MANY YEARS AGO.

Files of the Journal, December 20, 1876. A special train of seven cars passed east on the Union Pacific at 11 o'clock Monday, filled with silk worm eggs, on their way from China to France, and valued at three million dollars.

Mr. Powell, we learn, has purchased the mill property at Waterville, Boone county, and is now putting in the machinery for grinding. Mr. Powell intends to have a first class flouring mill which will add another valuable improvement to that locality.

James Hudson writes to his father, under date of Dec. 2, saying that there is plenty of gold in the Hills but life is rough. Oba Davis was to start for home soon. Claims are laid over until spring. The telegraph was completed to Deadwood Dec. 2. There are now five quartz mills in Deadwood and Gay City. James saw a big bear lately, but didn't get a shot at him.

Now that the U. P. seems to mean business with the south side, railroad people are beginning to conjecture what it means, and what the objective point is. West of us the idea seems to prevail that this great corporation intend to head off the B. & M. from the North Platte country by running from Waterloo to Grand Island, thence up the Loup to the Black Hills. However, it will be some time before this can be accomplished.

Last Saturday's Excelsior Spring, Mo., Daily Call had the following regarding the marriage of Daniel J. Echols at that place last Friday evening: Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Bradshaw did not retire until an early hour this morning, but there was "method in their madness." About 9 o'clock last evening the telephone rang and the minister was asked to perform a marriage ceremony. He readily consented and was told that, on account of the bride-to-be being superstitious, the wedding could not take place on Friday and would have to occur a few minutes after midnight. Rev. Bradshaw was willing to humor the whim of the bride, so awaited the couple. At 11:45 o'clock Mr. Daniel Jackson Echols and Miss Lillian Irene Miller appeared, and at 12:05 the pastor performed the matrimonial rite where by one plus one equals one. Then the couple, blushing and happy, returned to the Washington. The guests of the hotel had prepared a big time for the bride and groom, but when they did not appear at a "seasonable" hour, the reception was given up and all hands "turned in." Consequently when Mr. Echols and his bride returned to the hotel there was no rice or old shoes. They had outwitted their tormentors. Mrs. Echols has been a professional nurse at Excelsior Springs most of the time for several years. She has a large circle of friends who wish her every happiness. Mr. Echols hails from Columbus, Nebraska, and had known his bride only about three weeks. His family have been advised of his marriage and his father may come here to meet the new daughter. Mr. Echols has not announced his plan for the future.

The following Boulder, Colo., special to the Denver Times, dated December 11, contains some good news for Columbus people who are interested in mining properties in that locality: "The facts were made public in Boulder today of a strike at the little mining camp of Magnolia, eight miles west of here, which it is thought is destined to entirely revolutionize the metal industry in northern Colorado. A carload of Telluride-iron-sulphide iron from a five-foot vein in the old Magnolia Telluride mine at that place, which carries values of $38 in vanadium and $70 in gold and silver, was brought to the Vanadium mill for treatment yesterday. This strike is looked upon by old mining men of the vicinity as the greatest find since gold was first discovered near Sugar Loaf in the early days of the county. Owners of property in the region of the strike are preparing to make exhaustive developments of their own land with a view to finding just how valuable the strike is. A grab sample of the ore was tested today by Hugh Watta, a local assayer and chemist, and the result showed vanadium to the amount of seventy two hundredths to the ton and three and a half ounces of gold as well as twenty ounces in silver. The strike was made in the old Magnolia Consolidated Mining company of Columbus, Nebraska, of which O. C. Shannon of that town is the president."

Last Thursday evening the annual election of officers for Platte Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was held, and the following were elected: Henry Gass, jr., W. P.; Louis Held, W. V. P.; M. O. Keating, W. C.; L. A. Lachnit, secretary; Wm. Kurt, treasurer; Mark Burke, Frank Betz, and Chas. Sturek, trustees; Dr. F. H. Morrow, physician; Tony Rothelstner, I. G.; G. W. Clark, O. G.; Chas. Segelke is now past president. On January 13 the annual installation of officers will be held and also a celebration of the first anniversary of the local Aerie. The event will be observed with an open meeting at which the families of the members will be present, and there will also be a banquet, followed by dancing.

Minnie Augusta Shaffer, aged thirty-five years and thirteen days, died at the home of her brother, Chas. W. Shaffer, in Lost Creek township, last Thursday. Deceased was a daughter of Mrs. G. W. Shaffer, and was born in Platte county. Her parents were among the early settlers of the Platte Center neighborhood, and here she grew to womanhood. Besides her mother she leaves two brothers T. W. and Chas. Funeral services were held Saturday at the Oconee Presbyterian church, being conducted by Rev. Harkness of this city, and burial was in the Columbus cemetery.

It is understood that the Union Pacific will add two new passenger trains on the main line within the next sixty days. They will be known as Nos. 17 and 18 and will take care of a portion of the traffic now handled by the limited trains Nos. 1 and 2 and 7 and 8. There is also some talk of making No. 10 a solid mail train, running opposite No. 9. The cold weather and long trains no doubt have much to do with the putting on of the additional trains.

Sheriff-elect H. O. Lachnit was in the city Monday making arrangements to move here after the first of the year. Mr. Lachnit will reside on East Ninth street, in a residence to be built for him by C. G. Hardy, and for which the foundation has been laid. Henry will move his household goods here early in the year, but will not be able to move his family until his residence is completed.

Teachers' Institute.

This first meeting for 1909-10 of the Platte County Teachers' association, which was held at the high school building, in Platte Center last Saturday, was quite well attended, considering the unfavorable weather and bad roads. State Superintendent E. C. Bishop, who was to have been at the institute during the summer, but was unavoidably detained at Lincoln, had promised the teachers and county superintendent that he would be present at the first meeting of the county association. In order to not disappoint the teachers this time superintendent Bishop was compelled to make the drive from Columbus to Platte Center, as, owing to late trains, he did not arrive at the county seat until noon.

In the absence of Miss Lillian Bennett principal of the Monroe schools, her subject, "Results," was discussed by Superintendent Lecron. He said that the one thing that teachers and superintendents labored for by day and sometimes worried over part of the night was summed up in the one word, "Results." Teachers should instill into every pupil when they entered school in the fall that there was a certain amount of work to be done during the year, certain ends to be met and results obtained.

Miss Elsie Jaeggi, a 1909 graduate of the Columbus High schools, who is gaining her first practical experience as a teacher in the rural schools of Platte county, gave a paper "The First Term." Miss Jaeggi told of how she had planned the various things to do and say in connection with her school work and how she had found everything entirely different, and had to adapt herself to existing conditions. Her word picture of the experience of a teacher during her first term were practically the same as all the new teachers, and during the discussion of the papers Prof. Malone, Loomis and Patterson told of their early experiences which were very similar to those outlined in the paper.

A paper, "What It Is, and Means of Securing It," by Prof. Chas. Otrudovec, principal of the Platte Center schools, took up the subject of discipline, care of school property, conduct, both within and without school rooms, and honesty in examinations, and other kindred subjects. The subject of honesty in examinations brought out a spirited discussion, as this is one of the main things that teachers are seeking to avoid. Superintendent Lecron made the point that the best way to avoid dishonesty in examinations was to remove all temptation, and Prof. Malone said that dishonesty also existed outside of the school room when they obtained answers and solutions unfairly. At this point Gideon Braun, president of the association, gave an interesting talk on tardiness, which was one of the subjects mentioned in the paper.

State Superintendent Bishop was then introduced to the association, which was his first meeting with practically all the teachers. His address, which took about an hour, was full of good advice and suggestion for the teachers. It was an inspiration to the teachers and will be remembered as one of the most pleasing features of any of the association meetings.

The music, which was furnished by the local talent of Platte Center, was very much appreciated by the teachers.

Miss Augusta Nelson, who resigned as secretary, was succeeded by Miss Alice Lyons of Lindsay.

The manual department of the Columbus High school presented the association with a beautiful gavel of cherry and walnut, made by them.

President Gideon Braun then declared the association adjourned until the next meeting, which will be held at Oreston early in February.

Last Friday evening at the Bible Class supper the boys' elected James Colton to carry resolutions to the business men's club expressing the boys' appreciation of the generosity of the business men during the boys' state convention. The boys will never be able to return the kindness of the men but they want the men to know they appreciated it at least.

There was a good deal of wholesome patriotism exhibited at the Sunday school athletic meet held last Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The spirit with which the boys went into it, to win honestly for their Sunday school is very commendable. There were forty-six boys who took part. These boys were required to attend their own Sunday school four consecutive Sundays in order to be eligible to enter this meet. The meet consisted of four events, namely, fifteen yard dash, high jump, relay race and potato race. Almost every boy from each Sunday school went into all the events with the exception of the potato race. The Y. M. C. A. offered a peanut to the Sunday school which should win the highest number of points in the entire meet. The Presbyterian Sunday school carried off the honors with 22 points, beating the Congregational boys by 1 point. The results by schools were as follows: Presbyterian 22; Congregational 21; Episcopal 14; Methodist 11; German Evangelical 6; Catholic 2.

Marcolla Adams, seven months' old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Adams, living fourteen miles north of the city, died December 9, after a short illness. The funeral was held Sunday at the Catholic church and burial was in the Catholic cemetery.

Columbia lodge No. 263, A. O. U. W., elected the following officers for 1910 last Friday night: C. W. Freeman, M. W.; August Schack, foreman; J. W. Haeck, receiver; G. W. Phillips, financier; Ed Rosetter, recorder; Barney Micoek, inside watchman; Felix Smagatz, outside watchman; C. J. Scott, trustee.

Funeral services were held Sunday from the German Reformed church, and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Neumarker, and burial was in the Columbus cemetery.

Bill LaRue must think by this time that the "Bogey" man is after him sure enough. He just returned home from Fremont where he had been in a hospital with an injured foot. Monday he came in from work on the Union Pacific bridge with a badly disfigured face that required the attention of a surgeon. His nose was split almost the entire length by coming in contact with an iron bolt.

Sunday the Columbus bowling team goes to Omaha to play a return game with the Storz team of that city, they having played the first game in Columbus early in the fall and were defeated by the home team. The line up of the Columbus team is Ed Kavanaugh, Joe Gutsman, Fred Sawyer, Jap Nichols and George Hagel. The Storz team will have practically the same line as when here and on their own alleys will put up a hard game for the Columbus bowlers.

Last week George Hagel returned from Omaha, accompanied by his wife, whom he went down to bring home. Mrs. Hagel has recovered from the operation, which was quite successful, and was in a condition to return. It is now only a question of a few weeks until she will be able to walk a few steps and from then her recovery will be rapid. Mrs. Hagel suffered from a broken hip as the result of a fall last winter, and for a time she was almost helpless, but later was able to use crutches.
