

THE THEATRE

Benefit for the High school library fund by the Philharmonic orchestra. August Hagenow, conductor, at the High school auditorium, Tuesday, April 12, 4 o'clock p. m. Admission 10c.

It is always customary to introduce in the performance of Chas. H. Yale's "Forever Devil's Auction" a number of special vaudeville features, which is by clever stage management and costuming made a most interesting part of same. In the past Manager Yale has been fortunate in securing uncommon specialties that have not been seen elsewhere. In the Teskat-troupe of comic cyclers an absolute novelty has been secured appearing in the new pantomimic "up-to-the-times" episode, "The bicycle craze," assisted by the very clever trick rider, Mr. Alexander Decca. Another unusual feature is that of the Phantos Bros., the aerial grotesques. These artists create screams of laughter while suspended on a frail ladder and trapeze which is attached to the highest point of the proscenium arch. In this act the comedian of the team drops from the top of the proscenium arch to the stage below. The cast appears in original specialties and introduce singing and dialect impersonations. Miss Mayme Mayo, singing and dancing soubrette possesses a very musical mezzo-soprano voice. As a banjo player, Miss Mayo is unequalled. She has beauty, voice and personal magnetism. At the Olive Thursday, April 14. Prices $1.00, 75, 50 and 25 cents. Seats on sale Tuesday 10 a. m.

When Geo. H. Primrose and Wm. H. West formed a song and dance team years ago, their youthful minds were filled with visions of laurel wreaths. It is scarcely probable that they ever dreamed they would have their own company, much less that it would be the only representative minstrel organization in America. But such is the case, and after years of hard work they find themselves at the head of minstrelsy. When they organized their present company which is to appear at the Oliver, with a grand ladies bargain day matinee at 2:30 and night. They knew that what the public most desires is novelty and have secured those comedians and singers whose specialties are always up-to-date. The artists in the casts are Geo. Wilson the eminent comedian, E. M. Hall America's greatest banjoist, Manual Romaine in new songs, Waterbury Bros., and Tenny Quaker City quartette, Bea Mowatt trio, the marvelous Seymours and many others. Mr. Primrose, the best of black face comedians, will contribute an entirely new edition of his famous specialty. The first part is described as a marvelous conception in dressing, scenic effect and general make-up while the whole performance is most satisfactory. Prices $1.00, 75, 50 and 25c. Seats now on sale; matinee prices 25-50c.

The fifth and last Philharmonic concert for this season will be given at the Funke Thursday evening, April 12. The orchestral works performed are "William Tell" and "Zampa" overtures—selections from Cavalleria Rusticana including the celebrated Intermezzo. Traumbilder by Lumbye, and the ever popular "Beautiful Blue Danube" waltz by Strauss. Also the favorite string numbers, Traumerer, At the mill and Grandma. At the previous concerts we have had only soprano voices; for this concert we have Mrs. David A. Campbell contralto, and Mr. Holmes Cowper tenor. It is always a genuine pleasure to hear Mrs. Campbell and her many friends look forward with anticipation to her appearance in this concert. Mr. Cowper is a recent resident of Chicago, having just returned from a two years' course of training under Frederick Walker, the celebrated teacher of oratoria in London, England. Mr. Walker secured Mr. Cowper the appointment as tenor soloist of St. James church, Piccadilly, the Royal Parish church, and one of the most fashionable in London. Mr. Cowper's voice is a pure lyric tenor of even quality and sympathetic in the extreme, singing with an ease and finish quickly suggestive of his advantages abroad. One of Mr. Cowper's numbers for this concert is "Salve di Mora" from the opera Faust, by Gounod which he will sing with orchestra. Prices 25, 50, 75, $1.00. Seats now on sale.
