One of the most pleasant parties of the season was given at the Lincoln last night by the "Pershing Rifles" an organization of the university which ex-ces in both social and military affairs. The prize drills the company holds once every month show what they can do in a military way, and their success last night proved their ability to carry through their social functions with an equal degree of thoroughness. The committee, composed of Ernest Wiggernhorn as chairman, Chas. Weeks, Chas. True, Chas. Hendy and Mr. Noyes has reflected great credit upon itself. Every detail which could add to the enjoyment of the guests was provided. At 9 o'clock Miss Willoughby's orchestra called the guests into the large dining room to follow in the grand march which was led by Lieut. Pershing, the guest of honor, and for whom the company is named. Following him were Lieut. Stotzenberg, Chancellor and Mrs. MacLean, Prof. and Mrs. Richards, Prof. and Mrs. Barbour, Dr. and Mrs. Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woods. There were about seventy-five couples of university and town people who enjoyed themselves thoroughly until the last strains of "Home Sweet Home" had died away.

Wednesday evening, January 12th, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Stuff of the Emmanuel M. E. church united in marriage at the home of the bride in the Brownell block, Mr. J. R. Cattle and Miss Grace L. Moore. The pretty little bride looked very charming in a handsome costume of old rose daintily trimmed with plaited chiffon, and carrying bride's roses. After the ceremony, dainty refreshments were served the guests who were only relatives of the bride, including her aged grandmother. A number of beautiful and useful presents were presented. Mr. Cattle is a clerk at the B & M storehouse and both Mr. and Mrs. Cattle have many friends who wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity. Thursday at 10:40 a. m., Mr. and Mrs. Cattle left for Loupe City where they will visit Mr. Cattle's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryan returned last week from their trip to Mexico, where they were entertained by the generous and hospitable governors of the states and by the president of the Republic with a fine courtesy. The Mexicans are a people little understood by their northern neighbors on the same continent. They are a generous hospitable, hero worshipping, but withal laissez faire people. The exaggerated phrases of greeting that they use with their friends, such as "welcome to my house, it is yours" and their habit of apparently bestowing whatever a guest may admire upon him, is somewhat embarrassing to a foreigner, until he learns to look upon everything inside a man's house without saying anything about it however beautiful it may be. In the case of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan the Mexican desire to give them something was genuine rather than formal and conventional.
