

Master Sydney Schlesinger celebrated his eighth birthday on Tuesday afternoon. He received many little tokens of remembrance from his friends. His guests were: Melvin Schlesinger, Albert Spier, Leon Rosenbaum, Miriam Ksen-sky, Babette Weil, Victor Friend, Henry Weasel, Helen Mitchell, Grace Bryan, May Turner, Irene Kirchstein, Helen Levy, Alfred Mayer, Edna Mayer, Elsie Ackerman, Nellie Newmark, Jack Manning, Winfield Arter, Polly Berkson, Ruth Kroner, Fay Herzog.

About this time of the season every year, people are tired of the winter amusements of dancing and cards. About this time housekeepers are puzzled to know what to provide for appetites which are tired of the vegetables and meats of a winter menu. The new cycle skating has come in to fill just the right place between summer out-door life and winter's sheltered amusements. The hall is a large, square one in the Halter block on Thirteenth street, well lighted and ventilated. Every afternoon and evening it is open and filled with well known ladies and gentlemen.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Turpin's dancing class at Worthington academy gave a delightful dancing party. The music was furnished by Miss Willoughby. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralston, Rodgers, Lieutenant and Mrs. Fownley, Wier, Major Bean, Lieut. Canfield; Misses Alice Rodgers, Ruth Owen, Hunt, Claire Funke, Toxie Townley, Pauline Meyers, Jessie Out-calt, Byrd McConniff, Duke, Weesner, Lottridge and Spurck; Captain Kendall, Lieut. Ellis, Sargeants Layton and Taylor, Bugler Baker, Corporals Hepburn, Lyman, Hartman, Mayer, Privates Barber, Baird, Carter, Cattle, Cole, Driskoll, Holdberg, Holden, Rodgers, Katz, Rothschild, Okie, Shepherd, Waring, Phelps, Raymond; Messrs. Wells and Liebman.

This week has been a very popular one for the little people. There were a number of parties given on Washington's birthday. That day happened, too, to be the birthday of Master Robertson Harley, and his little friends were invited to help him celebrate. Tea was served at four o'clock, and in the centre of the table was a large cake covered with candles. There were five for Robertson and one for each guest. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Crancer and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Curtice gave one of the most enjoyable parties of the season last Saturday evening at Thompson hall. The guests were invited to come representing some character in Mother Goose. Some of the costumes were beautiful, some funny, but all amusing. Mr. and Mrs. Curtice represented "Jack and Jill," Mr. Crancer was "Fee Wee," the sailor, Mrs. Crancer was "The Old Woman in the Shoe," Mrs. Dorgan "Mother Goose," Mr. Dorgan "Boy Blue," Mr. Wing "Simple Simon," Miss Hammond "Marjorie Daw," Miss Latta "Queen of Spades," Miss Farwell "Miss Muffet," Mr. Merrill "Old King Cole," Mr. Honeywell "Pat a-Cake, Baker Man," Mrs. Spencer "Bo-Peep," Miss Harwood "Little Bo Peep," Miss Miner "Mary Had a Little Lamb," Mr. Lew Marshall "Tom, the Piper's Son." Many others were also in costume. Miss Willoughby furnished the music, and until ten o'clock only those who were masked danced. Afterwards other guests went on the floor. The refreshments were served during the entire evening in the banquet hall. Among the guests were:

Mrs. Holm and Mrs. Teeters received a large number of their friends last Saturday afternoon. The hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Smith, mother of Mrs. Holm, and Mrs. P. W. Plank. Mrs. Holm wore a beautiful gown of black satin and turquoise velvet, Mrs. Smith black silk with lace, and Mrs. Plank looked charming in a dainty gown of pink organdie. All of the lights were shaded with pink which gave a becoming glow. The flowers were pink carnations. The dining table was beautiful in its coverings of pink with pink candelabra. Sherbert and tea with wafers were served by Mrs. B. F. Bailey and Mrs. D. I. Campbell, who were in pink. They were assisted in serving by Mrs. Fling and Misses Kirker, Miller, Hartley and Odell. Mrs. Mallalieu, in her white satin wedding gown presided at the flower table and was assisted by Miss Nelia Cochran. Mesdames Winger, Welch, Garten, Stevens, Wade and Miss Stoddard also assisted in entertaining the guests.

Miss Maude Risser gave a heart party last Saturday afternoon for about sixty guests. After about sixteen games Miss Frances Gere and Mrs. Rudge were found to be tie. Mrs. Rudge won the cut. Elaborate refreshments were served. The guests were:
