Mr. & Mrs. J. W. McDonald gave a beautiful garden fete at their country home Monday evening. The lawn was lighted by 150 electric lights in Japanese lanterns. Miss Willoughby's orchestra of six pieces furnished most inspiring music. Mr. & Mrs. McDonald received their guests on the front piazza, which is lighted by Venetian lamps and furnished in scarlet and green. The guests were all in full evening dress. The effect was indeed beautiful. There was a delightful waxed platform about 20x60, on the east lawn where the guests danced. ("Comme il faisait froid!") Mr. Frank Zehring was master of ceremonies. The programs, for the convenience of the guests, were dainty in the extreme and many were carried away as souvenirs. The west piazza was fitted up as a smoking den for the gentlemen. Punch was served all evening and champagne with the supper. Supper was served at small tables on the lawn, bouillon, chicken salad croquettes, sandwiches of various kinds, boned turkey, fancy ices, jellies, small cakes, maroon glaces and bonbons, black coffee. The hostess was regal in a white taffeta silk, the skirt of large pink and white plaid, waist of tucked white taffeta with artistic touches of black. It is needless to say she was charming in the extreme. Miss Regna, sister of the hostess, wore a simple white swiss made with French skirt, tiny ruffles of Valenciennes. She looked as fresh as the pink rose in her hair. Mrs. Walter Hargreaves was gowned in an exquisite white organdy with touches of cerise pink at her beautiful decollete shoulders. She wore a stunning big hat with black plumes. Mrs. Griffith white organdy over pink silk, large leghorn hat with American beauty roses, and with her distingue military style she was as beautiful as a picture. Mrs. Silver's "Diana Beauty" was enhanced by a costume of white gauze over white silk with simple quillings of white, and a large black picture hat. Mrs. William Leonard wore a charming gown of white net embroidered in pink chenille, diamond necklace. Mrs. Lewis Marshall, turquoise blue silk and real lace. Mrs. D. D. Muir, scarlet and black silk, white leghorn hat, white plumes. Mrs. John B. Wright, black Chantilly lace over green silk. Mrs. L. C. Burr, black and white silk, white hat with black plumes. Mrs. F. W. Brown, flowered organdy over silk, pink roses. Mrs. Buckstaff, gray gauze over gray silk, American beauties. Mrs. Beeson, striped Dresden silk. Mrs. John Dorgan, skirt of black taffeta, waist of scarlet pompadour silk and lace. Mrs. Holcomb of Chicago, white tulle and pink roses. Miss Grace Harrison, pink organdy over white silk. Miss Alice Righter, London gown of black mouseline de soie. Miss Wilkinson of New York, a Paris gown of pale blue taffeta. Miss Prentiss, white swiss and pink roses. Miss Clara Hammond, pink striped organdy, ruffles edged with black velvet. Miss Welch, black spangled mull, petunia velvet. Miss Tuttle, ruffled white organdy over pink silk. Miss Harley, white and blue tulle and pink roses. Miss Henry, dainty white organdy. Miss Gladys Henry, white mull. Miss Liza Miller of Chicago, yellow flowered organdy. Miss Mulery of New York, blue and white foulard silk and duchesse lace berthas. Miss Geeting, green organdy over scarlet silk. There were many other beautiful costumes quite too numerous to mention.

On Thursday and Friday Mrs. Righter and Miss Righter entertained their friends in compliment to Miss Wilkinson, a young lady guest from Newburg on the Hudson. Miss Wilkinson and Miss Righter were roommates and fellow art students in Paris and the latter spent the first part of the summer visiting at the Wilkinson summer home on Lake George. As Miss Wilkinson has five sisters a visitor feels that she is in the midst of a perpetual kensington, if that means a company of sprightly sociable ladies bent on enjoyment. The Thursday party played cards and on Friday the ladies played guessing games. Miss Wilkinson leaves today for her home and Miss Righter will go to Sarcey, Arkansas on Tuesday, where she is at the head of the art department in the Methodist college there. Dr. and Mrs. Righter announced the engagement of their daughter to Mr. Ray Edmiston of this city. The guests of the Thursday party were: Misses Sadie Burnham, Lewis, Watkins, Gere, Davis, Rice, Welch, Nance, Hollowbush, Uptons, Weeks, Hoover, Prentiss, Miller, Florence Holmes, Blanche Edmiston, Mae Burr, Blanche Garten, Maud Hammond, Harris, Dennis, Price, Mabel Richards, Woods, Dora Harley, Mullen, Lucy Griffith, Blanche Hargreaves, Eleanor Raymond, Jane Macfarland, Outcalt, Besse Wing, Alice Wing, Laura Houtz, Jessie Lansing, Nelia Cochran; Mesdames Ladd, F.
