The following from the World-Herald looks as if Omaha people appreciated spaurt anyway.

"One-off-two," "one-off-three," "two, more," "three-more," "dormy," "fore," "dead," "stymie," "swipe," and "scaff" will soon be familiar terms to the Omaha society folks who go to Happy Hollow to play golf on one of the courses upon Mr. Patrick's wide domains. For Happy Hollow will become as famous in the future for its golf course as it has been in the past for its generous hospitality.

A nine-hole course nearly four miles long is in fairly good shape, with the exception of the putting greens, and they are, of course, very rough, but will be sodded to the extent of sixty feet square. Mr. Patrick has given golfers the use of a number of rooms in his esst house for club rooms, and any golf player is extended the use of the course during the days of the week not taken by the Golf club. The club will be limited to twenty members, and another week will probably witness its complete organization.

Society women have also taken up the game, and a short course will be laid out during the week for the Woman's club. It is expected that here the wives and sisters of the sterner club will put themselves in training preparatory to a challenge—next season, perhaps—for longer driving with the men. Both clubs are as yet far from completion in numbers, and rules and regulations are not yet laid down. Mr. Alex H. Findley, who has played the game in Scotland, and is a medal man, has kindly volunteered to teach the game, and in conversation recently explained its object to be to put a small gutta percha ball into a series of holes in the least number of strokes. The ball is about two inches in diameter, the golf hole four and one quarter inches in diameter and at least four inches deep. The player must remember to take the flag out when putting in and replace it when through, returning to the "teeing" ground, or place where the balls are spotted for the next hole. Every fair player ought at least to drive the first shot from off the "tee" a distance of 175 to 200 yards. The game is fascinating and brings in play the brain, the arms, legs and nearly every muscle in the body. Golf only needs a good start, and many fine players will visit Omaha for the pleasure of a trip around a strange course. In regard to dress, the bicycle suit for both men and women is appropriate, with the exception that shoes must be spiked. It is expected that in June, July and August many good matches will be played off, with a monthly competition for men and women, and in the month of August a championship of the state, which will be an annual event.

Mrs. Cunningham gave a surprise party for her daughter, Miss Frances, Thursday evening.

Miss Ura Kelley comes today to visit Mrs. J. J. Kelley. She will remain for the Sewell-Silver wedding.

Mr. Fred Smyser is in Minneapolis, Minn.

Kappa Kappa Gamma gave a theatre party at the Uni. Glee club Wednesday evening.

Miss Alice Slaughter and Miss Florence Farwell write of delightful times they are having. Miss Slaughter is in Chicago and Miss Farwell is visiting in Denver.

Mr. Owen Oakley registered today at Anapolis, Md., for his examination which will take place Monday and Tuesday. His Lincoln friends wish him the best of success.

A party of Pleasant Hour people will attend the Zehring benefit on Saturday night out of compliment to Mr. Zehring whose long support of and services to the club they appreciate. The Courier hopes Mr. Zehring will draw a full house. His successful and untiring services in the cause of amusements deserve some recognition. The audience ought to demand a speech.

There is a mild musical insurrection at the university. The cadet band gives it out that they will play for no more university affairs unless their fellow-member, Mr. Thompson, is reinstated. Thompson was let out Monday night by Captain Guilfoyle because he circulated a paper last Saturday agreeing not to play for the girls' gymnasium exhibition unless band members were allowed to take in other boys on their tickets, which read "self and lady." The faculty is being worked to reinstate Thompson. The space in the armory is limited and will scarcely accommodate the immense classes which give the exhibition. It is to be hoped that the mild discipline of "Thompson," who endeavored by a petition to reverse the decision of the authorities, will be upheld by the faculty. After a few "Thompsons" have in dudgdon left the university, the spirit of anarchy and rule or ruin which controls a few of the young men who think they confer a benefit on the state by accepting a free education from it, may be changed. And in time they may even realize which one is receiving the benefit. But they need a firm hand at the present time. The university exhibitions could even dispense with the music of "Thompson" and his brassy friends who can only politely be said to make indispensable melody.

The sixth annual gymnasium exhibition given by the young women of the state university on last Saturday night in the armory took place before the usual large audience, despite the storm. The precision and time of all the numbers reflected much credit upon the instructors and accompanist.

After music by the University Cadet band the young women of one of the advanced classes led by Miss Elliott went through the more difficult and bewildering swings with the Indian clubs, the alternating lines with the different movements making the drill one of the prettiest given.

Following close after this a large class composed of first year students wearing dainty pink ties gave a long and difficult drill with dumb bells.

After a very pretty bar bell drill by another class of first year students wearing blue ties, bedlam was let loose and the apparatus work followed. The leaders on the different apparatus were Misses Ida Lewis, Winifred Hyde, Bertha Dufeil, Jessie Chappell, Alberta Spurck, Laura Stratton, Mamie Miller, Minnie Smith, Grace Wheeler and Jennie Pentzer.

Noticeable was the excellent work done by Miss Hyde and Miss Spurck on the traveling rings, the graceful ladder climbing by Misses Smith and Wheeler and the rope climbing by Jennie Pentzer.

Some very difficult feats were accomplished on the parallel bars and on the horse and a score of 5 feet 4 inches was made in the jumping by Misses Cook and Chappell.

After this came a mixed class giving a drill with hand balls and then another composed of the smaller girls giving a very graceful drill in fancy steps.

Everyone grew very much excited over the bag passing contest of the first year classes which resulted in a victory for the morning class.

After a well executed mass drill a short basket ball game was given.

The game was played by the two picked teams from the morning and afternoon advanced classes.

The game, now grown so popular all over the United States, excited much interest and was very well played. Every time a goal was made the "rooters" for the lucky side rended the air with shouts. It was perhaps unfair but the "Whites" had a big horn in the band on their side and the noise it made whenever Miss Welch threw a goal was frightful.

The playing of Miss Welch as forward and Miss Cooke as center are especially to be commended on the sides of the Whites while Miss Chappell's guard and Miss Tynan's center on the Reds were particularly well played. Indeed, each member of the two teams played well and it would be hard to name all the good points made.

It was due to the better "team" playing of the Whites and Miss Welch's goal throwing that the score resulted in 8 to 4 in favor of the Whites. The positions were:

Whites.	* Reds.

Miss Bunting } { Miss Erisman

They are seeking to secure the appointment of a woman as one of the exposition state commissioners. This question was brought up when the board met for organization, and the sentiment of the members was unanimous that, especially as the important bureau of education had been put in charge of the women, one of the commissioners should be a woman. It was at this meeting that the president and secretary were instructed to solicit this favor from the governor. It is not understood that they are urging the qualifications of any applicant, and several have applied for the position.
