

Mr. Ross L. Curtice and Miss Grace Burr were married at the home of the bride's parents, 1530 L street at 3 o'clock p. m. on New Years day. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Hewitt in the presence of the families of the bridal couple. It was quiet, but impressive, as most home weddings are, especially where the beautiful marriage ceremony of the Episcopal church is used. The bride was so charming, the groom so manly and the surrounding of such a happy character that the ceremony performed under such favorable auspices was a beautiful event to be long cherished in the memory of those present. The day was an ideal wedding day, fair and spring-like, and the wedding scene so inspiring that all imbibed in the spirit of rejoicing when the happy couple were pronounced man and wife. Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held until the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Curtice for Denver. The bride is so well known and universally loved that no words can add to her popularity. She is the second daughter that Mr. and Mrs. Carlos C. Burr have given in marriage within the present season. Mr. Curtice has attained prominence in business as secretary of the N. P. Curtice Company of this city, and his popularity is only equalled by his business ability. The happy couple will be at home after January 15th at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Curtice, 1942 G street.

Frank Bartholomew left for Pueblo, Colo., yesterday.

Councilman Dailey is confined to his bed by sickness.

J. H. MacColl was a prominent figure yesterday in hotel corridors.

Judge T. O. C. Harrison was among the guests at the Lindell Wednesday.

George W. Lowley and J. Lowley of Seward were at the Capital Wednesday.

L. D. Richards of Fremont was seen at the Lindell Wednesday buzzing the republicans.

Supt. J. T. Mallallieu, of the industrial school, was amidst the seething mass of politicians yesterday.

Mr. C. A. Howe, who has been spending the holidays in Sioux City has returned.

Mr. Robert Charters gave a skating party at Burlington Beach Monday evening.

Although the present generation has never before had such a damper put upon its social aspirations, yet the year 1894 has been an eventful season socially. The financial necessities have for twelve months constantly stared all in the face but notwithstanding the old adage, "that one's social appearance must be maintained at any cost," has again been proven true. The butcher and the baker may plead and threaten for their over due accounts without avail, in order that the dues of the society clubs may be promptly paid.

M. L. Thomas has returned from Chicago.

George S. Shugart has gone to Council Bluffs.

New Cook—Shall I get any milk to-day, mum?

Bride—Yes, Nora, get some butter-milk and we'll make some butter. We must try and be economical.

The Cotillon club gave its second party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Buckstaff on New Years Eve. It being the holiday German a number of friends were invited to enjoy the hospitality of the club. Lieut. Townly led the figures which were new for the occasion. Shortly before midnight Mr. Townley called all the dancers on the floor and after going through a very unique figure wound it up with a Roman circle and as the clock struck the hour of twelve each wished his neighbor a happy and prosperous new year and the first resolution of 1895 was one of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Buckstaff and Lieut. Townley.

There has been numerous and enjoyable skating parties during the past week and Salt Lake has been a most popular resort.

The birth of 1895 was ushered in with a gratifying revival of the time honored custom of New Year receptions. In the afternoon and evening numerous homes were thrown open to the friends of each hostess.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Miss Lottie Whedon's magnificent home was the head quarters of the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity. Miss Whedon was assisted by Misses Pasco, Eller, Frances and Mariel Gere, Elliott, Cropsy, Grace and Anna Broady, Maine, Roberts, Winger, Jury, Griggs, Ricketts, Whiting and Lindly.

Miss Josephine Lottridge, assisted by Miss Jennie Watson, entertained charmingly at Miss Lottridge's home, 1218 F street.

Friends of Misses Cochrane, Watkins and Smith who venture out making New Years calls, were delightfully rewarded for their efforts by the young ladies at the home of Miss Cochrane, 1141 D street.