GENOA.

From the Times.

An attack on the constitutionality of the 8 o'clock saloon closing bill, passed by the last legislature, was commenced in the supreme court Monday. It is charged that the wrong statute was amended and that the act is further invalid because of its cruel and unusual penalties, it being urged that a convicted defendant is allowed no appeal or trial by jury.

Undoubtedly the retiring pastor of the Methodist church of Silver Creek did not conduct himself strictly in accord with the ideas of the editor of Sand, for he gives the new minister some editorial advice about "sticking his nose into individual affairs and siding with fanatics." If there is any class of professional men who should have the sympathy of the press, it's the preacher and the hard working school teacher. Like the editor, their work is of a public character, and often unjustly criticized and their efforts ridiculed. Don't find fault with the preacher. Vent your spleen on the editor, for he don't give a milldam what you say about him.

BELLWOOD.

Willie Egelet of Milford, in Seward county, blew off the head of Herman Kurz, seventy-two years of age, last Saturday, following a dispute over which could husk the most corn.

J. J. Jundevine was a pleasant caller at the Gazette office on Wednesday. In Wisconsin he says they have got about the finest roads in the United States; out their land and crops don't amount to much compared with Nebraska. The people, when doing their trading, use the check system. J. J. enjoyed the trip, but he still thinks there is no place like old Butler county.

The editor of the Cambridge Democrat is a lady. Last week she wrote a demand that the north pole be added to the democratic column, because Discoverer Cook is a democrat. And this led the bright Walquist of the Hastings Democrat, to say: "Heavens, sister! Haven't we democrats had frosts enough?" That reply ought to hold Sister Clara's rat in place for a season.

One Nebraska paper advocates a plan whereby young ladies attending churches in the evening can register their names in the church vestibule, so that the young men who are in the habit of lingering around the church door can see whether or not their best girl is present and thus set a troubled brain at rest. This plan would undoubtedly be a great convenience for a certain class of young men and would work well in many places.

HUMPHREY.

From the Democrat.

Peter J. Ternus and Miss Mary A. Fangman were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Francis church at half past eight o'clock Wednesday morning October 20, Rev. Father Hildebrand officiating.

Humphrey citizens in general were quite shocked Wednesday morning when it became known that Conrad Heesacker had passed away during the night. Mrs. Heesacker had risen about six o'clock Wednesday morning and when she went to awaken her husband she found that the death angel had preceded her. Mr. Heesacker having expired suddenly sometime during the night, presumably from the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain.

The farmers around Humphrey are making strenuous efforts these mild days to get most of their large corn crop in the bin before severe weather sets in. Corn is king, and the happy farmer who rides in from the field on his load of gold is a loyal knight of the husking peg. The days spent in the brisk autumn air gives him a constitution and an appetite that a multimillionaire might envy and the price of corn makes every field a gold mine.

ALBION.

From the News.

Dr. Chambers was sent by the state veterinarian to examine some horses owned by Samuel McBride, living near Primrose, which were reported to be infected with glanders. The report proved to be correct and Dr. Chambers had to kill six head, all the horses Mr. McBride had.

Mrs. Sena Johnson and Esther and Clara Johnson, minors, have brought suit in the district court for damages in the sum of $10,000. The defendants in the case are Gus Arns and William Hartwick of Newman Grove, W. E. Pinney and A. T. Pinney, a partnership, and G. W. Jackson of Oakdale, and the Lion Bonding & Surety Co. Arns & Hartwick were saloon keepers at Newman Grove and Pinney & Jackson were in the same business at Oakdale. The Surety Company had furnished their bonds, according to the petition on file. Mrs. Johnson charges that her husband, Chas. Johnson, secured intoxicating liquor from the saloons of the defendants on the 5th of October, 1908, by which he became intoxicated and while in that condition he attempted to board the train at Oakdale and in doing so fell between the cars and was run over and killed. It will be remembered that Johnson was on his way to the land drawing in Tripp county, S. D., when this accident occurred.

MONROE.

From the Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. Vestal Moore enjoyed a visit last week from Mr. Moore's brother and wife of North Carolina.

W. A. McWilliams has sold out his store at Burton and spent a few days with his family last week. He returning to Burton Tuesday.

Monday night someone tried to poison Fred Hill's stallion, this being the fourth attempt. Fred gave the fellow a dose of shot, but he got away and returned Fred's fire. It is to be hoped that he will be caught and given the full penalty of the law.

Wednesday afternoon the community was shocked by the news of the death of Mrs. Chas. Potter, which occurred at one o'clock, a few hours after the birth of a son. Sarah Elizabeth Talbitzer was born March 17, 1872, in Alleghany City, Pa. Here she lived with her parents, until they later moved to Niles, Ohio, and in March 1888 moved with them to Platte county, two miles northeast of Monroe. In February 3, 1893, she was married to Charles E. Potter, and since then they made their home on the Jewell place, two and a half miles northeast of Monroe. To this union there were born four children, Ralph, Paul, Edna and a little son which was born Wednesday. Mrs. Potter was 35 years and seven months old, leaves besides her husband and family two brothers, W. M. Talbitzer of Omaha, John Talbitzer of Monroe, and three sisters, Mrs. S. J. Percy of Valley, Mrs. Lester Kelley of Fullerton and Mrs. Ollie Hland of Monroe and her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Talbitzer of Monroe. Funeral services were held Thursday from the home and at the Presbyterian church at 2 p. m., Rev. Wedge conducting the services, and interment was laid to rest in the Friends cemetery west of town.

ST. EDWARD.

From the Advance.

Mrs. John Graf and Otto Mertz of Columbus were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmermann the fore part of the week.

Harry Muffley was taken to St. Mary's hospital at Columbus last Saturday to undergo an operation for an abscess in his side. He was accompanied by his father, E. J. Muffley.

Mrs. E. J. Muffley went down to Columbus Thursday to visit her son Harry who is a patient at St. Mary's hospital, and also her sister-in-law, Mrs. Susan Hatfield, who is a patient at the same hospital.

G. W. Sowards is in Omaha this week at one of the hospitals having his right hand cuffed. About two weeks ago he accidentally pierced his hand with the point of an indelible pencil and alarming symptoms of blood poisoning had developed. Reports as we go to press say that an operation had been performed and that he hoped for speedy recovery.

Prof. and Mrs. I. H. Britell of Columbus visited St. Edward relatives last Saturday and Sunday. They made the trip in Mr. Britell's new Overland touring car. Mr. Britell has been principal of the Columbus schools for about sixteen years and has been much handicapped during that time in making visits to his parents by the train service between the towns. He believes he now has a solution to the heretofore insurmountable difficulty in a good reliable automobile.

PLATTE CENTER.

From the Signal.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Bruckner had for a guest at their home the early part of the week Mrs. J. Johnson, of St. Bernard. Mrs. Johnson is past seventy-five years of age and is still very active, enjoys excellent health and reads without glasses.

Noris Chapin, a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pinson, and a nephew of Chas. Chapin of Oconee, arrived here last Friday for a visit with relatives. This young man was born at Oconee, but is now located at Walla Walla, Washington.

Nothing has as yet been done toward moving the old mill to Meadow Grove as Mr. Thomsen, the owner, proposes to do. It is quite a job to take out the machinery, tear down the building, haul it a mile and load it on cars for shipment. He has been so far unable to get help to do the work.

Another important deal in elcsein farm land was made on Monday, when through John Moffet the R. W. Gentleman farm was sold for $125,000 an acre. This farm lies one mile southeast from Platte Center and contains 120 acres, 80 acres on the south side of the road and 40 acres on the north side. The buildings on it are of little value, but there is a fine bearing apple and grape orchard. The purchaser is Chas. Gosman, a farmer living five miles southeast of Platte Center.

SHELBY.

From the Sun.

The furniture and fixtures for the new State Bank building have arrived and the officers expect to be located in their new and comfortable quarters by the first of the month.

The separator of a threshing machine belonging to a Mr. Johnson was burned up with several stacks of grain last Friday on the E. O. Carr farm. A spark from the engine caused the fire.

Have the citizens of Shelby given up all efforts to secure a hotel in the town? The failure to induce some outsider to build a hotel should not be allowed to balk all proceedings in this direction. We believe that there is a sufficient amount of capital that could be got to invest in an enterprise of this kind if a proposition of the right kind was presented. To get together and all pull together is all that is needed to accomplish the desired result.

FOR CONSTIPATION.

A Medicine that Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Gives Satisfactory Relief.

If you suffer from constipation in any form whatever, acute or chronic, we will guarantee to supply you medicine that we honestly believe will effect permanent relief if taken with regularity and according to directions for a reasonable length of time. Should the medicine fail to benefit you to your entire satisfaction we promise that it shall cost you nothing.

No other remedy can be compared with Rexall Orderlies for the easy, pleasant and successful treatment of constipation. The active medicinal ingredient of this remedy, which is odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other valuable ingredients, it forms a preparation which is incomparable as a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, and are notable for their gentle and agreeable action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience, and may be taken at any time, day or night.

We particularly recommend Rexall Orderlies for children and for delicate or aged persons, because they do not contain anything injurious. Unlike other preparations, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the habits acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics, and harsh physic, and remove the causes of constipation or irregular bowel action that are not of surgical variety.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. We know of nothing that will do you so much good. They are prepared in tablet form in two sizes; 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall remedies in Columbus only at Pollock & Co.'s drug store on the corner.

LINDSAY.

From the Post.

Farmers even to ten miles north of town report the corn crop much better than in our immediate vicinity, their corn averaging above forty bushels per acre.

While doing some repair work on the Paulsen building Monday George Howland fell and broke both bones in his left arm just above the wrist. His nose and right leg were also badly bruised.

When Grandma was a little girl the latch string was always left on the outside of the door so if a neighbor should be passing that way he might know he was welcome, but now it is different, if you want a pair of water and have no well on your lot, your wealthy property owning neighbor puts up a barbed wire fence and tells you to go to the city well if you are thirsty.

It is amusing to watch the average boy start in to learn his trade. One week's work and he knows he will make a success. At the end of the second week he graduates. Another week and he knows more about the business than his employer and makes up his mind to have things run to suit him. Then by the middle of the next week he is loafing on the streets, by invasion, and telling people how ignorant and how foolish that fellow is who owns that store, shop or office down the street.

The Way to Happiness. To look fearlessly upon life; to accept the laws of nature, not with meek resignation, but as her sons, who dare to search and question; to have peace and confidence within our souls—these are the beliefs that make for happiness.—Materlink.

Enigmatical Calamity. Men have often abandoned what was visible for the sake of what was uncertain, have not got what they expected, and have lost what they had—being unfortunate by an enigmatical sort of calamity.—Demetrius Phalereus.

TRAIN CHILDREN FOR FARM

Trade Schools Have Been Found Good, Why Not Include Teaching of Agriculture?

Prof. Paul Hannus of the Harvard summer school told 500 teachers who are students in the school about the need of the trade school as an extension of the public school to save millions of American children from the calamity of starting in life as unskilled laborers. Starting so, the professor said, means no career.

"All their lives they must be underlings, except in rare instances." The same day or the next, Secretary Wilson was saying in Washington.

"While the population of the United States has been steadily increasing through the usual additions at home and from immigration, the cultivated area of the country is decreasing. Thousands of acres formerly raising products that made the food of the country have gone back to pasture. The farmers simply cannot get the men to raise crops."

It is by no means a bad idea to teach farming to some of the prospective unskilled laborers. As it is, in the east at any rate, the farmer's boy is apt to see his best chance in learning to be some sort of a mechanic. Skilled labor is everywhere needed.

The problem for the boy of 14 or 15 who expects to work with his hands is to give him the skill to work to advantage. To that end the experts in public education now advocate the establishment of trade schools to give a vocational training to children who now leave the public school at 14. Very well; the plan looks good. But please include farming in the vocations for which training is to be given and try to make that look better as compared with the rival employments.—Harper's Weekly.

PROPER WAY TO DRIVE NAIL

Expert Carpenter Gives Some Points as to This Seemingly Simple Proceeding.

"It takes an apprentice a full year to learn that he does not know how to drive a nail," said an expert carpenter. "When once he has realized this it is only a matter of a few minutes to learn how it should be done. The commonest mistake is the belief that a hard blow with the hammer is more effective than several little taps, and the learner is inclined to admire the man who drives a nail all the way in with but one blow. This is where he is wrong; four or five blows are much better than one. The reason is that one hard blow inevitably makes the nail rebound, ever so slightly. It is true, but enough to make it hold less firmly than it would if driven in gradually. The nail may be driven almost all the way with one blow, but several lighter taps are necessary to finish the job."

"Another thing" continued the old carpenter, "the beginner generally tries to drive his nails as perpendicularly as possible. This is another error, for a nail driven a little diagonally holds the parts together much more firmly than one driven perpendicularly. And in driving a nail diagonally it is even more necessary to proceed with gentle taps, for hard blows inevitably displace the surfaces that are to be held together."

Set Sensible Fashion.

Queen Alexandra of England is credited with having been the means of emancipating English and American children from many foolish and uncomfortable fashions. At the time of her marriage to the heir of the English throne children in fashionable families were rarely seen outside of their nurseries, but when the young Danish princess began to keep her children about her and to have her picture taken holding them in her arms the fashion changed and devoted motherhood became the hallmark of American and English smartness. She also had her sons clothed in comfortable sailor suits and her two daughters, the present queen of Norway and the Princess Victoria, were allowed to wear the loose woolen jerseys which are now so much worn by schoolgirls.

A Miracle of Science.

Aeroplaning is another miracle of practical science—another impossibility shown to be possible—another dream of centuries realized, but realized in a manner which none but this generation could have understood. Will the history of the steam locomotive repeat itself? The actual maximum speed on railways is no higher to-day than it was 60 years ago though, of course, the train loads are very different. Will it be so with the aeroplane?
