

FITZGERALD DRY GOODS CO.

1023-1029 O St.

Lincoln, Nebr.

Mammoth Silk Sale Next Week!

THOSE WHO COME FIRST WILL BE FIRST SERVED WITH OUR GOODS,

Which are price wonders of this season and all seasons. On MONDAY MORNING we will place on sale 12,00 yards of fancy silks, all of this season's latest designs. These goods came from Arnold Constable & Co., of New York, the largest silk importers in the United States. These silks come to us guaranteed in every respect and we in turn guarantee them to you. In all the 1,200 yds. there is not one yard worth less than $1.25, and from that to $1.50, $2.00, and $2.50 a yard. We offer the entire lot at the marvelously low price of 75 Cents a Yard.

This is a remarkable assertion but we will stand by it. You can see that we have the interest of our patrons at heart in securing for them such a money saving opportunity. Actually such a sale may never again take place in Lincoln, therefore we would advise all to come and take advantage of this sale. These silks cannot last at 75 cents a yard so in order to secure anything it will be necessary to

COME EARLY.

75c per yd. 75c per yd.

Don't Miss This Opportunity!

This sale will begin next Monday morning, without fail. It will certainly be the wonder of all seasons, past, present and future. If you want silk, now is the time to get it.

FITZGERALD DRY GOODS COMPANY.

ALL KINDS! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! ALL KINDS!

ALL KINDS! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! SILK! ALL KINDS!

CLUBS.

ANNIE L. MILLER, EDITOR.

Officers of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs

- President, Mrs. B. M. Stoutenborough, Plattsmouth.
- Vice-president, Mrs. E. M. Cobb, York.
- Secretary, Mrs. Henrietta Smith, Omaha.
- Treasurer, Mrs. M. V. Nichols, Beatrice.
- Auditor, Mrs. Ella S. Larsh, Nebraska City.
- Librarian, Mrs. G. M. Lambertson, Lincoln.

Lincoln Clubs.

NAME OF CLUB.	PRESIDENT.	SECRETARY
Athena	Mrs. W. A. Green	Mrs. J. L. Kellogg
Book Review	Mrs. R. H. Rehlaender	Mrs. Etas Baker
Faculty	Mrs. Chas. E. Bessey	Mrs. T. M. Hodgman
Century	Mrs. Henry Hartley	Mrs. W. E. Kiker
Fortnightly	Mrs. W. J. Lamb	Mrs. A. W. Field
Hall in Grove	Mrs. M. H. Garten	Mrs. W. A. Liddy
Lotos	Mrs. J. L. McConnell	Mrs. Chas. E. Bessey
Matinee Musicale	Mrs. A. W. Jansen	Mrs. E. A. Campbell
Sorosis	Mrs. M. D. Welch	Mrs. Summers
Sorosis, Jr.	Mrs. Helwig	Miss Dena Loxmie
Wednesday Afternoon	The hostess acts as president.	Mrs. Weate
Woman's Club	Mrs. A. A. Scott	Mrs. H. W. Kelley
Y. W. C. A. Magazine Club	Miss Wald

OFFICERS OF THE CITY FEDERATION.

- President, Mrs. Ida Kelley, 833 North Twenty-third street.
- Vice president, Mrs. H. H. Wheeler, 1517 H street.
- Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Milton Scott, 221 South Twenty-seventh street.
- Recording secretary, Miss Wilde.

The letter of greeting from Mrs. J. A. Canfield to the Woman's Club, on the celebration of its third birthday, shows that it is still dear to her heart. She writes:

"When I read and hear of the great success of the Women's Club of Lincoln, I can not divest myself of the feeling that I am a part of that most ideal organization, and so I rejoice with you on the occasion of your anniversary and take equal pride with you in its growing prosperity. Miss Elliott, in her generous fashion, has many times referred in words of praise which are sweet to me, of the work I had the good fortune to do, with others, in founding the Woman's Club. Let me take this opportunity to say, in my opinion that work sinks into insignificance in comparison with the labor and thoughts expended by your first president during the two years of her administration.

The workmen who build a ship may fashion it well and make it staunch, but the captain who sails it on the seas has a task of far greater magnitude than the builders.

God has made many a good woman and put her to work for her kind in Lincoln, but he has made only one Phoebe Elliott. I am proud of the Lincoln Woman's Club. In all my varied experiences of club life I have never known of one founded on so broad a basis, and with such generous and altruistic ideas to guide and control its machinery. From afar I shall watch it with rather increasing than diminishing interest. When its numbers grow I shall rejoice. When I hear that it is standing in the community for Knowledge, Liberty and Truth, I shall know it is fulfilling its destiny. What better toast could I propose in closing than the simple though heartfelt words of Rip Van Winkle, "May you live long and prosper."

In a recent review of the life and character of a young lady who had been well known in club circles, her pastor spoke of her steadfastness of purpose, and said that she could be trusted to attend to anything that she had undertaken, from week to week and month to month, without further oversight "a most rare quality even among Christian people," added the speaker.