

was tastefully decorated with the national colors, while the odor of the American beauty which adorned the tables was long to be remembered. After dinner, which consisted of six courses, cigars were passed and the boys adjourned to the parlors for a good time. During the evening Miss Sallye Berkson rendered several vocal selections, Misses Sizer and Cosper assisting with instrumental music. Miss Hattie Berkson presiding over the bunch bowl. Those present to enjoy were: Will Howland, W. J. Byers, H. I. Brooks, D. W. Ludwig, R. A. Deemer, Will McClay, Fred E. Hurd, Bert Cosper, J. A. Barber, Charles S. Hoyt, W. E. Married on the stage of the Funke on Thursday evening, Claude Hilton of the Redmond company to Miss Winifred Blair of Broken Bow, niece of his excellency, the governor of Nebraska, by the Rev. Percy Silver. The ceremony was solemnized at the end of the performance, "Master and Man" and the house was packed. After the final "curtain," it was rolled up again on a parlor scene, with Dr. Silver in his robes in the center of the stage. The company entered from the left. The bride came last dressed in a very pretty gown of Swiss muslin. The ceremony was very impressive and solemn. The service does not need accessories of stained glass windows. A surplice choir and an altar to make even such frivolous souls as the gallery boys serious. Mr. Stockdale, a member of the company, gave the bride away. Before the ceremony he announced that the theatre was the home of actors and audiences their friends, and that was the reason why they wanted a home wedding. His announcement increased the friendliness of the audience. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hilton received the congratulations of the audience in applause and the curtain went down with the company greeting the newly wedded couple.

Miss Carrie Dennis departed on Thursday for Brooklyn, N. Y., where she has entered the Pratt institute for a year's library study. Miss Dennis was one of twenty out of a hundred who passed the examination of admittance, and she received a letter from the principal of the library school saying that her papers showed her competent to take the second year's course. Miss Dennis is a young lady of rare personal qualities and she has made hundreds of appreciative friends by her work in the library. Miss Bourroughs takes her place for the year.
