted at the door.

"He's just passed up the alley here, said Wainwright in a low voice. "Who? Terrill?" I asked.

"Yes," said Wainwright. "I've kep him in sight all the evening." "Hasn't he seen you?" asked Porter. "I spied you as soon as you turned the

"Don't know," said Wainwright;

Wainwright was off. The presence of Terrill gave me that his unscrupulous ferocity would on." stop at nothing. Then I reflected that attack from Doddridge Knapp's method of smoking. agents, and I followed the party into the heathen temple without further apprehensions.

The temple was small, and the dim, to the ugly figure of the god and the led up a stair, hidden by a turn after trappings of the place.

wouldn't touch one side of it." "You don't say!" cried Mrs. Bowser, while the rest murmured in the effort | said Luella cautiously. to admire the work of art. "And is As she spoke, one of the doors to the stage door of the theater." "How close and heavy the air is!" cried Luella in low suppressed tones, said Luella, as we followed the windtrembling and half-falling. I put my ing passage in the dim illumination arm about her to support her. that came from an occasional gas jet and was gone.

"Take me home, oh, take me home!"

She leaned upon me for one mo-

"Come: let us go back to the oth-

But as we turned a sudden cry

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Battle in the Maze.

"What is it?" I asked.

should not have left them."

door was locked in our faces.

for the moment unnerved me.

ella in a matter-of-fact tone.

gestion of impatience.

with us before now."

beating it down."

"It is a poor practical joke, I fear,"

a revolver to my overcoat pocket.

plied, beating a tattoo on the door. "You'll hurt your fists," she said.

"You must find some way besides

"I'm trying to bring our friends

"Isn't there another way out?" asked

"I suspect there are a good many ways out," I replied, "but, unfortunately, I don't know them." And I gave

"Where does this stairway go, I a few resounding kicks on the door.

way out. Isn't there another?"

"We might try the passage."

here," said I. "They should have been to be here by this time."

or oil lamp. "The yellow man is a firm believer in the motto, 'Ventilation is the root of all evil,"I admitted.

The fumes of tobacco and opium were heavy on the air, and a moment later we came on a cluster of small rooms or dens, fitted with couches and bunks. It needed no description to make the purpose plain. The whole process of intoxication by opium was before me, from the heating of the metal pipe to the final stupor that is the gift and end of the Black Smoke. Here, was a coolie mixing the drug; there, just beyond him, was another, drawing whiffs from the bubbling narcotic through the bamboo handle of his pipe; there, still beyond, was another, lying back unconscious, halfclad, repulsive, a very sorry reality inbut something's up. There he goes deed to the gorgeous dreams that are now. I mustn't miss him." And reputed to follow in the train of the seductive pipe.

"This is depressing," said Luella, some tremors of anxiety, for I knew with a touch on my arm. "Let's go

"Turn to the right there," Corson the presence of Doddridge Knapp's called out, as we led the way while daughter was a protection against an he was explaining to Mr. Carter the

> "Let us get where there is some air," said Luella. "This odor is sickening."

We hastened on, and, turning to the religious light gave an air of mystery | right, soon came on two passages. One half a dozen steps. The other "That's one of the richest carvings stretched 50 or 75 feet before us, and ever brought into this country," said an oil lamp on a brackett at the farth-Corson, pointing to a part of the altar er end gave a smoky light to the passmounting. "Tin thousand dollars age and to a mean little court on which it appeared to open. "We had better wait for the rest,"

IN THE DIM LIGHT THE FIGURE WAS THE FIGURE OF THE WOLF I said promptly, just as I would have that stuff burning for a disinfectant?" | ward the farther end of the passage

She pointed to numerous pieces of swung back and a tall, heavy figure punk, such as serve the small boy on came out. My heart gave a great "Very remarkable!" said Mr. Carter the Fourth of July, that were consuming slowly before the ugly joss. "No, ma'am-not but they needs it

"I'll show you the theater next." tesque fancy of the oriental artist, lay said he, as he led the way of the side by side with porcelains, fine and temple with Mrs. Bowser giving her coarse, decorated with the barbaric views of the picturesque heathen in taste in form and color that rules the questions that Corson found no break terplot, and the Doddirdge Knapp who rich shop was a low den from whose swer. As I lingered for a moment in ployer, could dwell in the same body. open door poured fumes of tobacco some depression of spirit, waiting for 'the King of the Street was a slave of

"He has every reason to be delighted," I returned, brightening at the "Foreign travel is said to be of great value in education," 'said Luella, taking my arm, "but it's certainly stupid at times." I suspected that Mr. Carter had not been entirely successful in meeting Miss Knapp's ideas of what an escort should be. "I didn't suppose you could find anything stupid," I said.

"I am intensely interested," she retorted, "but unfortunately the list of

"You might have begun at the beginning again." "He did," she

Aunt Julia." "Thank you," I said. "Thank him, you mean," she said gaily. Now don't be stupid yourself, me time to speak, "that the only way I can be reconciled to this place and "There's Wainwright," whispered the sights we have seen is to imagine I am in Canton or Peking, thousands > "Come this way," said Corson, halt- and set fire to the oil. Before Uncle "I'll show you through some of the half his whiskers and exploded his cel- made of glass.

"Doddridge Knapp!" I exclaimed,

It flashed on me that one mystery was explained. I had found out why the Doddridge Knapp of plot and counwas the generous and confidential emother, went mad under the influence my arm fiercely. stretched away, gay with lanterns and that's the haythen way of sayin' your figure of the Wolf, the head was the head of the Wolf and though no light This information was so astonishing shone upon it, the face was the face reality, cheap, dirty, and heavy with that Corson was allowed to finish his of the Wolf, livid, distorted with an-

and gave a step forward.

bound, and I felt without realizing it at the moment that Luella clutched In the dim light the figure was the

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Experiment Was a Failure.

And Now Uncle Hezekiah Is Down on Washington Cificials.

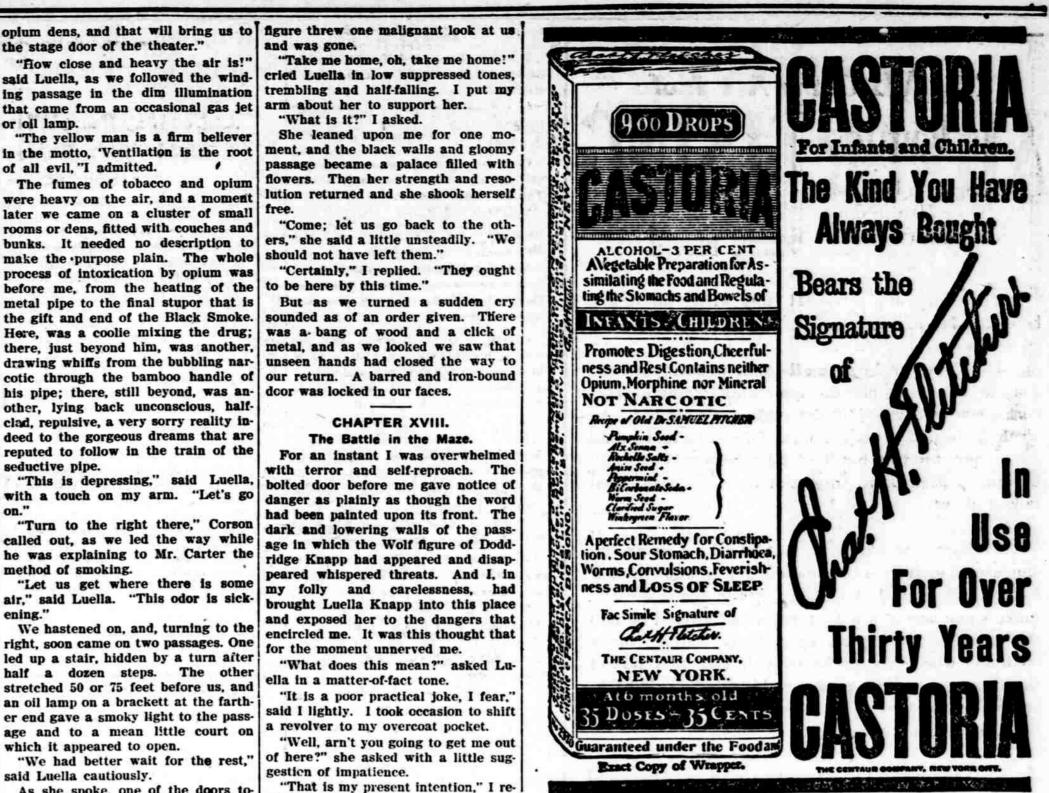

"By gosh, but Uncle Hezekiah is down on them Washington officials," said the old farmer with the big the bracket in the corner. The brackscythe. "What is the trouble?" in et had been made expressly for the nuired the windmill repairer. "Why, 'phone. It had been so exceedingly thought it time he tried the guide or you see, them Washington folks sent convenient to call up her friends that out a circular saying that 'skeeters' the woman immediately noticed the could be killed with kerosene." change; for on the bracket in place "What happened then?" "'Most ev- of the telephone stood a statuette that erything happened, stranger; 'most she didn't much care for. "What have so please change the subject. Do you everything. You see, Uncle Hezekiah you done with it?" she asked of them. know," she continued without giving tried the experiment. He hunted "The company tried to collect the around half the morning and broke his bill," they said. "I am sorry," the suspenders before he could ketch a woman sighed, because at that molive 'skeeter. Then when he did ketch | ment she thought of about a dozen to one he took him out in the yard and whom she would have liked to teleof miles from home? Seen there, it is ducked his head down in a big can of phone. "So are all our friends," said brance of the mission on which I had interesting, instructive, natural—a kerosene. While Uncle Hezekiah was they pointedly. bending over the sun reflected through the corner of his spectacles luliod collar. And worst of all, Uncle Hezekiah isn't sure whether the skeeter was killed or not." Lost a Good Thing.

Formerly a telephone had stood on Tools Made of Glass.

Squares, triangles and similar im-Porter gave a dirrup and Wain- ing with the party at one of the doors. Hezekiah could get away is burned off plements used by draftsmen are now

Keeps the breath, teeth, mouth and body antiseptically clean and free from unhealthy germ-life and disagreeable odors, which water, soap and tooth preparations

WITH "HEALTH AND BEAUTY" BOOK BENT FREE

THE PAXTON TOILET CO., Boston, Mass.

LIVE STOCK AND

MISCELLANEOUS

Electrotypes

IN GREAT VARIETY

FOR, SALE AT THE

LOWEST PRICES BY

A.N. KELLOGG NEWSPAPER CO.

STHMA and HAY FEVER

alone cannot do. A germicidal, disinfecting and deodor-

izing toilet requisite

cellence and economy. Invaluable

for inflamed eyes, throat and nasal and uterine catarrh. At drug and toilet

by mail postpaid.

Large Trial Sample

stores, 50 cents, or

of exceptional ex-

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, In-digestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coat-Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

W.L.DOUGLAS

$300 SHOES $350

other manufacturer in the world, be-cause they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

Shoes at All Prices, for Every Member of the Family, Mer, Boys, Women, Misses & Children W.L. Donglas $4.00 and $5.00 Gill Edge Shoes cannot be equalled at any price. W.L. Denglas $2.50 and $3.00 alones are the best in the world

First Color Eyelets Used Exclusively.

37 Take No Substitute. W. L. Douglas name and price is stamped on bottom. Sold everywhere. Shoes mailed from factory to any part of the world. Catalogue free.

W. L. BOUGLAS, 157 Spark St., Breckins, Mass.

wonder?" said Luella. "It can't be the Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

She gave a shudder and shrank to-"No, no," she cried in a low voice.

hear you, and it may be opened." I followed her suggestion with a rain of kicks, emphasized with a shout that made the echoes ring gloomily in the passage.

I heard in reply a sound of voices, and then an answering shout, and the steps of men running. "Are you there, Mr. Wilton?" cried the voice of Corson through the door. "Yes, all safe, I answered. "Well, just hold on a bit and we'll-" The rest of his sentence was lost in a suppressed scream from Luella. I turned and darted before her, just in time to face three Chinese ruffians who were hastening down the passage. The nearest of the trio, a tall dark savage with a deep scar across his cheek, was just reaching out his hand to seize Luella when I sprang forward and planted a blow square upon his chin. He fell back heavily, lifted almost off his feet by my impact, and lay like a log on the floor. The other two ruffians halted irresolute for an instant, and I drew my revolver. Their wish seemed to be to take me alive if possible. After a moment of hesitation there was a muttered exclamation and one of the desperadoes drew his hand from his blouse.

"Oh!" cried Luella. "He's got a knife!" Before he could make another movement I fired once, twice, three times. There was a scramble and scuffle in the passageway, and the smoke rolled thick in front, blotting out the scene that had stood in silhouettte before us.

Fearful of a rush from the Chinese. threw one arm about Luella, and, keeping my body between her and possible attack, guided her to the stair that led upward at nearly right angles from the passage. She was trembling and her breath came short, but her spirit had not quailed. She shook herself free as I placed her on the first

"Have you killed them?" she asked

"I hope so," I replied, looking cautiously around the corner to see the results of my fusillade. The smoke had spread into a thin haze through the passage.

the latest fashion and use

Defiance

in the laundry. All three things are important, but the last is absolutely necessary. No matter how fine the material or how daintily made, bad starch and poor laundry work will spoil the effect and ruin the clothes. DEFIANCE STARCH is pure, will not rot the clothes nor cause them to crack. It sells at roc a sixteen ounce package everywhere. Other starches, much inferior, sell at 100 for twelve ounce package. Insist on getting DEFIANCE STARCH and be sure of results.

Defiance Starch Company, Omaha, Nebraska.