Merry Moments ith Humorists

Weighty Correspondence

On the other hand, this condition

By Fred C. Kelly.

Medium-Sized Journeys

Zeke P. Diogenes, a person whose | phone for the police, but only mut-portrait you have often seen repre- tered, "Diog. is sleeping under the porsenting him as a man bearing a lan- tico again to-night" If he had lived to-tern and hunting a gas-leak was born day he would have been a typical of that time, and he registered out | For awhile, so swelled was he on about the old home place very much. people; probably to show how they 412 B. C., according the health-reports | Weary Willie, or hobo.

By Strickland W. Gillilan.

by paper as a writing material. If a quently occupy an entire box car, and dried brick. man were to try to buck the paper the draymen in those days were sordid business with bricks now, he would souls. lose money. When anybody wants to lay in a supply of office stationery he doesn't go and dicker with the proprietor of a brick yard. He knows he would be whisked off to the foolish works in a jiffy.

And yet if one can accept the word of John R. Herodotus, it has been little more than 3,000 years since the Syrians made common use of bricks for business and personal correspondence, books, court records and campaign dodgers. Brick billet-doux were then altogether au fait.

The older residents in Syria tell many strange incidents of the old brick days. It was common then to present statements to delinquent customers, on the street or in some alley, at five yards. After the inquest, arrangements would be made with the customer's administrator to settle the

Only the sons of the extremely wealthy could afford to carry on a courtship with young women living outside the city. Freight charges was so conducive to brevity that a father really was.

man the son didn't swing his lantern

Diogenes was a cynic. History does not relate what it was that ruined his digestion. Probably his mother fed him on counterfeit cakes and alloy of maple syrup; but be that as it may,

he was a cynic from Sinope, in Pontus, and he went to Athens to enter the boarding school of Antisthenes.

They didn't need any more pupils

A Man Bearing a Lantern and Hunting a Gas-Leak.

when he got there, so Attisthenes him with a detached chair-rung, but as break up the school having a fight

Antisthenes said:

with you every day."

about 89 years later.

devotion in a manner that would convince a young woman that she had all the other girls grasping frantically for the life preserver—and yet use no Bricks are now largely supplanted good, fervent love letter would fre- more than a cart load of ordinary sun-

> When it came to wedding invitations, even wealthy citizens would be obliged to place mortgages on their homes before it would be possible to notify all of the relatives at a distance. The only compensation was that it was cheaper for the people invited to

Some of the Best

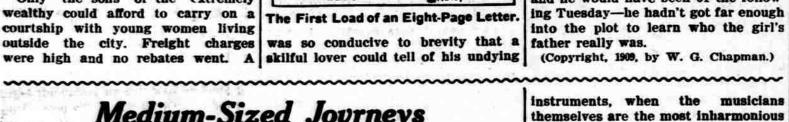

Things Written

by the Acknowledged Masters.

send presents than to send regrets. The arrival of a letter in those days was a distinct event. When a wagon load of brick backed up at the house of a village belle some gossipy neighbor would at once strike up the chords of an anvil symphony, thus: "Well, I see Blanch got another letter from Jimo Gee! I'd just like to know where that fellow gets his money to write letters like that every week or

Bricks never made good vehicles for popular novelists. One young man, of poor but honest parentage, started to carry home a certain historical novel an armful of bricks at a timereading each evening what he had carried home that day. At his deathand he would have been 61 the following Tuesday—he hadn't got far enough into the plot to learn who the girl's

He was the Fra Elbertus of his time. He was foxy to the fact that the more he wiped his feet on people, the brighter they would think him.

the anvil chorus on each other's co-

Some pirates captured him and sold the way the Athenians petted him on His father was a counterfeiter; account of his crankiness, that he him as a slave, but wherever they put for an honest lived in a big jar. He did this, he him he talked so much like a harmless ward patient that they were bluffed has been sparsely served hitherto- Grown Animals Are Harpooned While into letting him do as he pleased. One man in Corinth hired him to teach his lands unsurpassed for fertility in children, because the old man acted North America. But still more imporso nutty he took him for a school tant are the immense forests of white and the divine healers who wear long There is a story that Diogenes was

He made fun of science, music, art, the Great, one time. Diogenes wasn't literature, etc. He took great pride rattled a bit, and when the big fellow in not konwing Kipling from Mary handed Diog, his card, Diog, shied it at McLane or ceramics from sciatica a passing citizen and told Alex. who the great possibilities that lie beyond. being unfamiliar with the difference he himself was. That faded Alex. a between Mendelssohn and Charles K. bit, but when he asked Diog. "What far-reaching system. Having taken Harris, or Sousa, and he cidn't care can I do for you?" and the oid sass-box over the existing lines, extensions two whoops as to whether the milky said, "You can get out of my sun way were made of condensed milk, light," Alex. blushed like a girl and a great impetus to local development chalkwater or sterilized cow-extract. said, "If I wasn't Alexander I'd rather but connect with the American and He handed out a warm one to the mu- be Diogenes." Alex, meant it for a sicians, that is, applauded a good deal compliment. Diogenes was very in secret, yet, "What's the use," said proud of his ignorance and had much great cities of America's middle states Diogenes with his justly celebrated to be proud of.

sneer, "of trying to get harmony from | (Copyright, 1909, by W. G. Chapman.)

like a jack-knife on the lee side of a agin. He's a genuine coon-dawg, shack as we drew up and came to a gents, you kin bet! That dawg will stop. He eyed us narrowly as we start in-" faced him and inquired casually as to the likelihood of securing a dog in the vicinity. Then he woke up, stretched himself at least six feet and a half livid red in the intensity of his indig into the air and yawned like a nation at such a query. He turned wounded tiger.

said, to show his contempt for other jarred on him. But the truth was he was only hunting notoriety, like Jake

Coxey, Carrie Nation, Steve Brodie,

Mayor Jim Dahlman, Emma Goldman, hair and night-shirts.

should calkilate yes to that propersi- at the moment slouching into view fired him out. Like Mary's famous tion. Yes, sir! I persume to ejacker- from behind the dilapidated cabin. little Cotswold, he lingered near, and late that I have th' knowicest purp applied next day. Antisthenes swatted Diogenes was undismayed and kept right on applying for admission until "Well, we might as well take you in, creek, that air dawg-" with some haste.

"Who? Th' dawg? Oh, he's some Thus did Diogenes show the winning pointed that's a fact, but them points raw bear-meat every time! He's sc is natural—they don't hurt him any. all-fired quick that a streak o' greased guess it's about an even break betwixt | harassin' a bear fifteen minutes what's his rest."

"What, coon? Waal, now, I reckon noises downstairs, they dign't tele- regular every day he'd be bringin' in (Copyright, 1909, by W. G. Chapman.)

A lank mountaineer was doubled up | more coon than I could carry away

"How does he perform on bear?" "Bear?"

The mountaineer's face turned and waved an arm at the spotted and "Dawg, hey?" said he. "Waal, I freckled relic of mongreldom that was

"Gents, I hate to tell ye! Its a shame that ever wore his fool laigs off to look that dawg in the face and spek scratchin' fleas. My dawg is so smart | ilate on whether he's a bear dawg or that I'd actoolly hate to have to part not. It shows in his features. That with him-honest! Why, it was jest animal kin lick any bear that'll stor t'other day, over yender crost th' runnin' long enough for 'Im to ketch up! When Sport jumps aboard of a "Pointer or setter?" broke in Smith, bear he hits 'im harder'n a mule land in' with both hind feet, an' when he comes away he brings off a pound of to hear him roar onct. As fer settin' I overtake 'im. After Sport's been that an' layin' clean down. Sport left of th' bear wouldn't keep a cat aint noways pertikelar now he gits alive twenty-four hours, no sir! Bear! Waal, I guess yes. As I said, that dawg'll start in-"

"Quite a dog," said Smith. "I don't suppose he's much at fishing, now?" The mountaineer straightened up

WHERE TRUE LOVE FALTERED.

Devoted Swain Would Do Much, But the Ordeal Asked Was Beyond His Power.

She looked up at him. You love me, George," she said "You have told me you would do any thing to prove your love." "Anything, dearest," he fervently muttered. Her steady gaze did not waver. "My new suit from Paris has come." she said, "together with my new hat self in these and you will walk down the avenue with me to-morrow after

He turned pale and hesitated. "This is the acid test of love," she coldly added. He mutely shook his head as he arose. "I can't do it," he hoarsely gasped, and went away deeply sorrowing.-Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WITH GREAT RESOURCES

A WOMAN OF THE CAVE-DWELLING TRIBE GRINDING CORN

area of Northwest Mexico is to be on modern lines.

Northwest Mexico's attractiveness as a promising field for enterprise the find ideal conditions for the suchas long been manifest, inasmuch as it borders the United States and is known to possess great natural resources as well as a fertile soil and a perfect climate. It has certainly to the finest pastures—a handicap been traversed-at wide intervalsbunch of knockers that ever played by American lines running southward to the Mexican capital or westward to the Pacific coast, but those lines have been more concerned with their terminals than with the development of the country's resources.

Indeed, the best areas are off the beaten tracks and lie westward of Chihuahua, the capital of the state so named and the chief city of North- METHODS OF CATCHING HIPPO ern Mexico. In that region-which are magnificent pastures and arable taken into the presence of Alexander region famous even in the primitive times of mule transport.

Local lines operating west and north of Chihuahua have disclosed These lines are now the germ of a will be built which will not only give Mexican trunk lines running north and south, east and west, from the to the Mexican capital in the former direction, from the gulf ports to the Pacific coast on the other. The extended system will form connections at various points.

It would be difficult to convey by mere verbal recital what those various extensions and connections imply: but a system so advantageously situated, and working from the interior of a far-reaching network of railways-one which will have 600 miles of its own by the beginning of 1911, of which 200 are in actual operation now-can scarcely be a negligible quantity as principal or auxiliary. It seems, indeed, to supply the key to great problems in transpotation, and, among other possibilities of the future, to assure that there shall be effective northern competition with the Panama canal. Considerable timber traffic and milling profits are assured to the new railroad by its ownership America or for shipment to Europe. of its enemies, It will create new industries for the good of the country and its own profit -bring new centers of activity into languished for lack of communicawrought when the railway is ready or use them as having possession.

Much interest has been excited by to serve the highly mineralized areas the announcement that an extensive and development begins in earnest exploited by British-Canadian enter- Cattle-raising is already assuming prise, with, however, American and importance in view of the rapid alien-Mexican co-operation, which is valued ation of the cattle lands in the United for its intimate acquaintance with the States for agricultural requirements and the consequent southern migration of the ranchers to Mexico, where cessful prosecution of their industry. The one drawback to its rapid development has been the lack of transport facilities in reasonable contiguity which will disappear when the railway gets to work. Much the same may be said of agricultural settlement. It is true that American farmers have been trekking south, but they could not penetrate far, though tantalized by the knowledge that lands of high fertility must for the time being remain unoccupied.

Asleep, and the Young Ones Captured in Pits.

There is a vast difference between pine and the great abundance of min- the hunter who kills for pleasure and erals which has made the Sierra Madre | the hunter whose business it is to capture his quarry alive. Carl Hagenbeck, the famous animal dealer, has reduced his method of capturing wild beasts to a science. The method of securing live hippopotami is particularly interesting.

The so-called Hawati, or water huntters, of the Sudan, all of whom are excellent and daring swimmers, harpoon their victims at the noon hour, when they are sunk in deep slumber. Then, according to the Wide World Magazine, they pull them to the bank by means of a cord attached to the harpoon and make them fast.

The hunters use for this a special kind of harpoon, made in such a way that it does not make a deep wound. Fully three-quarters of the hippopotami exhibited in Europe have been captured in this way.

Hippopotamus hunts are also conducted on land. There advantage is taken of the fact that the female hippopotamus makes her young walk in front of her. The reason for this is that the beast, being well protected in the rear by her abnormally thick skin, prefers to have her offspring in front, where she can guard them better against danger. In spite of her affection for her children, the hippo has no particular desire to meet danger when it comes. So the hunters dig large pits in the forest, cover them over until they are fully concealed, and then lie in wait near by. Presently a female hippopotamus comes along with her child trotting of magnificent forest lands and saw. before her. Suddenly, without warnmills. It will convey the immigrants ing, the young hippo disappears before who are already streaming to the in- its mother's eyes. This is too much terior, and it will carry their produce for the old animal. She dashes away. and their cattle to the markets of leaving the little fellow at the mercy

France Honors Gen. Wood. Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood has been being, and stimulate towns that have added to the already long list of officers and officials who have had decorations and honors given them by for-Mining has hitherto been carried eign governments, but have had no on under difficulties, which would authorization from congress to permit have been insuperable were it not them to receive and wear them. that ores rich enough to bear the cost France has given General Wood the of mule transport to the smelters cross of the Legion of Honor for his were available. Inferior ores which, interest in the grand maneuvers of had there been a railway, might have the French army last summer. The been profitably shipped, were thrown various decorations that have been on the dumps as useless, and mines given to American officers and offiwere neglected which, under more cials are deposited in the state dereasonable conditions, would have partment, where the recipients may been excellent propositions. A trans- see them and show them to their formation in that respect will be friends, but may not take them away

Artist-I will give your little boy one of my drawings. Father-Oh, he will be pleased. He simply loves cutting up pictures.

Giant Flaggole for Exposition. Pierce county will have the honor of stick to the exposition grounds, where furnishing a 200-foot fir flagpole for it will be erected with ceremony by Hanford, of the federal court, has ar- Revolution.-Tacoma Ledger.

ADVICE FOR ALL

Madame Merri's Helpful Hints on Matters Interesting to the Matron and the Debutante in Her First Season.

not feel that I can purchase a new gown especially for that. Still, I want to look right. "EDA."

Your gown will be perfectly correct for either a day or evening wedding. gest place cards. Black with white lace is very popuit, and feel comfortable.

Visiting Card Etiquette. Kindly answer following question: When a caller making a first call leaves one of her cards and two of her husbands what cards should you leave in returning call?

MRS. J. H. M. If you are married with a husband living, you leave two of his cards and one of your own when you return the so much that is interesting in your Still in fancy's rich domain column. My brother's birthday is in Often we shall meet again. April. What would be nice for a party then? The guests will be from about 17 to 22 years old. What games That must be counted would be nice to play? What decorations would you use, and what would you serve? Also what would He is over 50 years old. I want some of "true blue" ribbon. thing he would enjoy and also all of his old friends. As the arrangement of all falls upon me and I am not very old I would like your help in this mat-ROSEBUD.

Birthday Parties.

You certainly are an ambitious little hostess and I am so glad to help you at any time. For the April birthday why not use the contest in today's paper? Have little Japanese parasols for favors to keep off the a circle of candles. You could use birthday postals for the place cards. I'd have just ice cream and cake with bonbons and salted nuts unless you want to have them to supper. For the father, I could tell better if I knew his likes; if the men play cards, you could have a pretty card party. wiches, coffee, wee little apple pies. About 20 guests. with cheese and coffee. Write again if l can help you.

Lettering for Stationery. for stationery? Should the edges be Saratoga chips, hot corn bread, baked rough or smooth? HOPE G.

The lettering is purely a matter of individual preference. Either of those you name is correct and good form. Personally, I prefer a heavy cream paper with a slightly rough surface, but with the edges cut smooth. Some very elegant stationery prepared for an Easter bride consisted of a pale

Suitable Gown for a Wedding. | gray paper with the three initials in I have just learned that I am to be black type done in royal blue; the invited to a wedding. I have a new envelopes bore the street and number black gown-empire, with all-over on the upper left-hand corner. An lace yoke front and back, and have it up-to-date stationer will supply you finished off with a pale blue milliner's with various samples and designs if cold. Could I wear that? I really do you request it with samples of paper.

Quotations for a Farewell Dinner. Please, dear Mme. Merri, help me out once more and print some quotations for a farewell dinner and sug Not only "once" more, but I hope lar and will be for some time. The many times to be able to assist you blue is a good combination. So wear in the problems that come to hostesses. Think the following will be what you want:

Though lost to sight, to memory dear. Absence breaks slender ties, but rivets

I count myself in nothing else so happy

Where'er I roam, whatever realms to My heart, untraveled, fondly turns t first call, which should be within two Farewell; a word that must be, and hath been: A sound that makes us linger; yet—fare

Again I come to you for help. I find Though the deep between us rolls. Friendship shall unite our souls;

What shall I do with all the days and

The place cards may be painted with a bunch of forget-me-nots, or tie be nice for a party for my father? a spray of artificial ones on with a bit

> For Graduates. Is it still the custom to give gifts and flowers to graduates? If so, how should they be presented? TEACHER OF GIRLS.

Flowers and gifts are still the prerogative of the graduate. Gifts should be presented privately, or, better still, sent to the recipient, but flowers may be presented at the commencement proverbial showers; then have a big birthday cake for table decoration surnded by a wreath of daffodils and out by the class of one of the fashionpoints two of her special friends as her flower maids. They receive and care for her flowers and present them to her at the close of the program.

Entertaining New England Women. I wash to entertain the New England Women in our club at a breakwith chocolate cigars for favors; serve fast in May. What would you suggest potato salad on watercress, sand- for the menu, dishes and decorations?

When I was in Massachusetts several years ago on Sunday morning we always had baked beans and doughnuts. Why not try this menu: Clam What is the best form of lettering bouillon, crackers, creamed codfish, beans in ramekins, cup custards, unfrosted sponge cake; then have tea during the meal, poured at the table: have spiced peaches, tiny pickles, and, if you wish, doughnuts and coffee also. Use blue dishes, brass candlesticks, and have an old-fashioned nosegay built on a stick at each plate, with a lace paper mat around it." MADAME MERRI.

Coming Favorites

nes That Will Be Popular in the Spring and Summer

Dainty hand-painted lace blouses are being worn with the dressy tailored Tulle is to be much worn for sashes and to veil and tone down an otherwise garish gown.

Frilled frocks-not as frilly as of old, but still fluffily charming-have been seen on which little ruffles of lace and gauze trim both skirt and bodice. Big, round Eton collars will probably hold their own all through the pin. spring. They may be made of plain linen or decorated with squares of in the front-on the fancy ones a bow lace set in. trimmed with silk-covered cord that is quite so much as either of these bought in the shops.

A Suede Pillow. Brown suede leather is the covering f a very convenient pillow for the weary or delicate traveler. This particular small article appeals as the most convenient of its kind. It is about ten by fourteen inches and is covered smoothly on one side with an overlapping piece of the suede, that forms a flat pocket, into which the handkerchief or time-table may be slipped. There is a small leather handle along the side of the pillow, so that in the hand it looks almost like a brown suede bag.

Dutch Collar Pins. The new Dutch collar pin looks most like a belt or old-fashioned slipper buckle-but it is merely a large

The Dutch collar has lacked a finish did not look quite right, neither did Many of the imported gowns are a rabat; it needed something, but not very effective and necessarily some- The new Dutch collar pin is just what exclusive, since it cannot be that "something"-it gives the right finish.

Diogenes began to study austerity, and self-mortification set in. He wore the worst-looking hand-me-downs he could find in the second-hand stores and ate at the worst restaurants wearing and eating only what the associated mebbe you've guessed Sport's long suit charities gave him. He would sleep that time. He's Old Reliable when it nowhere except on the ground, his comes down to coon, stranger. That anew and squared his shoulders. A favorite roosting place being under thar dawg runs 'em up a tree, climbs glad light gleamed in his hollow someone's veranda. He would take th' tree an' yanks th' everlastin' day. eys. Evidently Sport was a confirmed a copy of the Sunday Blast, wrap him- lights out of a coon afore he knows Isaak Walton. self up in it, and sleep. When people he's bein' follered, yes sir! Why, if But just then Smith spoke to the woke in the night and heard strange it wa'n't for me a-clubbin' that dawg horse and—the spell ended!

Kindly Act Earned Fortune Because she heeded the appeal of a dying woman whose relatives had de- | from a member of the family declaring serted her, Cecelia Catharine Kennedy, none of them wished for anything that a Washington girl, has inherited a for- had belonged to the dead woman. tune and has moved from an humble boarding house into a luxurious apart ment at the Shoreham hotel, Miss Kennedy was the only one of five persons called to her bedside by the dying woman who responded to the call, and to-day she is the possessor of a fortune the amount of which she has not yet been able to estimate. Her good fortune is the result of an acquaintance which sprang up through her treatment by massage of her beneficiary. Early one morning she received a telegram from the woman, whose name she will not divulge, to come to Baltimore at once. Miss Kennedy went and found the woman dying in Johns Hopkins hospital. She gave Miss Kennedy a check for her entire bank balance, as well as the keys to her safe deposit box. Miss cidences regarding Wagner and the number "13," which he always declared was a lucky number for him. To begin with, it requires 13 letters to spell his name; he was born in 1813; adding these four figures together, always declared that he "set his head" on April 13, 1845; it was performed at Paris on March 13, 1861; he left Bayreuth on September 13, 1861, and he died on February 13, 1883.

There are a number of curious coin-1813, and you have another 13; he composed exactly 13 great works, and and my new puffs. I will array my on his after career on the 13th of the month; "Tannhaeuser" was completed noon."

Declined the Part. Percy-Esmeralda, will you marry Kennedy sent a telegram to the women me! position which had been made of her fortune. Then she received a letter first aid to the injured.

The word "cocktail" is derived from "octel," the Axtec drink.

ranged for transportation of the giant the Alaska-Yukon exposition. Judge the Washington society, Sons of the