Social and Personal

It has come to be a fashion of Lincoln people to entertain at the far end of the week, a proceeding that makes it difficult for the reporter on a weekly paper to chronicle all the happenings in society, owing to the fact that the paper is in press before the functions are over. Last week things were a bit quiet until the last two nights, when things were livened up a bit and seemed like the usual gay society of the town. Among the delightful events of Friday and Saturday may be mentioned the party given by Misses Daisy and Winifred Bonnell for the members of Delta Delta Delta sorority. The Misses Bonnell also entertained at cards in the evening. Miss Eugenia Getner entertained a jolly party of friends on Friday night. Her guests were Misses Sheldon, Ricketts, Kirker, Clark and Loomis, and Messrs. Sheldon, Will Clark, Charles Clark, Dick Reed, V. N. Turpin and Carl Marlay. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bartruff entertained a small company also on the same evening. Their guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames W. J. Turner, O. N. Humphrey, Zahn, Tyler, Tobias Castor, O. W. Webster, Winger, Harrison, Miss Bessie Turner and Mrs. Perrine, of Grand Island. Miss Henrietta Hollowbush also entertained for visiting young ladies. Cabooch was the game for amusement. The guests were: Mrs. Horton, of Cincinnati; Miss Hand, of Scranton, Pa.; Miss Mount; of Omaha, Miss Rinehart, of Lafayette, Ind.; Mesdames George Woods, Rector, Mallalieu, Howe, Branch. Misses Putnam, Oakley, Butt, Burr, Harrison, Branch and Cowdery.

A very pretty University event of last week was the reception given by the members of the Faculty Women's Club Saturday night in the Armory on the campus. The large room had been made gay with bunting, and with bright lights and beautiful costumes the scene was one good to look upon. The great organ, which has been placed in the Armory, was one of the decorations of the room that was highly appreciated by the large number of students and members of the faculty who attended. Mrs. H. H. Wilson, dean of women, was assisted by Mrs. MacLean and Mrs. L. A. Sherman, president of the club, with Mesdames H. H. Nicholson, C. R. Richards, O. V. P. Stout and C. F. Ansley, respectively vice-presidents and secretary of the society, also assisting. Miss Ellen Smith, registrar at the University, presented the students by name. During the evening the University band was stationed in the gallery and gave some inspiring music as an accompaniment to the merry chatter below. Young lady members of the club, passed among the guests and served ice cream and cake. The affair was one of much quiet enjoyment and marked another milestone in the life of the club.

In honor of the first anniversary of their wedding Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Spangler invited a number of guests in to spend the evening Wednesday, and to while away the time the game of progressive hearts was played. The rooms were made bright with roses and carnations as a setting for the party, and a congenial number were present. Mr. and Mrs. Spangler received a number of gifts appropriate to their first anniversary. Mrs. Ed Wilkinson was fortunate in winning so many games that she carried away with her the prize for the ladies, a beautiful dessert spoon, and Mr. Fred Hurd obtained a novel tobacco stand, the prize for the gentlemen. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Hart, Robinson, Wilkinson, Arnett, Frank Spangler, Blackburn, Ed Smith, Misses Grewell, Blitgen, Siser Koerner, Dority, McGreer, Burks and Barrick, Messrs. Howland, Hurd, Streight, Deemer, Lafferty, Walter Ludwig, Fred Ludwig, Morse, Joers and Roy Spangler.

The Beta Theta Pi fraternity added to its number four men last Saturday night. The candidates for initiation were: Jefferson Broady and Oliver Everett, of Lincoln, and Harry Barker and Harry Groff, of Fairbury. The ceremonies were of sufficient rigor to make the spread which followed one of great enjoyment. Besides the good things to eat there were toasts under the direction of Beghtol. The guests at the banquet were: Messrs. Ricketts, Rain, Cramb, Aldrich, Beghtol, Robinson, Lau, McKillip, Blackman, Folsom, Sims, Williams, Gillespie, Adams, Buckstaff, Maquette, Webster, Mumford, Musser, Hershey, Everett, Broady, Groff and Barker, members of the fraternity; and Phil Green, Fred Cornell, Bert Forbes, Frank Woods, Earnest Ames, Maurice Hyde and John McDermott, alumni members.

On Thursday the seventy-ninth birthday of Mrs. Ruth Webster was celebrated. Mrs. Webster is the mother of two sons, O. W. and W. W. Webster, and of four daughters, Mrs. De Pue, Mrs. Frolich, Mrs. J. P. A. Black of Bloomington, and of Mrs. L. J. Capps of Hastings. Mrs. Webster has lived in Lincoln twenty-seven years and her children have grown up to take honorable positions in the community. She is well and the celebration of her birthday was a very happy one.

Wednesday night marked the opening of the mid-winter exhibit of the Haydon art club. The weather had not consulted the wishes of the club and therefore the severe wind and the bluster kept many away who otherwise would have attended the reception given by the members to their friends, to mark the opening of the picture show. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and Governor and Mrs. Poynter had been invited to assist the president and members of the club to receive, but they were not able to be present. As it was, there was no formal receiving line, but every one was greeted cordially by members of the club, and then they immediately began to look at the pictures on the walls. The evening was spent delightfully by just a sufficient number of guests to bar crowding. The exhibit of pictures is remarkably fine. There is light and color and cheerfulness in the collection, and every one remarked on this fact. The four lions in the collection—"At the Watering Place" by Muenier, "The Lowing Herd" by Peter Moran, "In a New England Orchard" by Townsend, and "Summer" by Hassam, were surrounded most of the time by admirers. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan's pictures by Ralph Clarkson, were very prominent. The collection, taken as a
