THE THEATRE

The American people as a mass go to the theatre to be entertained, to laugh and have a good time. Probable Lincoln J. Carter has come nearer satisfying the amusement goers than any other American author. He has written comedy dramas and melo-dramatic comedies with this thought in mind and being an artist as well as an author, he sketches as he writes, therefore his scenic effects are startling, realistic and beautiful. Who has not been thrilled at the sight of the railroad scenes in the Fast Mail and Heart of Chicago. In all of his plays there is nothing to offend or shock. He has never dipped his pen into the questionable to color his word painting. Mr. Carter is successful because he is a writer of the people and is patronized by the people. His latest play, "Remember the Maine," is the most realistic that he has ever produced. Prices 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c. Seats now on sale.

There is a coincidence in some phases of the similarity of the roles in which Kathryn Kidder has made her greatest success. Every one remembers her remarkable creation of the Parisian blanchisseuse who rose to the point of twitting the Emperor Napoleon. There is something of Madame Sans-Gene in the character of Lady Teazle in "The School for Scandal" in which Miss Kidder has more than equaled her preceding great triumph. Sir Peter loves her because she is the most volatile, irresponsible, domineering, winsome mix in the world. It is small wonder that the creator of Madame Sans-Gene fits into Lady Teazle as if the role were made for her. There is in both the quality of nature, the knowledge of human vanity, judgement of the limit of their victim's patience, and the instinct of humor which demands the most delicate art of a comedienne. Miss Kidder will be seen here on Monday 24th at the Oliver, as a Co. star with Louis James and Frederick Warde, in "The School for Scandal." Prices 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. Seats now on sale.

In "A Bachelor's Honeymoon" the theatre-going public of this city have a treat in store at the Oliver next Wednesday evening the 26th. The farcical play was produced originally last season at Hoyt's theatre, New York, and scored a hit with the public. The story concerns the experience, for one day, of a widower whose marriage is subject to the approval of his maiden sister, on account of the eccentric will of his deceased parents. He marries an actress whom he introduces into his household as a governess for his twin daughters, who themselves are of marriagable age. The complications which develop, commence with the rise of the curtain, and become so confusing that no two characters in the play know what they are about, until the final denouement in the last act. The fun is spontaneous, and the play is said to be one long, irresistible laugh. Prices 25c, 50c, 75c and $1. Seats on sale Tuesday, 9 a. m.

One of the peculiarities of "On and Off," which appears at the Oliver next Thursday, April 27, is that it really requires two leading men, for both Mr. Holland and Mr. Williams have parts that require long experience and very deft handling. Both of them are upon the stage during most of the evening and have to play together, scene after scene, all of them extremely amusing, but requiring more skill than the average Bisson comedy. Mr. Holland, as the frivolous son-in-law who takes a new device in order to escape from his legitimate family for a few days every week, has, of course, really the chief part, probably one of the best in his career of of thirty years upon the stage, but it is so closely associated with Mr. Williams that both parts must be equally well played in order to produce the required effect. Prices $1.50, $1.75c, 50c, 25c. Seats on sale Tuesday morning.
