After the wedding they will go to Europe, where many friendly wishes will follow them. When couples go to Europe as rapidly as they have of late, hard times stories lack the fashionable basis of realism.

UNIVERSITY NEWS.

Everybody is busy getting ready for examination. Many students expect to go home next Saturday and are making all kinds of arrangements to get through with "exams" before that time.

The Y. W. C. A., under the direction of Mrs. Manning, gave an entertainment Thursday evening in the chapel. The stage was beautifully decorated with greenery and draping. The program was varied and unusually interesting, the music being a pleasant feature. The leading features of the evening were the pantomime, "Nearer My God to Thee," rendered by the Misses Mary Davis, Ella Raymond, Pyrie, Broady, Mary Wallace, Carrie Day, and Hart and the farce, "Six Cups of Chocolate," by the Misses Anderson, Griggs, Stuart, Auman, Spurek and Shively.

Companies A, C, and D held their competitive drills Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

The P. B. D. C.'s held their return debate with the Philomathian society of Denver last Saturday evening. A large crowd greeted them. The debate was enjoyed very much by the delegation which went down from the university. Daniel M. Garber of the university presided and Fairchilds of Crete acted as secretary. The question as stated was: "Resolved, That the laboring men have been benefitted by organized strikes." Doane took the negative and the P. B. D. C.'s the affirmative. The representatives of P. B. D. C. were, Messrs. W. O. Ayer, A. E. Henry and W. C. Green; of Philomathian society, Messrs. Brown, Taylor and Harms. The delegation was entertained over night in Crete.

Prof. Fossler gave the last of a series of chapel addresses Thursday morning on Ibsen. The stage was artistically decorated with palms, etc. The picture of Ibsen hung at the back. Prof. Fossler was very heartily received by the students and listened to with rapt attention. His address was a discussion of the man and his views of life, as presented in his books.

Chancellor MacLean went to Wakefield Friday to speak before the press association of that place. He goes to Harvard Sunday to deliver the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the high school at that place.

Dr. Ward delivered an address before the graduating class at Sterling Wednesday night.

Mr. Baker of the Newspaper Union delivered a very interesting address before the members of the journalism class Thursday morning.

Dr. Bessey returned from St. Louis Monday, where he attended the banquet tendered by the business men's association of that city in memory of Mr. Shaw, founder of the botanical gardens. The prominent men present were, President Canfield, formerly of Lincoln; Dr. Britton of Columbia university; Prof. Ramsey Wright of Toronto; Prof. John Macoun of Montreal; Dr. Allen of New York city, and Dr. Bessey. After dinner speeches were made by President Canfield, Prof. Ramsey Wright, Dr. Bessey and Dr. Britton.

THE THEATRE,

There should be great interest felt by our theatre goers in the presentation at the Lansing on Monday, May 24, for the closing night of the present season of the romantic drama "For Fair Virginia," in which Mr. and Mrs. Whytal have already appeared over 450 times. Of the recent successes made by American playwrights none has been more marked and universal than that achieved by Mr. Russ Whytal in his romantic drama "For Fair Virginia." Originally produced more than a year ago at the Fifth Avenue theatre, New York. Its merits won instant recognition, and this has been confirmed during nearly 450 repetitions. It is in this play that the author and his charming wife, formerly Marie Knowles, will appear at the Lansing theatre on Monday evening, May 24th. The story of the play deals with two love stories that are carried on against the gloomy but exciting background of the civil war. There is an abundance of novel and bright comedy, and it is in the lighter character that Mrs. Whytal appears. The emotional work is in the hands of well tried and approved players, including Mabel Bert, Frank Doane, George F. Farren, John Woodard and that remarkably interesting child actress, Lottie Briscoe. A magnificent scenic production is carried.

This attraction will close the regular season of the Lansing theatre. Prices $1.00, 75c, 50c and 25c. Seats on sale Friday morning, May 21st, at 10 sharp.

EAST LINCOLN ITEMS.

One of the prettiest of May festivals was given last Friday evening by the junior endeavor society of Vine Street Congregational church. The front of the church was transformed into fairy land and the sight presented by the beautiful little fairy queen and her fairy-like train will long be remembered by those present. The May queen with her flowery train was also present and added much to the beauty and pleasure of the evening. At the conclusion of the entertainment the May-pole was wound. A free-will offering of about five dollars was added to the society's treasury.

A merry crowd of young folks participated in a surprise on Miss Porter Tuesday evening at her home near Union College. The young people were in excellent spirits, the roads were fine and the moonlight was out of sight, until a late hour. The crowd left home early in the evening, but one company lost their road in a very mysterious manner and after much worry and speculation were found in a hollow falling stories. The carriage was rather over-loaded and much relief was felt when they were found in good condition. Old fashioned games, jokes and the like helped to pass a very delightful evening.

The self-government league of Clinton school gave their closing program in the principal's room last week. The room was gayly decorated with a large number of flags, recently purchased by the school, and a nicer collection of pictures could rarely be found on the walls of any school room. The program was interesting and this, together with the general atmosphere throughout the building cast much deserved credit upon the principal. A large number of patrons and visitors went home feeling that they had spent a very instructive and pleasant afternoon.

The church parlors of Grace M. E. church was the scene of a happy gathering Wednesday afternoon, when the ladies of the church met by invitation of the aid societies to enjoy a Kensington. The afternoon passed away in social converse and fancy work. Later in the afternoon their husbands appeared on the scene and all indulged in a pleasant tea party. B. C. D.
