AMUSEMENTS

The amusement season in Lincoln will open next week. Mrs. James Brown Potter and Kyrle Bellew, the picturesque couple who continue to furnish much material for gossip of a more or less interesting character, will appear at the Lansing Tuesday evening, August 28, as the first attraction of the regular season, and at the Funke one night later Owen's "Fairies' Carnival," a spectacular production under the auspices of the Women's Christian association, will begin a three nights engagement to be followed by a matinee on Saturday.

POTTER AND BELLEW.

It has been five years since Mrs. Potter and Mr. Bellew last visited the western country. On their last American tour, two years ago, they did not play west of the Mississippi river. Mrs. Potter made her professional debut at the Haymarket Theater in London in September, 1886, in Wilkie Collins' drama, "Man and Wife." She was kindly received by London critics generally, who pronounced her as possessing marked dramatic ability. Later on in the same year she played at the Gayety Theatre in "Civil War" and "Loyal Love." In October 1887 she made her first professional bow to an American audience at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York, in "Mlle de Bremier," and since that time has appeared in different plays in nearly every city where English is spoken. Mr. Kyrle Bellew has accompanied Mrs. Potter ever since her London debut and is an actor of wide experience and wonderful facility. He has been for many years prominently before the public, both in the old and the new world, as a leading man who has few equals and no superiors. He possesses in a marked degree that indescribable quality called personal magnetism, and is withal a man of most prepossessing appearance. Mr. Bellew was born in London, but at an early age removed to India, where his youth was spent. He ran away from Calcutta and was a sailor for two years. He afterwards had considerable experience as a journalist, and it was during this time that his natural love for the stage developed itself. For several years he played leading parts in Calcutta, where he became a great favorite. During his career he has played in every theatre in London, in almost every leading play of modern times, together with all the Shakespearean pieces, and was for a long time leading man in Wallack's Stock company at Wallack's Theatre, New York, where he was almost worshiped by metropolitan audiences, and particularly those of the fair sex. These two artists will appear at the Lansing Theatre Friday, August 28th in "In Society."
