

special course in Chicago university and is head of the department of literature in the Lincoln high school.

The year book of the Round Table club at Crete has come to hand. It is a dainty little booklet with an olive green cover. The year's program is outlined, and a pretty quotation from either Longfellow or Ruskin heads each program. This club will study the poetical works of Longfellow and the writings of John Ruskin. Economics will also have the attention of the club a part of the year. Poverty, its causes and cure, will be a subject that will take a large amount of hard study. Parliamentary drill will be sandwiched in between the other studies. This club is small and holds its meetings at the homes of the members. The officers for the year are: President, Mrs. C. W. Doane; vice-president, Mrs. I. M. Wolf; secretary, Mrs. Lu Norris; treasurer, Mrs. D. B. Perry; program committee, Mrs. J. W. Dawes, Mrs. J. L. Tidball and Mrs. L. J. Cooper.

The list of members is appended: Mesdames S. L. Andrews, H. Bates, J. L. Cooper, J. W. Dawes, C. W. Doane, W. F. Eyster, A. B. Fairchild, F. I. Foss, Mary Fuller, H. S. Fuller, W. H. Morris, Lu Norris, D. B. Perry, J. C. Snively, J. L. Tidball and I. M. Wolf.

A sample program follows: October Fifteenth meet with Mrs. Cooper.

"God sent his singers upon the earth With songs of sadness and of mirth, That they might touch the hearts of men

And bring them back to heaven again." —Longfellow.

Report, State Federation—Mrs. Tidball.

Paper, "Intemperance," followed by discussion—Mrs. Dawes.

Paper, "Longfellow in Social Life,"—Mrs. Tidball.

Paper, "Longfellow's Americanism,"—Mrs. H. S. Fuller.

The Zetetic club at Weeping Water has issued its year book. It is a pretty little brochure, bound in corn color, the club's insignia tied with a white silk cord. Between the covers of the book is found a program that would tempt the most studious. The studies are about Germany, that land of romance and ruins. Delightful excursions into the literature of that country, descriptive papers in regard to the country fatherland and many other interesting topics make the program one of interest. The latter part of the year will be devoted to the literature of other lands. American literature comes in for its share of study. Current topics and child study are also noted among the programs. Several social meetings are to be held, one being the open house to be held at the home of the president January 1. and another, a children's lawn party, to be held some time during the year in charge of Mrs. Murtey. This club was organized in June, 1884, and is therefore one of the oldest clubs in the state. It is noted for its sociability and for the devotion of its members one to another. It is also noted for the good work done in its meetings in the way of bright and instructive papers.

The women who will officer it for the year are: President, Mrs. Ida P. Ingersoll; vice-president, Mrs. Carrie Race; secretary, Mrs. Nellie Sackett; treasurer, Mrs. Florence Teegarden. The executive committee comprises the following women: Mesdames Laura M. Woodford, Margaret Sackett and Lottie Hunge.

The New Book Review club of Lincoln has made plans for the year already. A called meeting of the club was held a week ago to discuss plans for the year. The first regular meeting of the year will be held with Mrs. Elias Baker, October 13.

The first program will be a review of James Lane Allen's "The Choir Invisible," by Miss Anna Holland. A biography of Mr. Allen will also be given.

This club has about fifteen members and meets each alternate Wednesday at the homes of the several members. The aim of the club is to keep abreast with new literature. Most of the members are young married people and the social side of the club is the most pleasant imaginable.

The officers for the year are: President, Mrs. Rudolph Rehlaender; vice-president, Mrs. Stephen Hoover; secretary, Mrs. Levi Munson.

CLUB NOTES.

The annual meeting of the city federation of Woman's Clubs will take place the third Thursday in November. The program which was to have been given at the postponed meeting last September will probably be given at this meeting. Mrs. Meissner, the president of the city federation, has removed to Iowa, and the vice-president, Mrs. Kelley, will take her place. The federation is composed of eighteen of the most vigorous clubs in the city, and it has been found to be of much benefit.

The York Town and Country Club will be watched with much interest by club women in this state. This seems to be a move in the right direction, as the women who live in the country have more need of club life and influence than do the women who live among town and city advantages.

The officers of the Lincoln Woman's Club for this year are: President, Mrs. A. A. Scott; first vice president, Miss Phoebe Elliott; second vice president, Mrs. M. A. Newmark; recording secretary, Mrs. H. J. Kelly, corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. W. Bartruff; treasurer, Mrs. O. M. Stonebraker.

The weather has been so hot that very few of the clubs have begun their winter work. There is at present a dearth of club news, but as soon as the cool fall weather comes on there will be much activity among the clubs.

The Midland Monthly is one of the publications that has paid especial attention to club work and club women. A department is conducted in that magazine each month devoted to clubs. Several state federations have received attention, among them Nebraska.

Mrs. Harriet MacMurphy conducted a very successful cooking school at the state fair this year. Mrs. MacMurphy is recognized as one of the best authorities in scientific cooking in Nebraska. She is prominent in club circles in Omaha, where she resides.

Mrs. Stoutenborough has been invited to speak before the Woman's Club at Indianapolis.

"A man often says: 'My business is different from any other kind; it's almost impossible to advertise my business.' That remark shows a misunderstanding of what advertising is. It is making a business known to those who ought to know it. This can be done with any business.
