MANY YEARS AGO.

Files of the Journal, January 24, 1877.

F. P. Burgess has been heard from at the Pawnee agency in the Indian territory. He contemplates taking a trip through Kansas shortly to hunt up a newspaper situation.

If crops are good next season, the lumber men may expect an immense trade, greater than they have ever had. Nebraska men are determined to improve their farms to the utmost extent of their ability.

Among the bills introduced to the Nebraska legislature we notice one to attach the Pawnee reservation to Merriam county, and another to create the Pawnee reservation into the county of Delaware.

Forty-one freighters wagons went north from Sidney on Saturday last, thirty-two on Sunday, twenty-five on Monday, thirty-four on Tuesday, forty on Wednesday and twenty-eight on Thursday. It would almost seem as though the Black Hills people consumed as much as Chicago and Sidney combined.

People cannot be too careful in getting on and off the cars, especially when the grounds and platforms are slippery. Only a few weeks ago a man was thrown violently to the ground when jumping from a moving train at the Olive street crossing, narrowly escaping serious injury. Last Wednesday, Miss Hanchett, of this city, in attempting to get off a train after it had started from the depot, slipped and fell partially under the cars, and but for the timely assistance of a bystander would probably have been injured.

Last Sunday afternoon, January 16, Adolph Jaeggi, manager of the Elevator Roller Mills of this city, died at his residence, Eighth and Ernst streets, after an illness of four weeks with pleurisy. Mr. Jaeggi was born in Bern, Switzerland, August 2, 1848, and was the second son of a Swiss minister. He received an excellent commercial education in a wholesale house in Elmdorf, in Emmenthal. He spent a year in Italy for the purpose of learning the language, and while there was an eye witness, in St. Peter's dome, of the concilium, declaring Pope Pius Nono infallible. Having absolved his military services in his native country, reaching the rank of lieutenant, he immigrated to Columbus in 1869, taking a homestead eighteen miles southwest in Polk county, where he enjoyed the blessings and suffered the hardships of the pioneer. Later he was the first book keeper in the Columbus State Bank under Leander Gerrard and Abner Turner. Later he engaged in the lumber business under the firm name of Jaeggi & Schupbach and then became manager of the Elevator Roller Mills, which position he held at the time of his death. Mr. Jaeggi had enjoyed good health until a year ago, when he suffered from a severe attack of rheumatism, from which he failed to find relief, even at the Hot Springs of South Dakota. Eight weeks ago he was taken with fainting spells and compelled to remain at home, and the last four weeks he was bedfast during which time he received the best of care, but this did not avail to prolong his life. Besides his wife he leaves three sons, Paul, Walter and Ernest, all grown to manhood, and one brother Leopold, all of this city, and one sister in Salt Lake City and another one in Bern, Switzerland. Funeral services were held Wednesday, at 2 p. m. from the residence and were conducted by Rev. Neumarker of the German Evangelical Protestant church. During his long residence in Columbus was always interested in the growth and advancement of the city, and in his quiet way gave substantial encouragement to all improvements.

One of the most important and sweeping changes in the Union Pacific time table, for many years, was put into effect Sunday. Besides adding four new trains, two, the Los Angeles Limited, Nos. 7 and 8, are taken off temporarily. Of the westbound trains, there are no changes in No. 1, the Overland Limited, and North Platte and Grand Island locals, the two latter arriving here at the same time as before, but under different numbers. No. 3 and 15 are changed but very little, and arrive in the evening as before. No. 17, the Portland Special, runs on the time of the former Los Angeles Limited, arriving about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. No. 13, the Colorado special, is the night train, and leaves Omaha at 11:48 p. m., and carries the mail. The time for this train is the fastest on the division, making the run from Omaha here in one hour and forty-seven minutes, and from here to Grand Island in one hour and ten minutes. No. 11 leaves Omaha about seven o'clock in the morning, making it an early morning train for Columbus people. No. 5, now follows No. 3 in the evening, in the same as before the last change. In the westbound trains, No. 12 is an evening train instead of in the morning, arriving at 10:27 p. m. No. 14, the Colorado special, arrives at about the same time as No. 12 did. No. 18, the eastbound Portland train, takes the place of the eastbound Los Angeles Limited No. 8. No. 6, which formerly arrived in the night, is now a day train, following No. 16 and arrives at 2:46. This new arrangement provides for three Denver trains each way, and provides splendid service for that travel.

Columbus and Omaha high school basketball teams played a very close and interesting game in this city Friday night. Judging by the game put up by the Columbus team when in Omaha, the team from the metropolis expected an easy victory. But they soon discovered that Columbus made a big improvement, and that their play was ahead of the former game. The score at the end of the first half was 12 to 5 in favor of Omaha, but in the second half Columbus played to win, and at the end of this half the score stood 30 to 23 in favor of Omaha. The lineup was as follows: Omaha, Rector, Carson, Patton, Finley, Dodd, Burdick, Trimble, Kulakofsky, Columbus, Becker, A. Wilson, Westbrook, Rhode, V. Wilson, Kinsman. The Columbus Fire department will be represented at the twenty-eighth annual convention of Nebraska Volunteer Firemen, which is held at Fremont, Wednesday and Thursday of this week by the following delegates: Pioneer Hook and Ladder Co., Clarence Pittman; Hose Company No. 1, Otto Kumpf; Hose Company No. 2, John Stamb; Biswell Hose Company, George E. Davis. Besides the delegates quite a number of members and ex-members of the department will be in attendance at the convention. Chief Bert J. Galley of the Columbus department is president of the association, and at this meeting his successor will be elected; one year being the rule for this office.

The chorus in "Little Johnny Jones" is just about as sprightly a company of sweet femininity as has lately been assembled on any local stage. Mr. Cohan's choruses are always sprightly, otherwise they are not there.

There are song hits galore in "Little Johnny Jones." But the ones that are whistled and hummed the most are "Good Bye, Flo;" "Nesting in a New York Tree;" "Give My Regards to Broadway;" and "Yankee Doodle Boy."

Wm. Terrell, who had the misfortune to break his leg at the Union Pacific freight depot two weeks ago, had the injured member placed in a plaster cast Sunday morning, and is now able to get around the house with the aid of crutches.

Monday morning Seth Braun closed a deal for the sale of his store on Eleventh street. W. E. Rohrich being the purchaser, and he took possession the first of the week. Mr. Braun can now devote his time to railroading, as he is next in line for a regular run as fireman.

According to the dispatches in Tuesday's dailies, Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Dorey were arraigned in St. Louis, charged with the murder of William J. Eder, and pleaded not guilty. Their trial has been set for the next term of court, and the proceedings will be closely watched by Columbus people.

James Robert Pennington, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Pennington, died Sunday after a two weeks' illness with pneumonia. He was born May 20, 1909, and was seven months and twenty-six days old. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. from the home, on East Eleventh street and were conducted by Rev. W. L. Dibble of the Congregational church.

It is understood that as soon as the weather will permit the working of paving around the Union Pacific depot will be commenced. The company had planned to do this last fall, but on account of the early winter were unable to do it. There are a number of other improvements contemplated, and when the work is completed Columbus will have a depot and grounds to be proud of.

Supervisor of the Census Joe A. Hayes of Central City was in the city Monday looking after details connected with taking the enumeration in this county. Mr. Hayes has charge of the census work for the Third congressional district of Nebraska, and he is now making arrangements for the examination of prospective enumerators. The examination for Platte county will be held in this city on Saturday, February 5, at a place to be designated later.

Monday of this week the grand officers of the Sons of Herman were in the city checking over the books of Grand Treasurer Fred Volpp of Scribner and Grand Secretary Carl Rhode of this city. But two members of the auditing committee were present, William Piepenstock of Wayne and August Boettcher of this city. Grand President John Mattes of Nebraska City was also present at the meeting, as also were the other officers mentioned.

Ever since the town of Monroe was started they have at different times considered ways and means for providing a bridge over the Loup south of town. At one time they had a temporary bridge, but the high water washed it away, and later they put in a ferry. But now they have another idea and that is to put in a pontoon bridge.

Those interested in this project have been ascertaining the cost of such a bridge, and they believe it will be possible to raise the required amount and put in the bridge. Monroe has long felt that the trade from the south side of the river in Loup township and now hope that a pontoon bridge will be the means of securing it for them.

Washington dispatches this week announce the reappointment of Henry Geitzman as postmaster at Humphrey. This is his third term for him.

Dr. A. E. Vallier left Thursday for LaBelle, Mo., on receipt of a telegram telling of the serious illness of his wife's mother. Mrs. Vallier left for her mother's home over two weeks ago, and they will remain there for some time.

R. S. Dickinson and C. O. Sheldon of Columbus Brick company returned last week from points in the east, including Dayton, O., where they investigated the Young-Green kiln. As yet they have not decided on anything definite in the line of improvements for the brick company, but will make further investigations.

President Karr of the Commercial club expects to call a meeting of that body during the coming week for the purpose of considering, in connection with the City Band, a proposition to secure a director and leader. Other important matters may be considered by the club and may be incorporated in the call for the meeting.

Agent Rector of the Burlington is still compelled to transact business in almost the open air, as the carpenter gang rebuilding the depot have gotten far enough along to begin tearing out a portion of the old office. When the building is completed it will be much more convenient, one improvement being the office extending the full length of the building north and south, and giving them windows facing the track.

Last week the Knights of the Maccoons held their annual election of officers, which resulted as follows: Fred Schofield, past commander; August Dietrich, commander; Harvey Miles, lieutenant; George Winslow, sergeant; H. W. Heineman, recorder and finance keeper; J. T. Boyd, chaplain; Dr. D. T. Martyn, sr., physician; Lester Jenkins, master at arms; E. C. Worden, first guard; O. E. Devlin, second guard; Clarence Shaw, sentry; Norman F. Davis, picket.

Another of the entertainments given under the auspices of the Spanish-American War veterans, in order to assist in defraying the expenses of their state convention and reunion in this city sometime during the month of April, will be given at the North Theatre Thursday evening of this week. They have secured Lasrants, who will entertain the audience with feats of magic and legerdemain, and is said to be first class in his line. The boys are asking Columbus people to patronize their entertainments and in that way, while they are getting the worth of their money, materially assist them in raising funds for the state meeting.

For a Court House.

At their last session, the board of supervisors seriously considered providing more room at the present court house, and Architect J. F. Guth of Omaha submitted plans for a remodeled building, to cost about 50,000 and utilize the present building. The board discussed the plans and various ways of raising funds, but before adjourning the following resolution was presented by Supervisor Goetz and adopted:

Whereas, A movement has been started by this board to submit to the tax payers of Platte county the question of either building an addition to the old court house or to build a new court house for the county, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the question of providing for a new court house for the county of Platte be made the special order of business for the second day of the next session of the board of supervisors at 2 p. m. of said day.

The date of the second day of the meeting is March 16, 1910, and at that time the remodeling of the present building, or the building of an entirely new one will be taken up and discussed.

The court house question is one that every taxpayer in the county is interested in, and has been before the people on different occasions. Platte county has long needed a new court house and it is hoped that the present movement will result in providing more and better accommodations for the county officers.

Columbus Banks Elect Officers.

The three national banks of this city held their election of officers during the last week, and there were very few changes.

At the First National the list of directors is composed of J. H. Galley, Jacob Greisen, Edward Johnson, P. F. Luchinsinger, P. A. Peterson and Henry Miller, making eight members of the board, with the addition of Messrs. Henry Miller and Franz Luchinsinger.

The Commercial roster is as follows: H. P. Oehlrich, Daniel Schram, A. D. Becker, S. C. Gray, Jonas Welch, A. F. H. Oehlrich and John J. Galley, the latter taking the place of Frank Rorer in the directory.

At the German National G. W. Phillips, C. H. Sheldon, Frank Rorer, Theo. Friedhof, August Boettcher, H. S. Elliott and George Willard compose the board, Mr. Boettcher taking Bernard Schroeder's place as a member of the board.

Return Engagement of Little Johnny Jones.

"Little Johnny" Jones which will be seen in this city in the near future has scored one of the biggest hits of any musical comedy presented in recent years. Fully half a season it was presented to crowded houses in New York City and during one entire summer it played to capacity at the fashionable Illinois theatre in Chicago, where it scored a record of one hundred performances. The same complete scenic production as presented in those cities will be seen here. The company numbers fifty people including one of the best drilled and most efficient choruses in America.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Next Sunday the meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. and will be entirely in the hands of the boys. There will be four or five speakers.

The boys' Bible classes will meet at 6:30 and all the boys are welcome. Rev. Dibble will give a short address on Bible study before the boys separate to their classes.

The Men's meeting will be held at the usual time next Sunday afternoon at 4:00 p. m., in the Y. M. C. A. building. Rev. W. H. Xanders of the Episcopal church will speak, his subject being "The Moral of the Prodigal." Messrs. Lammie and Putnam will sing a duet. All men are cordially invited to attend.

Through the kindness of Rev. Neumarker the boys Sunday meeting was held in the German Reformed church last Sunday afternoon. The meeting was well attended, a number of fellows who are not members being present. Messrs. Lammie and Putnam sang a duet. Mr. Jones spoke to the boys from the incident of Joshua's battle with the men of Ai. And he had in evidence an old fashioned spear which he brought from the Philippine Islands, very much like the old weapon Joshua's men used.

More than 60 different monthly and weekly magazines and daily and weekly papers are on file in the Y. M. C. A. reading for the free use of the members. When these magazines have been read and replaced by later issues they are of no further use to the association. This fact and the fact that it costs the association a large sum in subscriptions for this matter has caused the educational committees of the association under the approval of the board of directors to offer for sale most of the magazines. Any one desiring to secure these magazines can get information how to do so at the office of the association.

There will be a championship game of indoor base ball Saturday evening at 8:15 between Hastings and Columbus. Gusta Metkin has been at the home of Will Willis for the last few weeks.

Fred Bruggeman shipped a carload of cattle that he had bought, from Oconee.

Miss Mary Mitch has been at the home of her sister, Mrs. Will Korich, in Columbus.

Miss Anna Lambertus of Monroe is visiting at the home of her grandfather, J. W. Sissle.

Mrs. Mary Langan of Bruno, Saskatchewan, Kan., is visiting at the home of John Ebner.

Will Willis shipped a car of cattle to South Omaha Monday, and from there he went to Peoria Ill., for a visit.

Route No. 5.

Harley Olcott brought home a fine new carriage Tuesday.

Charley Hughes is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Joe Houser is confined to her bed on account of sickness.

Hy Enysart was brought home from Hot Springs, S. D., Saturday.

"The Willing Workers" will meet with Mrs. Frank Olcott next Thursday.

The Misses Edith and Florence Houser have issued invitations for Friday night.

John Ruppert, who was arrested and brought down from St. Bernard on a charge of selling liquor without a license, had his preliminary hearing before Police Judge O'Brien Wednesday. He pleaded extenuating circumstances, but County Attorney Hensley reminded Ruppert that this was the third time he had been up on the same charge, and that twice before he had been dealt with leniently, on a promise to not disobey the law again, and he was bound over to the district court under a $600 bond. As he desired to plead guilty Judge Thomas said he would hold court Wednesday afternoon, and it is quite probable, as Ruppert said, that after he gets through with this trouble, Platte county will not have any more bother with him.

Last week the First National bank of this city secured the title to one-half the space of the stairway between their building and that of Sam Gass, sr., adjoining it on the north. This is to provide the bank with a full sized lot, and enable them to make extensive improvements in their building, practically reconstructing it. The plans have already been approved and contractors will be asked for bids in a few days. The work of making the changes will be carried on so as to not interfere with the business of the bank, and when completed the building will be modern in every respect. The estimated cost of the change will be in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Tuesday of this week Mrs. James Naylor received a telegram from her oldest son, James Naylor, telling of the death of his wife at their home in British Columbia.

Fred Oeltjen of Scribner was in the city this week visiting with relatives. Mr. Oeltjen may conclude to return to Columbus, as he now has a position that makes this town a desirable location for him.

George Fairchild of this city, who was employed in the office of State Auditor Barton for some time, now has a position with an expert accountant of Omaha, and at present is at Hartington, where they are doing some expert work for Cedar county.

Wednesday afternoon County Judge Ratterman performed the marriage ceremony for Henning W. Bergstrom of Ft. Pierre, South Dakota, and Miss Hannah Wingren of St. Edward. As the girl was under the legal age, her father accompanied her and gave his consent to the marriage.

Duncan is going to have a new general store, and it is understood that Columbus parties will be interested in operate it. With the completion of the Platte bridge at that place much additional business from the south side is anticipated, hence another business house in addition to those already there.

Herman Weyen of the northwest part of Monroe township, was in the city Tuesday on business. In speaking of his corn crop, Mr. Weyen said he still had about twenty acres in the field, but that he did not anticipate it would be damaged by the snow, and rain, and he would be able to get it out as soon as the snow melted. He also believes in feeding his grain to stock, and the other day marketed two loads of hogs at Platte Center that brought him almost $200.

February first is the date that those in charge expect to have the new double track Union Pacific bridge, west of the city, so that it will be out of the way of danger from the ice. All the steel trusses, except the east one, are in position, and all that delays the finishing of this one is the concrete and mason work on the east pier. The emergency track and false work would very much impede the movement of the ice and throw the strain on the bridge, but by the first of next month all of this will be removed.

I. L. Albert of this city is one of the attorneys in the bank guarantee case, which is attracting considerable attention all over the country at present. In a recent interview in Washington, Governor Shallenberger is quoted as saying that Messrs. Albert and Whelan, who have charge of the case for the state are entirely satisfactory to him and will continue if they so desire, but in case they do not, Charles A. Towne will be called. Mr. Albert, however, has no intention of withdrawing from the case, and as soon as the Oklahoma bank guarantee case, which is very similar to Nebraska's is decided, they will proceed, if the decision be in favor of Oklahoma.
