

SOCIAL GOSSIP

Last week Lincoln society was enlivened by a visit from Mr. Nat Mansfield of Peoria, Illinois. He was accompanied by his friend, Mr. Chambers, of the same place. They visited Mr. Mansfield's sister, Mrs. Mosher. But the young men received so many invitations to dine, to dance, to take high tea and to play cards that they were seldom "at home." Mr. Mansfield's manner is as gay as Donatello's was before he pushed Miriam's spectre over the precipice. A real, unforced gayety of spirit is a rare accident. Lincoln people showed Mr. Mansfield sunshine was welcome.

Some of the members of last winter's German club will give a cotillon next Monday evening at the home of Mr. J. A. Buckstaff. These parties last winter were delightful. The Courier hopes to have the pleasure of recording many of them this winter.

"The king of France, with twenty thousand men, marched up the hill and then marched down again."

Every Saturday morning two young professors in the scientific department studied and taught. One of the most interesting departments is the current events department under the control of Mrs. A. J. Sawyer. This branch of the club meets every Saturday afternoon in the Capitol. Here an imaginary map of the whole world is spread out, and items of interest from every country in the world are discussed.

On Monday afternoon of this week the regular fortnightly meeting of the main club took place in the hall of the Nebraska conservatory of music. The attendance was very large and the meeting was one of great interest. It is said by some critics that the new woman is not domestic, but if some of those critics could attend a domestic economy meeting of the club they would be ready to change their minds. Mrs. M. H. Everett, who is the leader of the department of domestic economy, had the meeting in charge and was responsible for the program. After a short business meeting the regular program was begun with a piano solo by Miss Maude Hammond. She played most pleasingly "Kammenol Ostrow" by Rubinstein. Following this came the first paper, "Housekeeping in the Twentieth Century," presented by Mrs. Baldwin-Parsons. The paper was well written and had many points of interest in it. Mr. Albers sang a solo by Carl Ebers, enti-

of the state university go hunting. They look very picturesque in their correct hunting suits; duck coats, long boots, natty caps, everything fit to kill. What do they get? Well, they always get back.

The chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon gave a pleasant party in their rooms on N street last night. The members of this chapter are Ernest Haughton, Clarence Tefft, Leslie Martin, Clarence Marine, Edgar Morrill, Sydney White, George Bartlett, Harry Minor, Hugh Edmiston, Wm. R. Dunroy, Harley Thorpe, Everett Sawyer, Roy Sawyer, John Farwell, Stafford Hewitt.

The Woman's club is one of the most vigorous clubs in the city, and it is without doubt the most democratic. There is little or no discrimination in membership. All women are invited to belong to it, that is, all women who are interested in such things. The club is far reaching in its scope. The different departments afford much instruction and entertainment to women. Art, literature and domestic economy and many other things are talked about, tled "Lo the Storm Wind," and then followed a delightful paper by Mrs. Morning. This paper was entitled "Is What They Say True?" "Houses and Housekeeping in Holland" was the title of a selection given by Mrs. Everett to close the program.

The art department will meet on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the new art studio of the state university. Mrs. B. F. Bailey is the leader of this department and the meeting will be of more than usual interest because of the fact that Miss Cora Parker, the instructor in art of the university, will give a conversation on the various schools of art. The new studio will make a pleasant place for this department to meet, with the many fine paintings possessed by Miss Parker on the walls.

One woman, prominent in club circles, said the other day: "I believe the ideal club is the one in which our husbands are received as members. I think that it is the tendency of the clubs to go in that direction, and it will be better for them. As soon as the men begin to see that the women are in earnest in this matter, and that it is not sim-

Aside from these departments, the editorial and contributed features of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS are themselves equal in extent to a magazine. The Editor's "Progress of the World" is an invaluable chronicle of the happenings of the thirty days just past, with pictures on every page of the men and women who have made the history of the month.

The Literary World says: "We are deeply impressed from month to month with the value of the 'REVIEW OF REVIEWS,' which is a sort of Eiffel Tower for the survey of the whole field of periodical literature. And yet it has a mind and voice of its own, and speaks out with decision and sense on all public topics of the hour. It is a singular combination of the monthly magazine and the daily newspaper. It is daily in its freshness; it is monthly in its method. It is the world under a field glass."
