Thomas S. Allen of Lincoln and Miss Mary Elizabeth Bryan, of Salem, Ill., were married on Tuesday, June 28, at the home of the bride's brother-in-law, J. W. Baird, in Salem. Dr. J. A. Lavett of Ewing college performed the ceremony. Mr. Allen was until recently deputy postmaster and is a partner of W. J. Bryan, the brother of the bride. He graduated in '89 from the state university, read law in Lincoln and began practicing in the office of Talbot & Bryan. When Mr. Bryan ran for congress "Tom" Allen was his most valiant supporter, lieutenant and stump speaker and was popularly credited with a good share of the successful issue of the campaign. The campaign also gave Mr. Allen his position in populist politics which he has since enjoyed with both pleasure and profit. Miss Mary Bryan was a student at the state university during the period of Mr. Bryan's first success, and at that time made Mr. Allen's acquaintance. Mr. and Mrs. Allen will spend some time in Colorado and will then make their home in Lincoln.

The Pecos Valley Argus records the marriage on June 22 at Eddy, N. M., of Miss Mabel Shreve, daughter of J. R. Shreve of Lincoln to A. A. Driggs of Eddy, The Argus says:

"The bride, though a resident of Eddy for but a comparatively short time, coming here from her home in Lincoln, Neb., two winters ago, has in that time endeared herself to a large circle of friends.

Endowed by nature with a charming manner, sweet disposition, bright intelligence and beauty of person, she has exercised them in a manner that does credit to her sex. In addition to other accomplishments the bride is a vocalist of ability, having a cultivated voice of rare sweetness and power. The groom is known to almost every one in the valley and in Eddy county, and is recognized as a competent young business man. Mr. Driggs came to Eddy from New York, accepting a position with the irrigation company, afterwards going to the Pecos Valley beet sugar company of which company he is now auditor and cashier."

Thomas F. A. Williams of Wolfenbarger & Williams, was married on Tuesday June 28, at Shelby, Ia., his old home, to Miss Hattie Plum of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will visit with Iowa relatives before coming to Lincoln.

Mr. Williams was a very popular man in the university where his oratorical talent was first developed. After being graduated by the university in '92 Mr. Williams—known as "Taffy"—a combination made from T. F. A.—entered the law school and received a degree. After studying in Chicago he became a partner of his brother-in-law, Mr. A. C. Wolfenbarger. Mr. Williams has many friends who wish him happiness and a continuance of the success which his talent and energy have attained. He will introduce his wife into a circle of loyal friends who will welcome her to the new home.

Mrs. W. B. Ogden returned on Thursday morning from a visit to her mother and sisters in Newark, Ohio. She was accompanied going and coming by her niece, Mrs. Scipio Dundy, of Omaha. The Moore homestead is a fine old Ohio farm and the visitors had calculated on rustic rest and seclusion but the circle of friends and relatives is too large and all kinds of summer fetes were given in their honor. A country party, given by Mrs. Sutton, Mrs. Dundy's mother, was characterized by flags and the very unusual prizes presented to the guests. The royal prize was a ham wrapped in Old Glory. Others were a bunch of onions tied with red, white and blue ribbons, and a Plymouth Rock hen wrapped in a flag. The hen was quiet and dignified and squawked not nor kicked as she was handed from one to another. Breeding always tells.

The many friends of Mr. George Ballantine and his family will be glad to know that his son John, who was dangerously wounded by an old rifle too full of smokeless powder, will recover. He is at St. Luke's hospital, Denver. The surgeon in charge informed Mr. Ballantine when John was brought in from the camp where the accident occurred, that he could not possibly live—but John seemed to know better. He will not lose the eye which was injured, nor will his face be scarred more than the face of many a German student who counts his scars as decorations to be proud of. And the lad is as bright and cheerful as ever, showing that his brain was not injured irreparably.

Master Robert Turner and Miss Marian Turner entertained their friends very pleasantly on Thursday afternoon. The young people played games and had a good time all the afternoon, after which a dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Deweese. Those present were Irene Kirkstein, La Vather Thompson, Ethel Perkins, Minnie, Charlie, Ralph and Hugh Hindman, Sidney Schlesinger, Emma Tyler, Jack Manning, Edward Rodgers, Camille Hall, Lunette Keith, Babette Weil, Elsie Herman, Julia Deweese, Julius Weil, Harry and Edith Hainey, Helen Hammond, Helen, Lillian and Harry Chapin, Lizzie and Dick Darrence.

A trolly party was given on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Weil, Mr. and Mrs. Wessel and Miss Hattie Friend in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Levi and Mrs. Munrath. Delicious refreshments were served in the car. Those enjoying the ride were Mr. and Mrs. Newark, Mr. Langdorf, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mayer, Mr. Simon Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Oppenheimer, Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman, Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Kohn, Mr. and Mrs. Herzog, Mr. and Mrs. Schlesinger, Mr. and Mrs. Rosenbaum, Mr. Blum, Mr. Simon Greenbaum, Miss Anna Mayer, Miss Ida Friend and Sam Spier.

The wedding of Clarence Tefft and Miss Caroline Irene Sheldon was celebrated at high noon on Wednesday, June 30. Mr. Tefft is well known in this city, having been graduated from the university law school two years ago. His father has been quite prominent in Cass county and state politics for years past. Among the guests at the wedding and attendant reception were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Dawes of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Beeman Dawes of Newark, Ohio, and C. A. Hanna, who holds the position of cashier in the Chicago postoffice, all of whom are former Lincoln people.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clark gave an informal euchre party on Tuesday evening for Mrs. J. F. W. Stoney of London. Only four tables enjoyed the games and the delicious and cooling refreshments which were served. The prizes were won by Mrs. Stoney and Mr. Frank Cowdrey. Mrs. Stoney will leave Lincoln on Saturday and on next Tuesday will sail for Egypt where she will join her husband.

Mrs. Schlesinger gave a high five party in honor of Mrs. Levi and Mrs. Meinrath on Wednesday afternoon. In spite of the hot weather the ladies spent a lovely afternoon. Mrs. Charles Mayer and Mrs. Morris Friend captured the prizes. Dainty and cooling refreshments were served.

Mrs. A. E. Hargreaves gave a charming dinner party on Thursday evening at six o'clock in honor of Mrs. Stoney who leaves Wednesday for New York.

The table was profusely decorated with sweet peas. Those present were Mrs. Stoney, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John Fawell, Mr. and Mrs. George Fawell, Mr. and Dr. and Mrs. Simmons.

At the close of the games it was found that Mrs. Charles Mayer won the first prize and Mrs. Levi the second.

An elaborate luncheon was served at the close of the games. Mrs. Ackerman was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Frank.

Mrs. M. Ackerman entertained very pleasantly Thursday morning at high five. The party was given honor of Mrs. Levi of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Munrath of Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hargreaves, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Irvine and Mrs. Tilton composed a jolly circus party on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Phelps were surprised on Wednesday evening by a host of friends who knew it was the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage. Refreshments were served.

Miss Cora Cram of East Lincoln and Mr. Elmer Werleck of Ragan were married on Wednesday evening. Rev. S. T. Guild performed the ceremony. Mrs. and Mrs. Werleck will make their home in Ragan.
