GUARANTY ACT VOID

SO DECLARED BY FEDERAL COURT AT LINCOLN.

JUDGES SITTING IN THE CASE

Injunction Restraining Governor From Putting the Law into Effect Is Made Permanent.

Lincoln, Neb.—The federal court has made perpetual the temporary restraining order against Governor Shallenberger and members of the State Banking board, preventing them from enforcing the provisions of the guaranty banking law enacted by the recent legislature.

Circuit Judge Willis VanDevanter and District Judge Thomas C. Munger filed the decree, holding the law unconstitutional, being in violation of the constitution of the United States and of the state of Nebraska.

The court holds the provisions which forbid an individual from engaging in the state banking business without incorporating is in violation of the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution, and section 3, article 1, of the Nebraska constitution as is the enforced contributions to the guaranty fund.

The decree makes the temporary injunction perpetual and taxes the costs of the case to the defendants, Governor Shallenberger and the members of the State Banking board and the secretary to the banking board appointed by the governor, Samuel Patterson.

Syllabus of the Case.

The syllabus in the case is as follows:

1. Constitutional Law. Due Process of Law. Banking. Restricting Business to Corporations. Guaranty Fund.

The Nebraska act of March 25, 1909 (Laws Neb., 1909, ch. 10, p. 68), which prohibits individuals from engaging in the banking business, unless they do so through the agency of a corporation, and which also conditions the right to engage in that business in that form upon the making of enforced contributions from time to time to a depositories' guaranty fund to be employed in the payment of the claims of depositors in any bank which shall become insolvent, is in conflict with section 1 of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, which provides:

"No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law," and is in conflict with section 3 of article 1 of the constitution of Nebraska, which declares: "No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law," and therefore is void.

2. Same. Void provision, when introduced to passage of act, renders entire act invalid.

The provisions of the Nebraska act of March 25, 1909, supra, which prohibit individuals from engaging in the banking business, unless they do so through the agency of a corporation, and also condition the right to engage in that business in that form upon the making of enforced contributions from time to time to a depositories' guaranty fund to be employed in the payment of the claims of depositors in any bank which shall become insolvent, were the inducement to the passage of that act, and as those provisions, so coupled together, are void, the entire act is thereby rendered invalid.

No Extra Session.

Governor Shallenberger, after reading the decision, said he saw no recourse except to appeal the case to the supreme court of the United States. Under the decision, he said, the legislature could not pass a guaranty bill which would meet the test and therefore there was nothing to be gained by calling an extra session.

TWO PRESIDENTS MEET.

Chief Executives of United States and Mexico Clasp Hands.

El Paso, Tex.—The long-expected meeting between President Taft of the United States and President Diaz of the Republic of Mexico occurred here Saturday. Outwardly it was attended with a display of soldiery, a band of trumpets, a boom of cannon and a pomp of ceremony suggestive of supreme authority, but in the actual hand-clasp of the two executives and in the exchange of courteous words which passed from lip to lip, there was simple but cordial informality.

American Diplomat Dead.

He was dead when the ambulance reached the hospital.

WANT CENSUS TAKER

APPOINTMENTS TO COME FROM THOSE TAKING EXAMINATION.

STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Eighteen State Societies Become Auxiliaries—Other Matters at the Capital of the State.

Announcement has been sent to the registrar's office of the university of the examinations for appointment as special census agent which are to be selected from those who take an examination based on, first, their ability to make sample schedules from the balance sheet of a company; second, on their ability to make out a schedule from a simple narrative of facts as to a manufacturing concern, and, third, upon business experience as shown by their applications. Applications are to be made before October 25. A special agent of the first class will receive from $4.50 to $6.00 per diem and those of the second class from $3.00 to $4.00 per diem. Examinations in Nebraska will be held in Lincoln, Omaha, Grand Island, Norfolk and North Platte. The university student who has specialized in commercial work is particularly eligible for this sort of a job and it will make a pleasant vacation job.

State Historical Society.

Eighteen of the twenty-four old settlers' societies and local historical societies known to exist in the state have become auxiliary to the State Historical society since the movement to unite such organizations was started about a year ago. These local societies are constantly getting hold of good material and in this way are an aid to the state society, besides giving it representatives in the different parts of the state. Fifty-five new members of the State Historical society have been added to the list of membership during the past three months, making the membership now 800. Also an addition of 160 new titles has been made to the library in the same time. The officers of the society report a noticeable increase in the use of the library, especially by members of the different women's clubs who are engaged in historical study. The society has just had fifty-eight volumes of Nebraska daily newspapers bound and Mr. Hannan of the newspaper department has started cataloging the different volumes, of which there are 3,400 now bound. Besides these there are 253 volumes of foreign newspapers. These will all be cataloged according to the Dewey system, which is used in the library. During the last three months thirty-six different newspapers have been added to the collection, making 494 now being received.

The State Teachers' Meeting.

At the state teachers' meeting to be held in Lincoln November 3-6 the plan for the annual banquet has been changed. Last year an immense union affair was pulled off at the Auditorium, but it was found that this structure or any other that could be obtained in the city was not commodious enough to accommodate all the applicants for plates. So this year there will be banquets in four divisions. One of these, the normal training, high schools and the junior normal schools, has already sent out its program and called on all members of the association affiliated with this branch of public education to enroll at once if they wish to attend the yearly spread. It will be held at the First Christian church, corner of Fourteenth and M streets, and will be served by the ladies of the church at so much per plate.

The Squirrel Harvest.

Squirrel hunters are reaping a rich harvest around Lincoln. The rodents are not hard to shoot, which led to a law a few years ago to protect them. Now that they are multiplied extensively in the timbered stretches of the state under this very law, and a recent law passed gives them over to the nilmrod for two months each fall, the results have been apparent. Hunters going out to the woods near this city have returned usually with as many as they cared to carry. Farther east in the state it is said the supply is much greater.

Itched and Scratched Until Blood Ran—50 Spent on Useless Treatments—Disease Cured Incurable.

Cured by Cuticura for $1.50.

"When my little boy was two and a half months old he broke out on both cheeks with eczema. It was the itchy, watery kind and we had to keep his little hands wrapped up all the time, and if he would happen to get them uncovered he would claw his face till the blood streamed down on his clothing. We called in a physician at once, but he gave an ointment which was so severe that my babe would scream when it was put on. We changed doctors and medicine until we had spent fifty dollars or more and baby was getting worse. I was so worn out watching and caring for him night and day that I almost felt sure the disease was incurable. But finally reading of the good results of the Cuticura Remedies, I determined to try them. I can truthfully say I was more than surprised, for I bought only a dollar and a half's worth of the Cuticura Remedies (Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills), and they did more good than all my doctors' medicines I had tried, and in fact entirely cured him. His face is perfectly clear of the least spot or scar of anything. Mrs. W. M. Comer, Currier, East Cabins, Pa., Sept. 15, 1908."
