Love and "The Man of the Hour." "Every woman will love this play! She will love every character in it, even to the men who are not as good as some of the others, and she will love every word they speak. And, why? Because the man in the play talks like the husbands, brothers, fathers, sons, and sweethearts of real life; because the women in the play are like the woman we like to to this country and to Columbus in the have round us at home; because what 60's. August 22, 1873, he was married they all say, the men and women of "the to Miss Martha Gibson, who survives Man of the Hour', is the speech of human beings, and sounds like what we hear every day at home and in the street. In short, 'The Man of the Hour' is bound to succeed wherever it is acted in the United States, because it shows American men and women of all classes as they really are." The foregoing was written by Amy Leslie, the famous dramatic critic of the Ohicago Daily News, in her paper on Monday, May 13, 1907, the day following of St. Joseph, Mo., who arrived Thursthe Chicago production of "The Man of the Hour." It represents the most striking tribute ever paid to a play of American life written by an American author.

*************** The death of Mrs. W. K. Lay at her home north of the city which occurred last Wednesday afternoon, as a result of burns was very sad. From all appearances it is apparent that she started the fire which caused her death. Soon after one o'clock, just after her husband and daughter had left the house she went upstairs, and in a few moments her sister, Miss Etiza Stevenson, who has been staying with her since her return from the asylum last September, heard screams, and on going to the upstairs rooms she found Mrs. Lay on the floor enveloped in flames, all the clothing burned and burns on her body and it will pay you, -Foster Bros. Piano Co. she died in a few minutes. There was fire in some of the rooms and it is probable that after setting the fire she ran from room to room in order to fan the flames. Miss Stevenson smothered the flames as best she could with bedclothing and rugs, until help arrived, and managed to save the house from being burned. Mrs. Lay has suffered from mental troubles for the last five years, and has been receiving treatment. At times she was rational, but during her despondent moods often threatened to take her life, and a few years ago made an unsuccessful attempt with a revolver, which resulted in a severe wound. A sad coincidence was that the day of the tragedy was her forty-seventh birthday and the day before her wedding anniversary. Mrs. Lay was born at Morris, N. Y., December 9, 1861, her maiden name being Carnier Elizabeth Stevenson. On December 10, 1887, she was married to Willoughby K. Lay at Fremont, Neb., and has made this city her home for almost twenty years. Besides her husband and daughter, Adria, she leaves four brothers and one sister. F. N. Stevenson of this city; Charles Stevenson, of Sioux ing officers: Marshall Smith, W. M.; H. Oity; Edward Stevenson, of Beatrice; P Coolidge, S. W.; R. H. Henry, J. Frederick W. Riemer, one of the early 1245 Olive street. settlers of this city, was stricken with apoplexy last Wednesday evening, and death resulted in a short time. Mr. Riemer was born in Germany November 9, 1825. When a young man he came him, there being no children. At one time Mr. Riemer was a resident of Knox sounty. Since coming to Columbus he followed draying for some time, and also operated a brick ward north of town near the W. T. Ernet farm. Of late years he has been a drayman, poor health for the last year compelling him to abandon that. Besides his wife, Mr. Riemer leaves two brothers, Dr. Henry Rusmer day evening to attend the funeral, and August Riemer of Alabama, and two which were born Sunday evening. sisters, who reside in the west. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at And this is the play, "The Man of the 10:30 from the home, Rev. D. I.
