Winterbotham & Son have purchased some real estate adjoining their hardware store, and removed their warehouse and adjoining their business building, so that all their material is easily handled and work is done with the greatest convenience and dispatch.

The raising of broom corn in Nebraska, it appears to us, would be a profitable crop to farmers. The seed is obtainable to be good for any kind of stock, when used in moderation, and yields from 60 to 75 bushels per acre. It commands a good price in the market, the bush selling from fifty to one hundred dollars per ton.

We are informed that Mr. F. P. Burgess will issue the first number of the Columbus Republican on Friday of this week. This will give Columbus three weekly newspapers, and if the proprietors emulate each other, each endeavoring to issue the best and most creditable journal, the city and community will undoubtedly be very much benefited.

The rush of immigrants west seems to be a little less than absolutely surprising. Every train from the east contains westward bound immigrants, and on Friday of last week three hundred and fifty arrived in Omaha to add to the large number already waiting for cars to send them forward. On the same day sixteen hundred more tickets were issued at the immigrant dining room.

Mrs. Anna Nelson, widow of Nels Nelson, sr., passed away at her home in South Columbus, Friday evening at seven o'clock, paralysis being the cause of her sudden death. Mrs. Nelson was seemingly enjoying good health until a few hours before her death she was taken ill, and this illness lasted only three hours when the final summons came. Gathered about her at this time was a number of her children who had been called to their mother's home. The deceased was a kind and loving wife and mother, always ready to lend a helping hand in sickness and sorrow. Her life should serve as an inspiration, the memory of which should shine out as a beacon light to show that the traits that go with the making of a good character are recognized for their true worth. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were married in 1871, and at that time were residents of Sweden. In 1889 they came to America settling in Leigh, Nebraska, where in 1896 Mr. Nelson passed away. Shortly after her husband's death Mrs. Nelson came to Columbus, where she has since resided. She was the mother of eleven children, one of whom died in infancy. Those who mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother are Anton Nelson of Newman Grove, Mrs. Jake Kibler of Leigh, Miss Inez Nelson and Mrs. Henry Knudson of Newman Grove, Mrs. George Grubb, Mrs. C. O. Hardy, Axel J. Nelson, Joel W. Nelson, Nels, jr., and Alva Nelson of this city, all of whom were present at the funeral, which was held from the family residence Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. Dibble, pastor of the Congregational church officiating. Relatives and friends who attended the funeral were John Nelson of Leigh, P. L. Lund of Howells, Charles Ruth of Albion and Henry Knudson of Newman Grove.

Mrs. Katherine Gregorina received a message from Omaha Friday morning stating that her daughter, Mrs. Robert A. Wagner had suddenly passed away, death resulting from heart failure. For several years the deceased had not enjoyed good health, but it was only of late her illness was considered dangerous. About six weeks ago Mrs. Wagner was brought to this city, with the hopes that the change might benefit her health, but she remained here only a few days when she again returned to Omaha, entered a hospital and there she remained until death relieved her of her sufferings. Mrs. Wagner, nee Miss Emma Gregorina of this city, was born in 1873, and was at the time of her death thirty-six years, seven months and eleven days old. Mrs. Wagner was the widow of the late Robert A. Wagner, who died eight years ago. For the past four years the deceased has made her home in Omaha with her only son, Leonard, who is a young man of seventeen years of age. Mrs. Wagner was well known in Columbus as she spent most of her life in this city; and her many friends will be grieved to learn of her death. Besides an aged mother and one son, Mrs. Wagner leaves two brothers, F. R. and Wm. J. Gregorina, and three sisters. Mrs. George Loshbaugh, Mrs. Roy E. Pierce, and Mrs. C. A. Scott, all of whom reside in Columbus. The remains were brought to this city Saturday morning and the funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Catholic church, Father Marcellinus officiating and interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

Members of Columbus Council No. 338, and their friends, over three hundred in all, were in attendance at the initiation of a class of forty-five at the Orpheus hall Sunday. Members of the order from all over the country were present, and the candidates represented a number of towns in this section of Nebraska. The local teams had charge of the work, and were assisted by the Omaha team and District Deputy W. A. Schall of Omaha. The initiation ceremonies were held during the day and in the evening a banquet was served by the wives, sisters and daughters of the members of the local order, there being over 300 plates. Hon. James M. Fitzgerald of Omaha was toastmaster, and the following were the speakers: Invocation, Rev. Fr. Marcellinus; "The Catholic Gentleman," George Corcoran of York; "Duty of Catholics," Wm. Morrow, Scotts Bluffs; "Our Order," W. A. Schall of Omaha; "Our Ideals," Chas. S. Burke of Columbus; "Our Knighthood," Brother Raphael of Spalding. The committee on arrangements consisted of Messrs. A. Frischholz, M. C. Keating, C. J. Carrig, T. C. Hogan and Mark Burke, and during the banquet music was furnished by the orchestra from St. Francis academy. The addition of the candidates taken in Sunday increases the membership of the local order to about 225, which is an excellent showing, considering that it has been less than five years since Columbus council was instituted.

Wednesday of last week H. O. Studley of Creston filed a complaint in Judge Ratterman's court charging F. A. Broger with assault and battery, and also that Broger be placed under bond to keep the peace. Mr. Studley owns the Oreston hotel and Broger rents from him, and a clause in the lease permits the owner to inspect the property, and Mr. Studley was availing himself of that privilege, to which Broger objected in a forcible manner. As Mr. Studley is justice of the peace of Creston township, he could not hear the case, so it was brought to county court.

The deceased had been ill only a short time and the news of her death came as a surprise to her friends. Miss Gerhold was born July 25, 1883, and was twenty-five years, six months and twenty-seven days old. Miss Gerhold formerly lived in this city and during her residence here was employed by the Condon & Walker company who were then engaged in business. After leaving the employ of this firm she went to Lindsay, where she was employed in a store then owned by Albert Rasmussen. Miss Gerhold was a member of the Catholic church and also a member of the Young Ladies Sodality of that church. Schurig of Omaha, an electrical and mechanical engineer, has been employed by the city council as consulting engineer to take the place of the late Andrew Eosewater, and he was here last week to test the new electrical pumps at the city water plant, which Mr. Rosewater prepared the specifications for. With The Firemen's League.
Hose company No. 1 met their second defeat this season last Sunday. Hose company No. 2 defeating them by a score of 7 to 4. Neither team had all of their regular men, and they and Walter Heuer, the old time twirler for the Hookies covered the right garden for the No. 2's, and Wm. Lyons held down second base for the No. 1's. Hose company No. 2 tried out a new recruit to do the twirling and he held the No. 1's down to only a few hits. Walter Giger started to do the twirling for No. 1's, but he was soon taken out of the box and Captain Echer finished the game, and certainly stopped the No. 2's from piling up a big score. The feature of the game was when our old friend and right fielder, Otto Schreiber, tried to dodge an inshoot thrown by the pitcher, but accidentally connected with the ball and very near making a home run out of it.
But all the way through, the firemen are making a good showing this year, and with a little more practice will put up a game well worth seeing.
Following are the batteries: Hose company No. 2—Otto Boettcher and Walter Boettcher; Hose company No. 1—Walter Giger, Chas. Hecher and Otto Meier, jr. Umpire, W. L. Boettcher.
Next Sunday the leader, the Hookies and the tail enders, Hose Company No. 1, will play.
Following is the standing of the teams:

| Hookies | 10 | 6 | 4 | 0.600 |

The Short Creek Athletes finished training last Sunday and are now ready to meet all comers. Under the management of Will Albers, the old reliable, and Rod Hageman, the witty chief, they ought to be on the winning side. Following is the lineup: H. Brunken, catcher; C. Brunken, pitcher; George E. Syan, substitute. The boys expect to strengthen the team later, as there will no doubt be some changes.
The Runaway.
When you have been offered "The Runaway," you have been offered the best musical comedy line. So, in view of that it is an interesting announcement that this big New York success will be at the North Theatre Saturday May 8. It is scoring this season as grandly as it did when it ran for seven months at the Casino, New York, and then took the other larger northern cities by storm. Yet, there is reason for this season's triumph, and it is this: The company is a large one, the principals are George Ovey, Francis Carrier, William Lennox, Louie Horner, Caroline Canton.
Letters received by friends tell of the appointment to the West Point military academy by President Taft of Alphonso Kilian, son of Major J. N. Kilian, formerly of this city. Young Kilian spent considerable of his boyhood days in this city. His father is at present a major in the regular army.
