Mattson Baldwin entertained a company of friends on the afternoon and evening of the Fourth at Meadow Brook farm, south of the city. This beautiful farm was doubly attractive on this festive occasion. The club house which Mr. Baldwin is erecting is not completed but it was utilized by the guests. There were hammocks and a grateful shade and a merry company. A bountiful supper was served, and in the evening there was a display of fireworks. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames S. E. Moore, N. C. Brock, F. W. Baldwin, George J. Woods, W. D. Robinson, Mrs. Etta Brook, Messrs. Frank C. Zehrunge, W. F. Meyer, Roy Chapman, James and Ernest Smyser, C. P. A. Early Thursday morning a party left for South Bend to spend the Fourth, returning early in the evening. South Bend is a charming place to picnic, and the day was much enjoyed.
