The Patriarchs gave one of their prettiest parties on Monday evening in Thompson hall. In honor of the day the usual program was varied somewhat, and at seven-thirty an elaborate dinner was served. Every effort was made to make this a memorable event. The tables were exquisitely decorated with red tulips, carnations and candelabra, and delicate pieces of china and glass. Dancing began at ten, and the german was led by Dr. and Mrs. Ladd. The favors were hearts of different colors. The guests of the club were Mrs. Robinson of Chicago, Mrs. Turner of Muncie, Ind., Mrs. Dundy of Omaha, Miss Neil of Columbus, Ohio, Mr. Hillis clerk of the United States court, Omaha, Mr. Wilson of Denver, Mr. Davenport of Omaha, Mr. Pound. The Junior Promenade, which has been looked forward to with most pleasant anticipation for so long, came off last night at the Lincoln. Nor was the pleasure any less than was expected. The music was the best, the program was a good length and the floor in a fine condition. The satisfaction of the evening was added to by the many beautiful decorations. The parlors were done in pink, and were given a more home-like appearance by the many lamps and h were arranged so artistically. The ordinary was decorated in red, and strawberry ice was served there between dances. The south end of the dancing hall, where the orchestra was stationed, was decorated with the class colours, black and gold. The opposite end of the hall was covered with a large flag. The sides of the hall were decorated by the different fraternities. The Delta Gamma had streamers of their colours caught up with their monogram. The Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon Kappa Alpha Theta fraternities had their colours fastened with fraternity pins. The Delta Delta Delta and other fraternities had long streamers of their colours fastened in conspicuous places. Altogether this was one of the most successful promenades ever given. The committee, who did most efficient work, was composed of Roy Sawyer master of ceremonies; Messrs Whedon, Fechet, Brown, Shuff, O. Brown Boomer, Kind. Miss Helen Woods, chairman of decorating committee; Misses Stewart, Macfarland, Harley and Shanck.

The Lincoln parlors and dancing hall were filled on Monday evening by the guests of the Delta Gamma fraternity. It is very seldom that the rooms ever presented so beautiful and attractive an appearance. The tones were for the most part red. Both dancing hall and parlors were decorated lavishly with red hearts. The shades were red and the flowers were red. The ordinary was made to look cosy and restful by long couches covered with cushions. The table where red ices were served by Misses Mullen, Dennis and Rice was lighted with red candelabra and adorned with red carnations. The colors of the fraternity, blue, pink and bronze, were also much in evidence. Screens, lamps, rugs, cushions, all helped to make every nook and corner attractive. The programs were heart-shaped and were daintily decorated with water colors. The music was furnished by Miss Wiloughby's orchestra and was all that could be desired. Besides the guests from other fraternities there were present many from other cities, among whom were Misses Cole, Tukey, Kelly and Reynolds, Messrs. Young and Bowman from Omaha; Miss Niel from Columbus, Ohio; Miss Neeman from Schuyler; Miss Turner from Muncie, Ind.

JOY'S COUNTERPART.

In morning golden with life's promise,
 Gleams the beckoning hand of joy,
 Fair, elusive on she flitteth,
 Now draws near, retreating coy.
 Through the thickets youth pursueth,
 Passing blossoms gayly rare,
 Seeing naught of heaven's beauty
 In the sky and grass and air.
 By the streamlet's edge she lingers,
 Lost to sight in dream-like mist;
 In he plunges to discover
 Joy beyond in sunlight kissed.
 Thus he wanders e'er pursuing
 Down the years till youth be past,
 Hope abateth, then it chanceeth
 Clasp the lovely form at last.
 But is this Joy, large-eyed and sad,
 With self-effacement in her look?
 Not Joy, that careless-hearted maid,
 Her form, her sister Sorrow took.

Senators and Legislatures.

The Kentucky legislature has recently asked Senator Lindsay to resign because he is not in favor of the free coinage of silver. This action has been followed by the introduction of a resolution in the New York assembly requesting the resignation of Senator Edward Murphy, Jr., of this state, because he voted for the Teller resolution. Neither of these resolutions is of any real importance, although government of the nation by state legislatures would doubtless be quite as intelligent as government by the present United States senate. The Kentucky legislature does not really expect Senator Lindsay to vote against his convictions, nor do the republicans of the New York state legislature expect

Senator Murphy to think of anything but his machine, and the sufficient protection of collars and cuffs.—Harper Weekly.

Gothamer—I hope that you have entirely recovered from the effects of the blizzard.

Bostonian—No; we shall never entirely recover.

Gothamer—Were your pecuniary losses so heavy?

Bostonian—Not at all; but we were cut off from the rest of the world for two days—and nobody missed Boston.

You may laugh at a man's expense, but you can't always "smile" at his expense.
