

Catarrh

Is a Constitutional Disease
And Requires
A Constitutional Remedy

Hood's Sarsaparilla Permanently Cures Catarrh.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I cannot speak too highly of the value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have been a sufferer from that dreadful disease, catarrh. For the past nine years my head and nasal passages have been clogged up, and in consequence I was through my nose. My breath became very bad and offensive. Powders and medicines were useless and I was discouraged. I had read considerable about the good being done by Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to give it a trial. I had not taken more than one bottle before I began to feel the benefit it was bestowing upon me. After taking two bottles my expectations were realized. I have continued and its for I feel like a new man. I can now breathe through my nose with ease and have realized benefits from the medicine throughout my sys-

Unable to Breathe

IMPROVE THE SPEAKING VOICE.

One of the interesting announcements for the Crete Chautauqua next July is that arrangements have been made for a well equipped gymnasium on the grounds. Classes will be formed for men, women and boys, under the direction of competent instructors. Instruction is also offered in oratory and voice culture. A small fee, not exceeding 50 cents, will be charged for the course, excepting the first lecture, which will be free. The Rev. Joseph H. Hoffman, of Kearney, a speaker and teacher of long experience has been engaged for this work. Special attention will be paid to the development of the speaking voice. It is possible to cultivate a smooth, mellow, pleasant voice in place of the harsh monotonous, rasping tones so often heard in dry climates. The lectures will be practically illustrated during the class hour, and methods for practice at home will be clearly and carefully explained.

LOVE STREAMS.

Like a swollen brook in springtime Foaming, sparkling, laughing, gay, Onward leaps impetuous passion
Day by day.
Mother Nature sets the fashion—
All obey.

Like a winding stream in summer,
Broad and deep and calm and clear, Onward flows love's mighty current Year by year—
Mother Nature, all inerrant Guides us here.

Like a vast unfathomed ocean,
Swelling, throbbing, ever free,
Onward drifts love's tide immortal
O'er life's sea;
Sweeping on toward heaven's portal
You and me.

THE OLD BRUSSELS CARPET.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of springtime,
When the annual house cleaning recurs
to our view,

When we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantel,

In an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue.

We think of the stovepipe, the soot that came with it.

Likewise the profanity, fluent and fine;
But saddest and bitterest of all recollections

Is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That rusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That hung on the line!

We remember how, armed with a lithe flagellator,

In the morning we blithely advanced to the fray,

In the muscular pride of our heart littl^e dreaming

That cleaning that carpet would take the whole day.

We sweat and we swore, and our hands badly blistered,

While the sun lent his countenance warmly benign;

But the harder we pounded the more it was needed

By that dusty old carpet that hung on the line.

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That cussety old carpet,
That hung on the line!

A Bright Lad,

Ten years of age, but who declines to give his name to the public, makes this authorized, confidential statement to us:

"When I was one year old, my mamma died of consumption. The doctor said that I, too, would soon die, and all our neighbors thought that even if I did not die, I would never be able to walk, because I was so weak and puny. A gathering formed and broke under my arm. I hurt my finger and it gathered and threw out pieces of bone.
If I hurt myself so as to break the skin, it was sure to become a running sore. I had to take lots of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It has made me well and strong."
