Tonight "Human Hearts" at the Lansing for one night only. This story of the Arkansas hills is a beautiful and pathetic character touch that makes the people of that region neither southern nor western but both and something else beside, which is Arkansan.

None can afford to miss seeing the wonderful Vivrescope, which will be introduced by Eunice Goodrich and her own New York company, at the Funke one night, Friday, Jan. 22nd. The New York World gives the following description of this Nineteenth century marvel:

"The Vivrescope works in the same way as the Vitascope and the Eldoscope, but the pictures are clearer and

There are some plays entitled to praise, when they are considered from any standpoint, whether it be moral, satirical, humorous, philosophical or artistic. Such a play is the "New Dominion," which will be presented at the Funke on Monday night.

The "New Dominion"—which by the way, was given twice in this city—introduce one to life on the James river in Virginia. The very soul of romance seems to exist in the south. Its warm, perfume laden breezes, its romantic scenery, its beautiful women, and its legends conspire to charm the every sense.

The play is a love story, simply, sweetly, attractively told, with many beauties of language, graced by a true poetic spirit and genuine sentiment abounding there is less vibration, so that the pictures are not so trying to the eyes as those produced by other machines.

"The first view was "A Dip in the Sea" and showed several little boys running along a plank on stilts, and diving into the waves, which dashed upon the shore in the most natural manner. The second picture showed a lawn with a gardener using a hose to sprinkle it. A bad boy steps on the hose, causing the water to squirt into the gardener's face. He drops the hose, runs after the boy, and gives him a sound thrashing.

"A street scene in London was very realistic, and "The Charge of the Seventh French Cuirassiers" was very inspiring.

"The best picture was "The Arrival of the Mail Train." The train came into the station, passengers alighted, met their friends and walked about, and all the bustle incident to affairs of this kind was shown to perfection.

"Other pictures were 'Washing Day in Switzerland,' 'Parade of the Ninety-sixth French Infantry,' 'A Friendly Bout,' 'Hyde Park,' 'London,' and 'The Cascade.'

Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents. Remember one night only.

in delightful humor that sometimes verges closely upon pathos. The scenes are laid in Virginia in the year 1873.
