

Besides red and white carnations, the room was decorated elaborately with United States and Cuban flags and bunting. Ribbons of the three colors extended from the chandelier to the corners of the tables. Little flags were pinned on each guest as a souvenir of the occasion. The ices and bon-bons were also of the national colors. The guests were inspired by the sight and applauded heartily. Mrs. Clark was assisted in making the afternoon such a successful one by Mrs. Ed Ewing, Mrs. A. G. Billmeyer and Miss Cowdrey.

Mrs. Guilfoyle and daughter Christine were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ogden on Monday and Tuesday. They left on Wednesday for Kansas City to join Captain Guilfoyle, who is en route with the famous Ninth cavalry for Chica-mauga. The newspapers say that Com-pany I of the Ninth has been ordered to Cuba, but Company I belongs to that half of the regiment which has been on duty for a year. The other half of the regiment spent the year at headquarters and therefore will be called upon first for active duty. In the few hours that Mrs. Guilfoyle spent in the city she was greeted by many warm friends who were anxious to know about the prob-able destination of the Captain and I troop. The whist circle consisting of Mrs. Outcalt, Beeson, C. L. Burr and others met at Mrs. Burr's home while Mrs. Guilfoyle was here and played a few games clever enough to turn the Union club specialists green with envy.

Mrs. A. W. Jansen, president of the Matinee Musicales, entertained the ladies of the board of that club very delight-fully on Saturday afternoon. Musical matters were discussed over a most dainty luncheon. The refreshment tables were of particularly beautiful ap-pointment. One was called the rose table. The lunch cloth and napkins were exquisitely embroidered with red roses and a dainty cut glass vase in the centre of the table was filled with roses of the same color. The ices served at this table was in the shape and color of a rose, as were also the bon-bons. An- other table was given to violets and an- other to sweet peas. The floral design was carried out in every possible way. Mrs. Jansen may be proud of having given the prettiest luncheon of the sea-son. The guests were:

Mesdames—	Mesdames—
Paul H. Holm,	E. P. Brown,
J. W. Winger,	D. A. Campbell,
A. R. Mitchell,	E. H. Barbour,
W. Q. Bell,	C. F. Ladd,
Miss Anna Miller and Eleanor Young.

The Cotillion club gave its last party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buckstaff Friday evening. This year's parties were unusually pretty and successful and the one given on Friday was a fitting close for such a season. It was a military german and the favors and decorations were the United States and Cuban flags. The german was led by Lieutenant Townley, who appeared in uniform. Re-freshments were served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Powell of Omaha, Mrs. Rudy of Sioux City, Mrs. Gasman of Chicago, Mrs. Goltra of St. Louis, Messrs. and Mesdames

C. L. Burr,	Mallilieu,
Fred Houtz,	Mehrenstecher,
Lew Marshall,	Dorgan,
G. Woods,	Rodgers,
Wright,	W. C. Wilson,
F. W. Brown,	Buckstaff,
Ladd,	Townley,
Beeson,	Leonard,
Campbell,	Carl Funke,
	W. Hargreaves.

Mrs. Coffroth gave a most delightful euchre party on Thursday morn-ing. The guests were divided into the blacks and reds, one set taking the gen-tlemen's places. Tiny euchre cards were matched for partners. Instead of punches each one was given a little bell which they tied to a ring with a bright ribbon. After making the rounds of the playing tables each couple went next to the conversation table where punch was served. There were six prizes, three for the reds and three for the blacks. Each prize was tied up in a neat package, and those with the highest number of bells drew first, and then the next highest. Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Corbin drew first, then Mrs. Tilton and Miss Anna Miller, then Mrs. Beeson and Mrs. L. C. Burr. The party was all the more en-joyable on account of the unique points introduced. The guests were Mesdames

Brown,	Ewing,
Irvine,	Henry Branch,
Fred Howe,	Goltra,
Leonard,	Beeson,
Wright,	Rudy,
Gasman,	W. C. Wilson,
G. H. Clark,	D. E. Thompson,
Corbin,	Buckstaff,
Mallilieu,	W. Hargreaves,
Tilton,	I. N. Baker,
Ladd,	W. F. Kelley,
Kirk,	J. H. Harley,
L. C. Burr,	Aitken,
Mitchell,	Campbell,
Yates,	Charles Branch,
Miss Anna Miller, and Mrs. Brown of Des Moines.

Mrs. Irvine gave a kensington on Fri-day afternoon at her home on A street Mrs. Irvine is a charming hostess and she did all in her power to make the afternoon a pleasant one for her friends. Some of the guests furnished music while others chatted gaily over their bits of sewing. An elegant luncheon was served. The guests were:

Mesdames—	Mesdames—
B. F. Bailey,	Wm Bailey,
Harwood,	F. M. Hall,
L. C. Burr,	Burrham,
Coffroth,	Doane,
Fling,	Winger,
W. C. Wilson,	C. L. Burr,
F. N. Brown,	H. H. Wilson,
Yates,	Buckstaff,
Bruner,	Stevens,
Holyoke,	Beeson,
S. A. Campbell,	Stotzenburg,
G. H. Clark,	Wolcott,
Holm,	Leonard,
Lambertson,	Ladd,
Kelley,	G. E. MacLean,
J. H. MacLean,	Manning,
Pound,	Reese,
Stebbins,	Tilton,
Teeters,	Wright,
D. E. Thompson,

Rudy of Sioux City, Gasman of Chicago, Goltra of St. Louis, Misses Latta, Bailey, Stoddard, Christie, Shears.

What most profoundly saddens the habitue of society, in the narrow mean-ing of that word, is not the exhibition of any monstrous audacities in sin, but the sordid average, the petty dreary mass of cowardly concessions, and of the vul-gar compromises apparently inseparable from the exercise of social power. Not only do these things sadden spirits of exceptional quality, but they provoke passionate protest, and foster also the haunting belief that there is somewhere an ampler horizon and a freer air, where in the soul can spread her wings and in-dividuality can assert itself.—Collier's Weekly.

Mr. C. E. Waite went to St. Joseph, Mo., on Monday.

Hon. W. J. Bryan has returned from his eastern trip.

Chancellor MacLean returned Friday from Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hall give a large dinner tonight.

Miss Dora Fricke of Plattsmouth, is visiting her brother and friends here.

Mrs. Phil Campbell of Brokenbow is the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. Scott.

Mr. Phil Russell of Omaha visited at Herpolsheimer & Co. MORE PARIS MILLINERY.

Hat Designed by Mme. Cartier.

[Copyrighted 1898. The Baldwin Syndicate.]

From the large line of these patterns already shown you may be able to form some idea of the number of styles we carry, but if you have not as yet visited the department, you'll find that to do so will be much more satisfactory than judging from what you have seen in print. A visit enables you to see the vast array of other styles shown and fully realize what it means to procure strictly high-class millinery at prices lower than you usually pay for the ordinary kind.

DRESS | A lady about to purchase a gown finds it
GOODS | a real pleasure to visit a de-
SUPREMACY | partment where there is no limit of assortment, where every piece is new, fresh, nobby and stylish, and where she may depend upon securing the very best values that her money can procure. A department possessing these advantages, as does ours, must be popular, it is bound to meet the approval of the buying public and the house to which it belongs is looked upon as the fashion leader of the community. Our dress goods department shows nothing but correct styles in late novelties and plain goods; every color of prominence in the world of fashion is displayed, every wool design and fabric known to the trade is represented. Then the assortments are so im-mense that it would be strange indeed if everyone could not find just what they are seeking. Try it.

Herpolsheimer & Co.