Social and Personal

Rev. L. G. Shaw and wife started Monday for Battle Creek, Mich. In a short time they will go on to New York to ship for England and will go from there to Cape Town, Cape of Good Hope. From there a considerable journey still awaits them in going to Matabeland, where they will labor as missionaries for the Seventh Day Adventist faith. It will be remembered that the couple was selected at the world conference for this far off station.

G. M. Lamberton, Dr. O. Lamberton and J. K. Honeywell have returned from their trip to Deuel county after water fowl. They report killing about forty ducks, several of them canvas backs.

A hunting party left Lincoln on Monday for a ten days' outing in the lake region twenty-five miles south of Alliance. The party comprised John T. Dorgan, Brad Slaughter, J. H. Humpe, J. H. Ager, Charles E. Waite, E. J. Burkett, Paul F. Clark, Frank D. Barney and F. O. Barney. O. Grothman of St. Paul joined the party at Grand Island.

H. Wiggenjost, who was rejoicing the other day over the birth of a son is now mourning the death of the little one. The boy died without any apparent illness on Saturday night.

Sheriff John Trompen entertained a party of ministers and elders of the Reform church from the southern part of the county at dinner on Monday. They were on their way to Orange City to attend church conference. The party was composed of Rev. A. M. VanDuyn, Holland; Rev. H. Stegman, Pella; Elders H. J. Teselle, Firth; H. Venderbeck, and H. Heslink, Pella, and Boeve of Kansas.

The committee appointed by the president-general of the national society of the Sons of the American Revolution, to whom were referred the various essays of the colleges throughout the country for competition for the gold medal, have selected the essay presented by R. S. Baker of the university of Nebraska as entitled to the gold medal. The medal will be engraved by Tiffany & Co. and forwarded to Mr. Baker within a short time.

The J. O. C. club held its regular meeting at the home of Miss Jennie Slade Friday evening. The house was prettily decorated and the dining room was prepared for dancing. This form of amusement was enjoyed by most of the young people although a few found their pleasure in social conversation. Refreshments were served. The visitors were Miss Carlin Ruby of Seward and R. S. Wells. Nearly all the members were present to enjoy the festivities.

The Senior Public of the Lincoln High School will be given this evening at Y. M. C. A. hall.

Mrs. W. J. Marshall is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Everett.

The return party given by the B. O. Y. S. of the Lincoln High School for the G. J. R. L. S. last Friday, 9th at Courier hall was a brilliant success. Handsome youths and pretty buds in dainty gowns danced to the music of Miss Willoughby's orchestra. Mr. Fred Hallett took some flash-light pictures during the intervals. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Johnson. Those present were: Messrs. Boggs, Fralick, Gingery, Schuyler, Sherman, Dorsey, Green, Rhaender, Hunter, Joers, Van Eulin, Lovell, King, Chambers, Abbott, Holmes, Herman, Hallett, Garouste, Corclat, Elliot, Hyatt, Yater, Beckman, Hill,

Miss Maud Oakley spent Sunday in Omaha with Mrs. Dan Wheeler.

Harry Lansing came home Wednesday from his vitascope expedition. He reports a pleasant and profitable time on the road.

The Southside circle of the Methodist church met with Mrs. C. O. Whedon on Thursday afternoon. The handsome rooms were filled with members of the society and their guests who listened to a review of Luther's life and work by Dr. Peterson of the state university. Mrs. Lippincott sang two numbers melodiously. Mr. Scott of Nebraska conservatory played a selection on the mandolin, after which Miss Harris spoke for a few moments on bird slaughter and offered a total abstinence pledge to those present which many signed.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop Taylor of the Colorado Agricultural school, a son, March 13, 1897. Mr. Taylor will be remembered as Mrs. John L. McConnell's nephew. He spent much of his youth in Lincoln and during that time made many friends who will be glad to hear of his good fortune.

Prof. Fred M. Fling and wife left on Monday for a four months' trip through France. They are to sail April 21 from New York for Antwerp on the Kensington. They will go directly to Paris, remaining there a few days. From there they will make a circular tour embracing all the cities where Mirabeau was a resident or prisoner and examining all documents referring in any way to him. Professor Fling has been studying the great orator and leader for many years and is already the author of a monograph concerning him. He is now collecting material for an elaborate life of the revolutionist and this tour is to draw all possible information from original sources. Among the more prominent points visited will be Orleans, Tours, Poitiers, Bordeaux, Marseilles, Toulouse, Avignon, Nimes, Arles, Dijon. Return will be made to Paris, where further work will be done in the French national archives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fling expect to sail for home August 28.

During the absence of the professor, for the remainder of this semester, Miss Tremain will be acting head of the department of European history.
