Social and Personal

Society has been a bit dull this week. The week began well too, with four weddings on Monday, one of which was large and interested many. The only large parties have been the L. L. I. given Wednesday night and the senior promenade last night. Dame Rumor says there is to be a wedding soon, perhaps next week that will surprise many. A number of these happy events are promised for this month and next, so the air will be full of wedding bells.

They rang merrily on Monday evening when at the Holy Trinity Episcopal church occurred the marriage of Miss Florence Farwell Holmes to Dr. Chas. Aaron Hull. Rev. Francis W. Eason performed the ceremony, using the beautiful Episcopal service. It was a brilliant assemblage that witnessed the impressive service. Palms, carnations and lillies in profusion were used in decorating the church. One pretty feature was the striking contrast between the white ribbons which enclosed the pews reserved for special friends, and the clusters of bright red carnations fastened with the ribbons to the end of each pew. Miss Rice played one or two organ numbers while the people were entering the church and at eight o'clock the strains of the bridal march from Lohengrin announced the approach of the bridal party. The ushers, Messrs. Baldwin, Joyce, Franck, Morrison, Cowdery and Heth of Omaha, advanced first down the aisle followed by the bridesmaids two of whom, Misses Putnam and Welch, were gowned in pink, while Misses Richards and Houtz were in blue. Their gowns were all of taffeta with tunic skirts made en train. Miss Putnam's was appliqued with real lace and trimmed with shirrings of chiffon on the bodice which was made decollete. She wore a pink aigrette in her coiffure and carried pink roses as also did Miss Welch. The latter's gown had a tunic of embroidered mouseline and trimmings of real lace on the corsage. Misses Richards and Houtz wore love knots of blue ribbon in their hair and carried red roses. After the bridesmaids came Miss Katharine Beeson in a fluffy white frock carrying the ring in a calla lily. The maid of honor, Miss Weeks, next appeared. She wore a white swiss gown with trimmings of valenciennes lace and inserting, stock and sash of white satin ribbon. The bride entered on the arm of her father. Her gown was of heavy white pea de landre and the folds of her long tulle veil were caught by a diamond ornament. Her bouquet was of bride's roses. She was met at the chancel by the groom and his best man, Dr. Joseph Scroggs. After the ceremony Mendelssohn's wedding march was played. Mrs. Holmes, mother of the bride wore a costume of black grenadine over cerise silk with appliqued trimmings of black and white. Miss Ruth Holmes wore white India linen, pink ribbons and carnations. At the reception at the home of the bride's parents Judge and Mrs. E. P. Holmes, ices were served Miss Burr, and punch was served by Miss Ruth Holmes. Mrs. Holmes was further assisted by Mesdames Muir, Macfarland, Gere and the Misses Gere. The table in the dining room was decorated in pink roses, broad pink ribbons and candelabra. The arrangement was charming and elicited many expressions of admiration. Mrs. Hull's traveling gown was of blue venetian cloth, her hat and gloves were cerise. Her bouquet was caught by Miss Laura Houtz. Dr. and Mrs. Hull left at 2:15 on Tuesday for New York and from there they will go to Galveston and return by way of St. Louis. After May 20th they will be at home at 2020 Webster street, Omaha. One room was entirely occupied by the numerous and elegant gifts bestowed upon the bride by her very large number of friends.

Mrs. A. B. Coffroth gave a card party Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Helen Holmes of Washington, D. C., who is visiting Mrs. J. W. Macdonald. The rooms were darkened and pink shaded gas light illumined the house. A table decorated with pink carnations stood beneath a palm in the second parlor and from it Mrs. Macdonald served punch, between the games. The front parlor was decorated with lillies and smilax. Mrs. George Fawell and Miss Griffith won the prizes and after the games a luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Alice Cowdery. Those present were: Mesdames Beeson, Irvine, Leonard, Hargreaves, Bucketaff, Wright, Wilson, Marshall, Burr, Thomas, Ewing, Mallalieu, Muir, Dorgan, Fitzgerald, Jansen, Griffith, Woods, Lyon, Fawell, Tilton, Curtice, Macdonald, Horton, Woods and Leming; Misses Putnam, Holmes, Griffith, Oakley, Hollowbush, Burr, Cowdery, Burnham, Raymond, Loomis, Haggard, Harley, Marshall, Miller, Hardy, Hoover, Harrison and Righter.

Last Saturday evening Miss Cunningham and Miss Douglas gave their second dancing party at the home of the former. Scarlet and cream bunting and palms adorned the house. Punch was served between the dances, and a luncheon late in the evening. Those present were: Misses Clark, Vancil, Walsh, Barr, Hill, Hayes, Hargreaves, Bonnell, Loasch, Cunningham, Harper, Loomis, Harpham, Outcalt, McHenry, Morgan, Wirt, Honeywell, Carson, MacMillan, Millar, Polk, Eckle and Hazelwood; Messrs. Clark, Shedd, Sheldon, Lehmer, Hill, Abbott, Manfelde, Watkins, Hastie, Sumner, Chapin, Atwood, Rainey, Van Valin, Davidson, Whipple, Brown, Blackman, Clements, Lau, Richards, Cramb, Reed, Dewese, Korsmeyer and King.

Mrs. Anne R. Ganter and Mr. George W. Beman were married Monday in Omaha. Mrs. Ganter is a wealthy woman and has been for many years a resident of Lincoln. Mr. Beman is a well known business man, having been head clerk in several of the large dry goods stores of this city. He is at the present time associated in that capacity with Herpolsheimer & Co., but will sever his relations there to look after his wife's and his own business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wright will entertain at cards this evening for Mrs. Helen Holmes of Washington, D. C. Their guests will be Mrs. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McDonald and the members of the Wednesday afternoon club and their husbands, whose names follow: Messrs. and Mesdames Beeson, Green, Wilson, Brown, Hargreaves, Coff-
