

THE THEATRE

The second of the series of Philharmonic Orchestra concerts, promises to be a great event. A program of excellent orchestra numbers will be given, and Mr. George Hamlin, the eminent tenor and artist from Chicago, will make his first appearance before a Lincoln audience. Mr. Hamlin's name as a remarkably gifted tenor soloist, is known all over, and Mr. Hagenow has insured a rich treat for the patrons of the Philharmonic concerts. The second concert will be given Monday eve, December 5th, at the Oliver Theatre. Seats on sale Saturday, December 3rd. Usual prices.

"The Girl I Left Behind Me," which will be seen at the Oliver theatre Thanksgiving matinee and night, November 24, is one of the strongest bookings of the season, in the estimation of those familiar with the strongest. The play has been one of the greatest successes of the past five years in America, and when it was produced in London two years ago, it took that city by storm. The play deals with the military life of Post Kennion, in the Black-foot country, Montana, during the Indian uprising of 1890, and there are many scenes of an intense and exciting kind, particularly the one where the Indians attack the little garrison at sunrise. The lighter sides of the play rest on the love making of several couples, all of whom are the young people of the garrison. Matinee prices, 75c, 50c and 25c. Evening prices $1, 75c, 50c and 25c. Seats on sale Tuesday morning.

Evans and Hoey's evergreen farce comedy, Hoyt's best play, "A Parlor Match," will be at the Oliver theatre on Wednesday evening, November 23, for one night only. It is needless to tell in detail what "A Parlor Match" is. It is known as the most amusing, the wittiest and the most sparkling of all the plays that have been built expressly to entertain. This is its purpose and it could hardly have a higher one. There is a very large company, including Phil H.

Ryley, Mark Sullivan, James Galloway Tom Browne, the Olympia quartet, Edith Hoyt, Harriet Sheldon, the three Sisters Aubre and others well known, with a bevy of the prettiest young girls ever gathered on a stage at one time. The scenery and costumes are new and the music includes all the gems of the day, with much that is original and written expressly for "A Parlor Match." It is a big, beautiful show, and no one can afford to miss it. Prices $1, 75c, 50c and 25c. Seats on sale Monday morning at 10 sharp. Secure your seat early.
