

The form containing pages 4, 5, 8 and 9 of this week's issue were pried which explains the presence of plate matter on these pages and the mixed fonts.

Richards, Professor and Mrs. Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. Mungler, Doctor and Mrs. R. A. Holyoke, Doctor and Mrs. E. L. Holyoke, Professor and Mrs. Fling, Mr. and Mrs. Holm, Mr. and Mrs. Le Gore, Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Kelley, Dr. and Mrs. Wolcott, Dr. and Mrs. Faulkner, Professor and Mrs. Hinman and Miss Nellie Holland.

Married at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Leonard, on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Caroline Amanda Leonard and Mr. O. J. Wilcox. The ceremony was performed by Dr. D. W. Huntington, assisted by the Rev. Chipperfield.

The simple ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church was used, and when the bride and groom knelt to receive the blessing the entire company repeated the Lord's prayer. Miss Marguerite States acted as ring bearer. The bay window in the second parlor was festooned with passion vines and banked with palms, and there beneath a large ball of white and pink roses the bridal party stood during the ceremony. The bride's gown was of a dainty white organdie trimmed with valenciennes lace and white ribbon. Her bouquet was of bride's roses. The marriage was witnessed by thirty intimate friends and relatives. This was followed by a reception to three hundred people nearly all of whom were in evening dress.

The dining room was decorated with pink roses and palms. Mrs. W. M. Leonard served pink ices and cakes, and was assisted by Misses Laura Ryan, Emma Bennet, Sidel and McGrew, all wearing white gowns and pink ribbons. Mrs. T. L. Miltenberger and Miss Ida Bennet received the guests at the door, and Misses Kate Carveth and Maude Miller ushered them into the dining room. From Boston to California came gifts many and beautiful to the bride, who will use them at once in her cosy new home at 1514 A street, where she and her husband have already begun housekeeping. Guests from out of town were: Messrs. and Mesdames T. Mathews of Fremont, Robert Taggart of Nebraska City and Mr. Dayton Robbins of Plattsburgh.

On Saturday afternoon, Miss Marguerite Taylor celebrated her seventh birthday with the help of a number of little friends invited to spend the afternoon with her. In the games which were played prizes were won by Fae Dufur and Edwin Taylor. Those present were Misses Rawlings, Kirkland, Bayard, Swartz, Dufur, Johnson, Hershberger, Johnson, McClellan, Johnson, Benedict, Graves, Kirk, Wildermuth, Vanderpool, Taylor, Rathbone, Joyce, Tucker, Miller, Masters Miller, Taylor, Benedict, Graves, Taylor, McCoy and Harold Smith.

Miss Gertie Rogers of 2918 P street entertained the C. C. C. C. on Friday evening. Games of various sorts were played. Those present were: Misses Hattie Brown, Cora Wagner, Gretta McGillick, Laura McGillick, Ada McFall, Lela Blaney, Edna De Vault, Bertha McMasters, Freda Sweeney, Gertie Rogers and Lola Morris; Mesdames Compton, Blaney and Rogers; Messrs. Frank Wagner, Sid Bronson, Cecil McMasters, D. N. Rogers, Perle Richardson, A. M. Kline, Guy Davidson, H. D. Duncan, James Farney, George Ohler and Vincent Blaney.

Last Saturday was Master Aaron Sullivan's ninth birthday and Mrs. Sullivan invited his teacher, Miss Pierce, and his schoolmates to help him celebrate the happy event. There was a birthday cake with candles which were lighted by the host; and extinguished by the guests, and other refreshments which would please the juvenile palate. The children played games upon the lawn and had a good time generally.

On Monday evening Mrs. H. L. Wetherald and her daughter Cora, were surprised by a company of friends and the evening was pleasantly spent with cards and music. The refreshment tables were decorated with roses. The following were present: Messrs. and Mesdames Pobanz, Lapp, Brethower, Kendall, McClelland, Rose, Robinson, Gillan, and Castell; Misses Newman, Lamber, Pierson, Anna Pierson and A. C. Baard.

Phi Kappa Psi gave a wheeling party on Tuesday evening after the band concert on the university campus. The wheel ride was considerably abbreviated on account of the storm, but the young people, chaperoned by Mrs. Clark went to the chapter house on G street and spent the evening pleasantly with games dancing and refreshments. Those of the party were: Mrs. Clark; Misses Fannie Cole, Ethel Tukey, Jackson, Marguerite Winger, Mabel Hayes, Nell Holbrook, Maude Macomber, Gertrude Macomber, Emily Weeks, Frances Cunningham, Ellen Douglas, Blanche Garten and Marguerite Custer; Messrs. Orle Brown, Claude Reed, Austin Collett, Harry Crandall, Edwin Chapin, Bert Christy, Paul Weeks, Fred Cuscaden, Louie Kormeyer, Fritz Kormeyer, Harry Shedd, Frank Lehmer and Frank Manchester.

Chancellor and Mrs. McLean gave an informal reception Thursday from four until half past five o'clock, in honor of the representatives of the inter-state oratorical association, who were in the city to attend the contest at the Oliver last night. The invitations to the reception included the officers of the local oratorical association, the deans and regents of the university. Chancellor and Mrs. McLean received the guests, and Madame MacLean served refreshments. Those present were: Mr. Savage, of Emporia, Kansas, secretary of the association; Mr. Tone, orator of Carlton college, Mine o'a, and Mr. Hill, delegate from the same school; Mr. Farrar, of DePauw, university, Indiana; Mr. Harwood, of Eureka college Illinois; Mr. Chamberlin, of Denison university, Ohio; Mr. McGuire, of the Nebraska state university, vice-president of the association, Mr. Talbot, orator of the same school; Governor and Mrs. Poynter, Colonel and Mrs. W. J. Bryan, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Sherman, Dr. and Mrs. Edgren, Judge and Mrs. M. M. Reese, Mrs. H. H. Wilson, Dr. J. T. Lees, and Mr. Schuyler Miller.

Wednesday evening at L. L. I. hall, a delightful dancing party was given by the young ladies who have been entertained by the Lincoln club this season. The hall was decorated with flags and bunting. Good music was furnished and ices were served between dances. After the dancing a banquet was served. Those responsible for this pleasant entertainment were: Mistress of ceremonies, Elsie Herminhaus; committee of arrangements, Misses Wolf, A. Herminhaus, Bohanon and Sheldon; reception committee, Misses Townsend, Peters, Wolf, Douglas and Brodensteiner.

Miss Louis A. Francis and Mr. W. J. Coffman were married Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Francis. Rev. William H. Manss performed the ceremony in the presence of only relatives and intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Coffman will reside at 1523 South Tenth street.

Miss Mead, of 1715 K street, entertained very pleasantly Thursday evening at Crokinole. Roses and carnations were the decorations. Light refreshments were served. A pleasant feature of the evening was a serenade given by a mandolin club. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Betts, Misses Highland, Day, McLenon; and Ethel Tyler, Messrs. LeFevre, Gugenheim, Lovelan and Bancroft.

The engagement of Miss Madge Rudy, of Sioux City, Iowa, a niece of Mrs. John B. Wright, who has visited in Lincoln many times, and Mr. Harry H. Everett, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Everett, has been announced. The marriage will occur in June.

Miss A. Leloyd Waitting gave a wheeling party at seven o'clock this morning, and a breakfast at nine, in compliment to Miss Margaret Winger, who will leave on Monday for an extended absence from the city. Miss Whitney's guests were: Misses LaSeile, Holbrook, Wetzal, Hayes-Winger, and Messrs. Wehn, Williams, Lester, Mudge, Reed, Panchast, Fitzgerald.

Mr. John Cavanah of New York City, is visiting Mrs. Ed Fitzgerald.

Herbert Post of Freeport, Ill., is visiting his aunt, Mrs. John Dorgan.

Miss Florence Tompkinson, secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, has resigned her position here and will leave the first of June for her home in Kalamazoo, Mich. In the departure of Miss Tompkinson the association loses an earnest worker and a valued friend.

Mr. G. W. Rhodes assistant superintendent of this division of the Burlington has removed to this city and will reside at 1248 J street.

Mr. Jacob North and his son, Mr. Sam North, will start Monday for Europe. Mr. North will visit his old home in England, then make a tour of France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland. He will return in October, but his son will not remain so long.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lansing entertained the La Veta whist club. With this meeting the club closed its thirteenth season, in which time little change has been made in its membership which is as follows: Messrs. and Mesdames Weir, Field, Bogge, Bogg, Bell, Hallett, Gillilan, Lindsay, Waugh, Davis, and Kirker; Misses Bogg and Caffn.

Mrs. S. K. Huntsinger has issued invitations to a party to be given on May 11th. The ladies are requested to bring pen knives.

The Round Table met on Monday evening with Mr. John B. Wright. A paper on "Our Municipal Burden of Debt and Taxes," prepared by Mr. J. H. Harley was read. The house was adorned with meteor roses.

Mrs. Minnie Fish Griffin who sang at the May festival Monday evening was the guest of Mrs. D. A. Risser.

Madame J. H. MacLean has returned from California and is the guest of Chancellor and Mrs. McLean.

No Wonder It's a Trase.
The silver question, as it is understood in some parts of Kentucky, is graphically illustrated by a letter which one of the statesmen at the capitol received from a correspondent in that state. It appears from this epistolary evidence that a controversy was being waged between a sound-money man and a silver champion. The gold man thought he had the best of the argument. He asked his adversary why he thought that the free coinage of silver would make times better.

"Simply because it would put more money in circulation," said the white-metal crank.

"But how will it put more money in circulation?" demanded the gold man.

"How?" asked the silver man, with a smile of contempt at his opponent. "How? Why, you blamed fool, if you can take one gold dollar to the treasury and get sixteen dollars for it, won't that increase the circulation?"—Pittsburg Dispatch

DU MAURIER AND MOSCHELES.

First Meeting of the Two Great Artists in Gay Bohemia.

We first met in Antwerp in the class rooms of the famous academy, says Moscheles in the Century. I was painting and blaguing as one paints and blagues in the storm and stress period of one's artistic development. It had been my good fortune to begin my studies in Paris, where in the Atelier Gleyre I had cultivated the essentially French art of chaffing known by the name of "la blague Parisienne," and I now was able to give my less lively Flemish friends and fellow-students the full benefit of my experience. Many pleasant recollections bound me to Paris, so when I heard one day that a "nouveau" had arrived straight from my old Atelier Gleyre I was not a little impatient to make his acquaintance.

The newcomer was Du Maurier. I sought him out, and, taking it for granted that he was a Frenchman, I addressed him in French. We were soon engaged in lively conversation, asking and answering questions about comrades in Paris, and sorting the threads that associated us with the same place. "Did you know un nomme Poynter?" he asked, exquisitely Frenchifying the name for my benefit. I mentally translated this into equally exquisite English, my version naturally being "a man called Poynter." Later an American came up, with whom I exchanged a few words in his and my native tongue. "What the deuce are you? English?" broke in Du Maurier. "And what the deuce are you," I rejoined. And we then and there made friends on a sound international basis.

It seemed to me that at this first meeting Du Maurier took me in at a glance—the eager, hungry glance of the caricaturist. He seemed struck by my appearance, as well he might be. I wore a workman's blouse that had gradually taken its color from its surroundings. To protect myself from the indiscretions of my comrades I had painted various warnings on my back, as, for instance, "Bill stickers, beware," "It is forbidden to shoot rubbish here," and the like. My very black hair, ever inclined to run riot, was encircled by a craftily concealed band of crochet work, such as only a fond mother's hand could devise, and I was doubtless coloring some meerschau of eccentric design.

It has always been a source of legitimate pride to me to think that I should have been the tool selected by Providence to sharpen Du Maurier's pencil. There must have been something in my "verfluchte physiognomie," as a very handsome young German whom I used to chaff unmercifully called it, to reveal to Du Maurier those dormant capacities which had been betrayed in his eager glance.

Repeating Rifles.

The king of Denmark's "sort of new invented guns, which being but once charged will discharge many times, one after another," in 1657, would seem to have had rivals about the same period. Pepys twice refers to such. On July 3, 1662, when "at the Dolphin with the officers of the ordnance, after dinner was brought to Sir. W. Compton a gun to discharge seven times, the best of all devices that ever I saw and very serviceable, and not a bawble, for it is much approved of, and many thereof made." And on March 4, 1663-4, he mentioned "a new fashion gun to shoot often, one after another."—Notes and Queries.

The Baseball Pitcher.

The famous base ball pitcher had walked the floor with the youngest of his family for an hour or so. "Mary," said he, "if the manager saw me now, I bet I'd get soaked with a fine."

"Why?" asked the wife, sleepily. "I don't seem to have any control of the ball at all, I don't."

TRUE ENTERPRISE.

Spacer—I hear the World is going to employ a bishop on the editorial staff. Liner—No wonder. All of its news matter needs confirmation.