

SOCIAL AND PERSONALS

THE BELATED BUT SUCCESSFUL HALLOWEEN MASQUE.

Miss Alice Slaughter's and Miss Florence Farwell's Halloween party, which was postponed until last Saturday evening, was a great success. As requested, the guests came in "any old thing." Only a few couples failed to mask. Joe Mason, Ernest Haughton, W. E. Clark and L. W. Marshall, gowned as ladies, were completely disguised. The Dutch band created a sensation by its make-up and music. The costumes of the Murilla family were startling in color and style, and caused unlimited amusement. Menu cards printed on the back of red wall paper, and tied into a roll with red ribbon, were given each guest. Like the invitations, they were cleverly worded in Bowery venacular. A delicious Dutch lunch followed.

The band composed of "fat boys" was decidedly the hit of the evening. The make-up of their faces was beyond description. Mr. Morrison's Dutch face smacked of the bog, with its frame of red hair and whiskers. The uniforms were red jackets with gold braid, black trousers and tiny silk hats on one side of their heads. R. B. Howell, as drum major, wore a white fur hat and carried a baton. R. M. Joyce was the accomplished cornetist.

W. B. Morrison played the trombone with skill; John Farwell was an artist on the snare drum; Mr. Valentine gracefully played the bass drum with a spoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Murilla were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Smith. Mr. Murilla had a good make-up as a typical banana vender. Mrs. Smith wore a Dolly Varden dress. Her head was tied up in a green and red scarf; a battered white straw hat, a pair of white woollen stockings and a pair of Mr. Murilla's shoes completed her toilette. She was a sight.

C. Y. Smith claimed to be the wife of Louis XIV. He wore a peacock blue satin gown, en traine, which had seen better days. Long grey tresses fell from beneath his grandmother's hat.

L. W. Marshall was disguised as a lady in his mother-in-law's bath robe.

Mr. Manley—A black domino.

Mattson Baldwin—Mr. Pumpnickel, a German swell, dressed in loud plaid.

Elmer Merrill—Beau Brummel.

Roy Sawyer—Black domino.

Edgar Morrill—Bushwhacker.

George Bartlett—Bushwhacker.

Arthur Walsh—Bowery dude, in a large checked suit.

Hattie Cady—Little school maiden, with poke bonnet and slate.

Sidney Conley—Black domino.

Clara Watkins—Black domino.

Dora Harley—Black domino.

Miss Henrietta Hollowbush wore a stunning black Empire gown and Napoleonic hat with diamond ornaments; powdered hair.

Miss M. Olive Latta—A black and yellow domino.

Miss Alice Cowdery made a pretty flower girl.

Miss Marie Marshall wore a black domino on which were worked white dominoes.

Miss Grace Oakley made an excellent Charlie Knickerbocker in the conventional dress suit, coat, vest, white shirt and silk hat. She wore a blonde wig, white gloves and carried a stick.

Two pretty gypsy maidens were Miss Jessica Morgan and Mrs. L. W. Marshall.

Miss Fannie Rector—Little house maid with a feather duster and sad faced mask.

Miss Helen Nance—A dainty mountain maid. Miss Mount of Omaha—A pretty Indian maiden.

Joe Mason won glory as a summer girl dressed in a light blue shirt waist, black skirt and jacket. The brown coils of hair furnished a complete disguise. He was frequently mistaken for Miss Marshall.

Ernest Haughton, a vivacious twentieth century girl, was gowned in a tan jacket, bright plaid blouse, black brocade satin skirt; a large hat was perched on one side of his blonde curly hair; no diamonds.

Will E. Clark was charming in a brown Persian silk gown, partially covered by a green and black domino. His hair was powdered. Nit flower.

Nellie Lau—Trilby.

Miss Eulass, Lebanon, Ind.—Flower girl.

Mabel Richards—Domino.

Helen Welch—Domino.

Blanche Garten—Domino.

Blossom Williamson—Summer girl.

Daisy Cochrane—Domino.

A. Hutchinson—Domino.

James Burks—Domino.

Dave Burks—Domino.

The unmasked guests were Misses Alexander of Omaha, Kissam of New York, Sadie Burnham, Maude Oakley; Messrs. E. J. Fairfield, Burt Wheeler, Wing Allen of Omaha and Homer Honeywell.

MENU.

Eat all you can get.
Get all you can.

Wiener wurst a la Hades.
Boston Baked Beans.
(More down cellar in a tea cup.)

Baked potatoes with nightmare sauce.

Hot brown bread.
(Just a mistake, or ter be white.)

Nit Not Louie Limburger.

Interrupted cucumbers.

Salted plums. Breath killers.

Cafe Noir—(Just kick if you would rather have tea.)

Great Sahara Desert.
Doughnuts a la Grease.
A cooling drink (warranted not to intoxicate.)

Taffy a la Stickum.
Boiled sugar studded with tacks.

FINI.

Halloween, 1896.
Alice Slaughter. Florence Farwell.

Miss Slaughter and Miss Farwell displayed unusual ability in preparing all sorts of novel amusements. Partners for a game of hearts were chosen by candies, and the scores were kept by pins stuck in potatoes. The costumes were deserving of more praise than we have space to give them.

Try Lincoln Coal Co.'s Rio Grande.

Miss Grace Oakley, Miss Cady of Omaha, Mr. H. Lansing and Mr. Valentine, occupied a box at the Lansing on Monday evening at the "In Mizzoura" performance.

TO MAKE YOUR WIFE LOVE YOU

Use "Garland" Stoves and Ranges. For sale by Rudge & Morris.

The chrysanthemums that Miller & Paine are giving away this week are beauties. The ladies come from their store as from a fashionable reception, each one with a chrysanthemum. The inside of the store is brilliant with the chrysanthemum colors in silks and wools.

The second floor of the Harris block, 1134 N street, has been fitted up for a dancing hall. The floor has received the attention of experts. It is of hard wood, and the boards are laid parallel with the length of the hall. Parties desiring to rent it can do so at the Courier office, in the same block.

Councilman W. A. Woodward is off on a business trip to Red Oak, Iowa. He will return in time to occupy his chair in the council chamber next Monday night.

Mayor Graham has received a personal letter from President-Elect Wm. McKinley, heartily thanking him and City Attorney Abbott for their earnest efforts in his behalf.

This year's Lehigh Valley and Scranton hard coal $9.50 per ton at Charles Gregory's, 11th and O.

Mrs. C. S. Lippincott delightfully entertained the Mandolin club Monday evening at her home, Eighteenth and C streets. Messrs. and Meedames F. W. Smith, L. W. Marshall, Misses Laura Houtz, Maud Oakley, Jessica Morgan, Florence Farwell, Henrietta Hollowbush, Julia Lippincott and Miss Mount of Omaha. Messrs. C. Y. Smith, Homer Honeywell, F. C. Cooley, Fred White, E. Fairfield.

Mrs. J. C. Bell, 1414 O street, hair goods, cosmetics, embroidery silks, the atrical and masquerade wigs, whiskers and mustaches for rent. Use Toujour's Jeune face toilet.

Miss Lila Alexander of Omaha, and Miss Kissam of New York attended the Flower Mission ball. They are the guests of Miss Sadie Burnham.

Arthur P. Guieu came down from Omaha last Friday evening to attend the Flower Mission ball.

Sutton & Hollowbush have invented a cough drop. They call it the S. & H. Sutton & Hollowbush, and it is a good one. Stop and get one on your way to the theatre. It will save you a spasm of coughing.

Wanted—Couriers of October 31. Leave at Courier office, 1134 N street, and receive payment.

Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock a merry party left the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Marshall in a carryall for Baldwin's Meadow Brook Lodge. Arriving at the farm an oyster supper was served by the young ladies. The frosty air seemed to make this thoroughly congenial crowd all the more lively. The party was given for the visiting ladies, the Misses Hattie Cady, Mae Mount of Omaha, Miss Gertrude Burt of Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Eulass of Lebanon, Ind. The other guests were the Misses Lucy Griffith, Grace Oakley, Florence Farwell, Helen Nance, Bertie Clark, M. Olive Latta and Kathryn Brooks; Messrs. Harry Reese, Homer Honeywell, Mattson Baldwin, Will E. Clark, Ray Welch, C. Y. Smith, Roy Chapman, Harry Lansing, Fred White, John Farwell, Harry Evans, Ernest Haughton and Mr. Vanatta of New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. George Woods.

Miss Anna Dick, modiste, has moved her rooms to 1318 O street.

Mrs. Robinson of Chicago is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. John B. Wright. Mrs. Robinson has a host of friends in Lincoln who welcome her visits with delight.

Miss Sadie Burnham spent a day in Omaha this week.

Mrs. Wade of Omaha is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. W. Brown.

Miss Charlotte Clark is giving music lessons. Any who wish to inquire into her terms can see Miss Clark at the university or at her home on O and Thirty third streets.

MEEDS-GRAHAM.

At 12 o'clock, Tuesday, November 10, at the residence of the bride's parents, 1346 L street, was celebrated the marriage of Manfred F. Meeds and Miss Sadie, the second daughter of ex-Mayor and Mrs. R. B. Graham. The ceremony was quiet and very impressive. It was performed by the Rev. F. O. Rowlands, in the presence of a few of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties. The home of the bride's parents was handsomely decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. When the bride and groom entered to the music of the Mendelssohn wedding march, Miss Marie Hoover presiding at the piano, there were many exclamations of admiration as the beautiful bride and the groom turned toward the company with a look of intense happiness upon their faces. The bride was attired in a handsome travelling gown of imported blue cloth, trimmed with mink, with hat to match. After the ceremony and congratulations a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Meeds left at 1:10 for the south, and will visit St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans before returning to their future home in Chicago, where Mr. Meeds has his headquarters as western representative of D. B. Fisk & Co. They were the recipients of many beautiful presents as tokens of esteem. At the depot the trunks of the newly wedded pair were elaborately decorated with ribbons and shoes. The interior of the Pullman was showered with rice, notifying the passengers therein of the presence of a bride and groom among them.

Miss Maud Oakley charmingly entertained at high five Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Mount and Miss Cady of Omaha. There were six tables, and the prizes, two beautiful bunches of chrysanthemums, were won by Miss Lucy Griffith and Miss Mount. The following ladies were invited: Misses Mae Mount and Cady of Omaha, Eulass of Lebanon, Ind., Gertrude Burt of Columbus, Ohio, Misses Bertie and Margaret Clark, Grace Oakley, Helen Nance, Lucy Griffith, Marie Marshall, Henrietta Hollowbush, M. Olive Latta, Kathryn Brooks, Fannie Rector, Marie Hoover, Helen Hooper, Sadie Burnham, Furnas; Mrs. J. B. Wright, W. C. Wilson, F. W. Brown, L. W. Marshall, Mrs. Robinson of Chicago and Mrs. Wade of Omaha.

Mr. Homer Honeywell entertained the Olympic Whist club Friday evening at his home, Washington and Twenty-Second streets.

If you buy a PIANO——From the—
MATTHEWS PIANO CO.
You are sure that it will be worth all you pay for it.
We handle the
SHAW, WEGMAN, JEWETT, SINGER, PIANOS.
WAREHOUSES—130 South 13th.

FIRING CHINA.