MILLER & PAINE

Social and Personal

Married at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Leonard, on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, Miss Caroline Amanda Leonard and Mr. O. J. Wilcox. The ceremony was performed by Dr. D. W. C. Huntington, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Chipperfield.

The simple ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church was used, and when the bride and groom knelt to receive the blessing the entire company repeated the Lord's prayer. Miss Marguerite States acted as ring bearer. The bay window in the second parlor was festooned with passion vines and banked with palms, and there beneath a large ball of white and pink roses the bridal party stood during the ceremony. The bride's gown was of a dainty white organdie trimmed with valenciennes lace and white ribbon. Her bouquet was of bride's roses. The marriage was witnessed by thirty intimate friends and relatives. This was followed by a reception to three hundred people nearly all of whom were in evening dress.

The dining room was decorated with pink roses and palms. Mrs. W. M. Leonard served pink ices and cakes, and was assisted by Misses Laura Ryan, Emma Bennet, Sidle and McGrew, all wearing white gowns and pink ribbons. Mrs. T. Miltonberger and Miss Ida Benne't received the guests at the door, and Misses Kate Carveth and Maude Miller ushered them into the dining room. From Boston to California came gifts many and beautiful to the bride, who will use them at once in her cosy new home at 1514 A street, where she and her husband have already begun housekeeping. Guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. T. Mathews of Fremont, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taggart of Nebraska City, and Mr. Dayton Robbins of Plattsmouth.

President James H. Canfield of the Ohio university has accepted the position of librarian of the beautiful library of Columbia college. Some surprise has been expressed that a man possessing the large executive ability of President Canfield, cares to resign a position requiring the positive genius for affairs necessary to the president of a university, and accept the less active position of librarian even though that college be Columbia and that library be the Low memorial. But a scholar loves peace and the friction which attends the days of every college president may have worn upon President Canfield who has as elastic and non impressionable a temperament as any other member in the galaxy of American college presidents. Mrs. Canfield has arranged to go abroad in June.

Mr. C. A. Hanna, who has lately received the appointment of bank examiner in the district of Philadelphia and contiguous large cities, has moved to Philadelphia. The appointment is a compliment to Mr. Hanna's recognized ability and integrity, and his many friends in Lincoln can sincerely congratulate comptroller Dawes on his selection and Mr. Hanna upon his appointment. Mr. R. D. Muir has gone to Philadelphia to assist Mr. Hanna in the responsible work he is called to perform.

A. Johnson, Harry Johnson, Lemar, Lowrie, Meler, Magee, Perry Marsh and Moore.

On Saturday afternoon, Miss Marguerite Taylor celebrated her seventh birthday with the help of a number of little friends invited to spend the afternoon with her. In the games which were played prizes were won by Fae Dufur and Edwin Taylor. Those present were: Gladys Rawlings, Ellen Kirkland, Hazel Bayard, Laura Swartz, Fae Dufur, Josephine Johnson, Helen Hersberger, Mamie Johnson, Emily Johnson, Helen Benedict, Hazel McClellan, Hazel Kirk, Vessie Graves, Ruby Wildermuth, Verna Vanderpool, Juliet Rathbone, Nellie Joyce, Mary Tucker, Marguerite Taylor, Dwight Miller, Edwin Taylor, Harry Benedict, Roy Graves, Otis Taylor, Harry McCoy and Harold Smith.

Phi Kappa Psi gave a wheeling party on Tuesday evening after the band concert on the university campus. The wheel ride was considerably abbreviated on account of the storm, but the young people, chaperoned by Mrs. Clark went to the chapter house on G street and spent the evening pleasantly with games, dancing and refreshments. Those of the party were: Mrs. Clark; Misses Fannie Cole, Ethel Tukey, Jackson-Marguerite Winger, Mabel Hayes, Nell Holbrook, Maude Macomber, Gertrude Macomber, Emily Weeks, Frances Cunningham, Ellen Douglas, Blanche Garten and Marguerite Custer; Messrs. Orlo Brown, Claude Reed, Austin Collett, Harry Crandall, Edwin Chapin Bert Christy, Paul Weeks, Fred Cusaden, Louie Korsmeyer, Fritz Korsmeyer, Harry Shedd, Frank Lehmer and Frank Manchester.

The Iowa whist club season closed on Wednesday evening with a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Spencer. A two course luncheon was served. Those present were: Professor and Mrs. Willard Kimball, Professor and Mrs.
