LITERARY NOTES.

The March Cosmopolitan illustrates one of the things that have been made possible by its large circulation. Dividing the cost of the most expensive articles and illustrations by hundreds of thousands reduces these items to a comparatively small fraction for each magazine. For this reason, expenditures may be almost unlimited to secure the best. Nine of the most noted illustrators are represented in the March Cosmopolitan. The cost of a single series—The History of Mohammed, of which six drawings appear in this number—for illustrations and plates, will exceed four thousand dollars; and there are in this one issue of The Cosmopolitan no less than one hundred and thirty-three illustrations, all told. It is believed that no single magazine, even of the thirty-five cent variety, ever presented in such numbers illustrations of so high a quality.

In April Miss Mary E. Wilkins' latest story, "The Jameson's in the Country," which is now running serially in the Ladies' Home Journal, will be published in book form by the Doubleday & McClure Company, of New York.
