ST. EDWARD
From the Advance.
Word reached St. Edward from W. H. Blakeney who is at St. Mary's hospital in Columbus, saying that he underwent an operation for appendicitis and the operation was in every way successful.

Tuesday Mrs. J. S. Billa fell down the elevator way in the rear end of the Christiano Co. store. She was taken to the home of Dr. O. A. Britell where she was cared for until the next afternoon when she was taken to her home. While her injuries are very painful there are no bones broken and she hopes to be fully recovered in a short time.

LINDSAY.
Another fire occurred last week on Thursday evening. This time it was the home of P. G. Ducey, 1 1/2 miles south of town, when the two story house with all valuables, clothing and furniture, with the exception of part of the parlor furniture, burned to the foundation. It seems that Mrs. Ducey was ironing in the afternoon and was roasting a chicken in the evening when the fire started. She had left the kitchen to see about the baby and when she returned the room was all ablaze. Mrs. Ducey at once phoned her husband who had come to town to transact a matter of business, but by the time he and several firemen, as well as some of the neighbors had reached the scene, it was impossible to save anything except what had been taken out of the parlor. It seems to have been another case of "poor chimney," as it is believed that the fire started from the chimney on the inside of the wall. The loss is considered to be about $2,500 with $1,050 insurance.

BELWOOD.
From the Gazette.
Rev. Steinbach, who was to conduct the mission at St. Peter's Catholic church this week, fell down and sprained one of his ankles in such a manner that it was deemed best to postpone the services until some time in January.

Mrs. P. N. Meyersburg underwent an operation last Friday at the Columbus hospital for gall stones. We learn that she was a very sick woman for several hours after the operation. Her husband and children were all with her in the hospital at the time of operation. Mrs. Meyersburg is a woman who is loved by a large circle of friends in Bellwood and vicinity, and all hope for her speedy recovery to better health.

Miss Hattie E., who was mentioned in last week's Gazette as being very ill with yellow fever in Texas, died Monday at Sulphur, Oklahoma, of malaria, after an illness of about six weeks duration. Her mother, who resides at David City, was at her bedside when she passed to the beyond. Hattie, as she was always called, had a host of young friends in Bellwood and vicinity, who mourn her death. She was in her 24th year. Her body arrived in Bellwood Friday and was laid to rest along side her father, who preceded her several years ago.

It is kind of funny the difference in opinion of some men. Some are selling off their shoats because corn is so high; others are pouring the corn into their bags and say they can get more out of it than they can get out of the shell. There is a man over on Shell creek that last May raised one hundred head of pigs of the Darco Jersey breed. They have had clover and alfalfa, all they could eat. He raised 50 acres of corn and it was good corn, too. He has not bought any corn and last Tuesday he was offered two thousand dollars for the hundred head in the yard. Do you think any man can beat that selling corn?

TWENTY BOYS WANTED to work for a Shetland pony, cart and harness. Liberal pay to bright boys, besides the chance to earn a pony. Successful boys will be given permanent positions which will not interfere with school duties. Francis W. Echols, 618 West 15th street.

PLATTE CENTER.
From the Signal:
An eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arndt, Grand Prairie township, while riding to school Monday morning, fell off the sleigh and broke his arm at the elbow.
C. U. Carrig, and Surveyor Gottschalk were up from Columbus Wednesday, doing some preliminary work on the "Jewell and Carrig" ditch, which is to be widened and deepened in the spring.
While skating Sunday afternoon Charley Zingg had the misfortune to fall and fracture three bones in his left hand. He has ceased skating for a few days and is carrying his hand in splints.
Miss Mary Dunn, who has spent the past four months with relatives in the east, arrived home Tuesday evening, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Margaret Coleman of Chicago, who will spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Martin Dunn.
C. W. Payzant has sold his farm of 400 acres on southeast of Schuyler to C. J. Carrig, of Columbus, who in turn sold it at once to another Columbus party at an advanced price within a few days. Mr. Payzant sold at $22 an acre and received $32,000 for it.

HUMPHREY.
From the Democrat
The home of George Hamling was quarantined Friday for diphtheria, four of the children having the disease in a mild form.
Miss Angas Fehringler went down to Columbus Wednesday to remain for some time to take a course of instruction in ladies tailoring.
Postmaster Geitzel went down to Columbus last Sunday and spent the day with his brother, J. B. who has been somewhat under the weather for the past few days.

A few days ago a gentleman appeared at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joe. Zuerline in the west part of town, and asked for a cup of coffee. As nobody is turned away from the Zuerline home either hungry or thirsty, the stranger was invited into the house for the desired cup of coffee, but before the coffee came around it developed that the stranger was no other than Chas. Groemling, a brother of Mrs. Zuerline whom she had not seen in 23 years, who had come out from Chicago to pay his sister and family a visit. Mr. Groemling has been in business in Chicago.

MEMPHIS.
From the Republican.
Miss Emma Sheridan was up from Columbus last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Joe Gleason.
Mrs. Frank Dickinson and children, who have been visiting relatives at St. Edward returned home Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rockafeld of Cheyenne, Wyoming, arrived Friday morning for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Loucka.

Monroe rural mail carriers have made a splendid record during the recent storm, as neither one of them missed a trip. On account of deep drifts and people failing to open the roads, there were portions of the trip that had to be left for a few days, but they managed to get the mail to their patrons in some manner.

CENTRAL CITY.
From the Nonpareil.
George Spiess was up from Clark Friday calling on friends. Mr. Spiess and family returned about a month ago from England, where they spent three or four months in visiting relatives and sight-seeing. Mr. Spiess talks interestingly of his trip, perhaps one of the most interesting things being his comparison of prices in that country and this. He was wearing a good suit of brown clothes, that would retail at not less than $15 or $20 in this country. They cost him $7 in England. A pair of shoes that looked as good as any we can buy for $3.50 cost him eight shillings there, or $2.00. He told also of buying an overcoat for $7.50 and being offered $30 for it after arriving in this country. The scale of prices there ranges on everything about, one third to one-half less than here. Wages of course are correspondingly low.
Shortly after one o'clock Sunday afternoon a man was found in an outbuilding back of the Drinkall restaurant in an unconscious condition. Marshall Jooley was immediately notified and after summoning assistance he took the man to the jail and called physicians. Drs. Benton and Jones were called and Miss Leafy Peringer, a trained nurse, was also summoned. The doctors and nurse worked with the man for several hours, but he never regained consciousness and died early Monday morning. His trouble was an affection of the kidneys and the chill and exposure doubtless added to the seriousness of his condition. As he never regained consciousness it was impossible to learn his name or where he came from. A few papers found in his pockets indicated that his name was W. White. A receipt from an employment agency in Ogden bore this name.

ALBION.
From the News.
Anton Kuntzman returned Wednesday last from Columbus, where he has been in the hospital for an operation for appendicitis. His mother went down after him.
According to reports from all over the country, we of Nebraska have no reason to complain because our weather is not so pleasant as it might be. It would be hard to find a place where it has been better.
Last Friday evening about dark, an John Eimelhorst was on his way home from Petersburg with a load of lumber, the wagon was overturned and he was killed by being caught under his load. The accident occurred about six miles this side of Petersburg, where there is a deep cut by the side of the road. The deceased had poor eyes, being very near sighted, and it is supposed in the gathering darkness he got out of the road and the load tipped over. The horses got loose from the wagon and ran away. He was found in about half an hour after the accident happened, and was then dead. The deceased was a young man 23 years old, of good repute and well liked. He never indulged in drink. He was in the employ of Theo. Falsana, for whom he had worked for some time. His folks formerly lived east of Petersburg, but some time ago moved to Oklahoma.

GENOA.
From the Times.
A man who has kept count of the number of kisses exchanged with his wife since their union, consents to its publication as follows: First year, 35,371; second year, 16,411; third year, 3,665; fourth year, 123; fifth year, 2. He then left off keeping count.
A farmer whose son was an applicant for a position under the government, but had been repeatedly turned down, said: "Well, it's hard luck, but John has missed that civil service examination again. It looks like they just won't have him!" "What was the trouble?" "Well he was short on spelling, geography, and mixed party far in mathematics." "What's he going to do about it?" "I dunno. Times is mighty hard and I reckon he'll have ter go back ter teaching school for a livin'."

Claiming that the registered letter business has run at a loss, the postoffice department has changed the registry fee on letters from eight to ten cents. The indemnity has been changed from twenty five to fifty dollars, the sender having to prove that the contents of the letter are worth the full amount. Under the old rule, the sender could collect no more than twenty-five dollars, no matter how valuable was the lost letter. Now a person can collect fifty dollars in case a registered letter is lost.

A Hint From Old Santa
as to what will be best appreciated by rich and poor alike at the glad Christmas season should surely be worth considering. Old Santa says: Buy a sack of WAY UP Flour for yourself—for someone else as well—and make a lot of people happy, for WAY UP Flour is the best made.

COLUMBUS ROLLER MILLS
Not Appreciated.
Apropos of the "delusion deep rooted in the minds of innumerable voters that a man can only be 'putting up for parliament' in order to better himself one way or another" and that no sacrifice has to be made by the candidate there is the speech that was made by Sir Richard Temple, who had returned postie haste from his duties in India, arriving after his own contest had begun. Sir Richard used words to the following effect: "I have traveled 5,000 miles and surrendered $5,000 a year for the privilege of representing this great constituency," but the proper sense of his generosity and public spirit was entirely marred by a remark from a loud voice in the crowd. "Oh, what a fool you must be!"—Ian Malcolm in Cornhill Magazine.

The Check System.
John Palmer, who died some years ago in rather straitened circumstances in a little town in Michigan, was the inventor of the check system. Palmer was a fiddler and assumed responsibility for the hats, coats and wraps of those who came to his dancing parties. In keeping things straight he gave numbered checks for the articles committed to his care. Some railroad men who attended one of the dances noticed how perfectly the idea worked and appropriated it, and in a short time the system was adopted all over the country. As is so often the case, the inventor got nothing out of it.—New York American.

A Nest Made From a Leaf.
The tailor bird of India, a tiny yellow creature, makes a most curious nest. To escape snakes and monkeys this bird takes a dead leaf, flies up into a tree and with a fiber for a thread and its bill for a needle sews the leaf to a green one hanging from the tree. The sides are sewed up, an opening to the nest thus formed being left at the top. The leaf, apparently hanging from a twig, would never be taken for a nest.

The Only Kind.
"It would be a good idea if brains could be gone over and renovated now and then."
"If that were possible some brains would have to be renovated with a vacuum cleaner."—Baltimore American.

Not Aply Worded.
An absurdly worded statement of a fact which was not in itself remarkable recently tried the gravity of the listeners. It was on the occasion of the funeral of an elderly woman in a New England town. She had left an old mother, nearly ninety years of age, and an only son who was well on toward fifty.
The services were conducted by a timid young clergyman recently settled over the parish. After praying for many and various things he said: "And two we especially pray that the Lord will comfort and sustain in their loss and sorrow. One is the orphan, who, although no longer young, is an orphan still and must so continue. The other is the mother, far advanced in years, who has survived her daughter, although considerably her senior."—Youth's Companion.

Not Literary.
"The late Frederick Burton was the world's foremost authority on the American Indian," said a Yale ethnologist. "Burton was almost alone in his field. There are, you know, so few students of Indian lore."
"He said to me once, with a veiled laugh, that he found it quite impossible to discuss the Indian with people as a Boston critic found it to discuss poetry with the girl he took down to dinner."
"The girl was very pretty. Learning her dimpled elbows on the table, she said to the critic: "And what is your lecture to be about, professor?" "I shall lecture on Keats," he replied. "Oh, professor," she gushed, "what are Keats?"—Washington Star.

Life of the Red Deer.
According to an old Gaelic legend, a red deer might live for 210 years, an eagle for 220 and an oak tree for nearly a thousand centuries. Nowadays, however, hundred-year-old deer would be difficult to find. From twenty-five to thirty-five years apparently may be about the range of their existence.—London Country Gentleman.

The Amateur.
"Yes," said the amateur who had attended the party. "Miss Keep-ponder was there, and we had to beg and beg her to play."
"And did she play?" "Oh, yes. I thought for a time that we would have to beg and beg her to stop."—Exchange.

Fun.
Peter and John (seeing a large plate glass pane being put in) "We may as well go home. They are not going to let it fall."—Pilegude Blatter.

Kind words are the music of the world.—Faber.

CAUSE FOR ALARM.
Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating Symptoms that Should Not be Disregarded.
Appetite is just a natural desire of the system for the food necessary to replace natural body waste. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicates indigestion or dyspepsia. Overeating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health, and insatiable appetite is a common symptom of diabetes.
It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.
There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.
We urge every one suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of anyone who has not been benefited by them.
We honestly believe Rexall Dyspepsia tablets to be without equal. They are made from the prescription of a physician who devoted his time to the study and treatment of stomach troubles. They give very prompt relief, stimulating the secretion of gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, aid to good digestion and assimilation, regulate the bowels, and promote nutrition.
We urge you to try a 25-cent box of Rexall Dyspepsia tablets, which give 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases we have two larger sizes, which sell for 60 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall remedies in Columbus only at Pollock & Co's. drug store on the corner.

Hazing.
Hazing is an indefinite and inexplicable something. When we are called before the faculty we deny the existence of the word. We call it gentle horse-play.
Nevertheless hazing, whatever it is, fills its place in man's life. The wonderful state of sophomorehood would be lost if not for it. What would become of our great Military academy at West Point if it were not for hazing?
There are three great periods of hazing in man's life—first the green apple period, then the college period and finally the married period, which, we are told, is one continuous round of hazing on both sides.
Hazing is an educational and desirable experience for those wishing to become slaveholders, superintendents of gangs, divorce seekers and fathers of large families.
What is the greatest press agent of this age? Hazing. Look at the free advertising different colleges receive every year.
Hazing is also very helpful to those wishing to test the strength of baseball clubs, fence pickets and bricks.—Rutgers Targum.
