The marriage of Miss Alice L. Righter to Mr. Arthur Ray Edmiston occurred Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Righter. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Francis W. Eason, rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal church. The bride wore an exquisite empire gown of ivory white silk mull made entrain, and contrary to the usual mode in bridal robes, decollette with short sleeves. It was trimmed with many tiny ruffles and with French lace and embroidery. A quaintly beautiful fichu, also trimmed with the lace and embroidery was fastened with a handsome brooch which has been in the family for several generations. The bridal veil was clasped with a diamond pendant presented by the groom; and she carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley. As Miss Righter and Mr. Edmiston descended the stairs to the drawing room the wedding music from Lohengrin was sung by twelve young ladies, special friends of the bride, accompanied by Miss Rice at the piano, and Miss Dales with the violin. The singers paused upon the stairs during the ceremony which occurred in a bay window banked with palms. The lights in the house were softened by pink shades. The dining room was decorated in pink. Broad satin ribbons extended from the chandelier to the corners of the table where they terminated in large bows, and a centerpiece of brides maid roses.

The stair case was festooned with smilax and bridal wreath. The wedding was witnessed by only relatives and very near friends. Many elegant costumes were worn, Mrs. Righter, mother of the bride, wore a costume of heliotrope foulard silk with a vest of cream satin appliqued with embroidery, and the skirt finished with a handsome lace drapery. Mrs. E. M. Bartlett, of Omaha, wore a gray silk gown with front of mousselin de soie, and trimmings of embroidery and wine colored velvet. Mrs. McEwen, black silk crepon, diamonds; Mrs. W. B. Hargreaves, cream satin foulard with wide black lace inserting made over turquoise blue taffeta; Mrs. C. L. Dundy, of Omaha, black and white foulard with yoke and half sleeves of pink satin, veiled with pink mousselin and trimmed with bow knots of black chenille, and chenille trimmings on the skirt. On Saturday Miss Righter entertained the members of Delta Gamma fraternity who presented her with a handsome fraternity pin, and on last Thursday Miss Blanche Garten gave her a "linen shower" and luncheon. The bridal presents were numerous and elegant. Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston have gone west for a wedding journey and upon their return will reside in Omaha.

The marriage of Miss Margaret English to Mr. Charles D. Mullen, occurred on Thursday evening at half past eight at St. Theresa's pro cathedral. Father Bradley and Father Reed officiating. The wedding march from Lohengrin, was played by Mrs. Lawlor, sister of the groom. Miss English entered upon the arm of Mr. Thomas Benton who also gave her away. The bride's gown was a strikingly beautiful creation of gray and white satin foulard. The bodice had a yoke and front of white liberty silk in tiny tucks and was trimmed with real lace. The skirt had soft ruchings of white silk upon it. The bridal veil fell in soft folds to the floor. Miss Hazel Benton, who was maid of honor, wore a crimson gown with garnitures of white. After the wedding a reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wheeler. The drawing room was elaborately decorated with palms and asparagus ferns. The doorways and mantles were festooned with ferns, caught here and there with bows of white ribbon. The dining room was decorated with red and white, the refreshments were red, and the hall was done in the same brilliant color. Mesdames Dorgan, Walsh, Howe, and Buchanan of Omaha, assisted in entertaining the guests, and punch was served by Miss Cora Herrick. Many elegant gifts were bestowed upon the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Mullen will visit Minnesota and the Northern lakes, and upon their return will be at home at 1636 F street.

Mrs. R. M. Le Gore entertained at cards on Wednesday afternoon. The house was decorated with roses and carnations. The piazza was cozily furnished with rugs, couches, cushions and tables, making a pretty scene against the dark background of vines which surround it. Punch was served in this pretty nook by Miss Beth Marshall, assisted by Misses Le Gore and Faulkner. Six handed euchre was played and prizes won by Mrs. R. M. Turner and Miss Stella Kirker. Mrs. Le Gore was assisted in serving her guests by Mesdames Jones, Davis and Marshall. Invited guests were: Mesdames Strode, Fling, Folsom, Rudge, Love, Hardy, Barbour, Casebeer, Holm, Spencer, Parker, Wheeler, Holyoke, Usher, Hinman, Kelley, Meisner, Campbell, Marshall, Linch, Seacrest, Folsom, Stearns, Preston, Lee, Garoutte, Jones, Kimball, Turner, Traphagen, Baker, Holyoke, Harley, Woods, Ward, Mills, Barbour, Douglas, Robinson of Chicago, and Back of Crete; Misses Kirker, Risser and Marshall. On Thursday Mrs. Le Gore gave a much enjoyed Kensington. The guests were given chewing gum and told to mould from it any article which they chose, placing it upon palettes which were also provided. The game afforded considerable amusement; the prize was awarded to Mrs. Laurence Fossler. The hostess was assisted by Mesdames Spencer, Davis, Charles and Marshall; Misses Marshall, Faulkner and Le Gore. Guests at the Kensington were: Mesdames Bessey, Howell, Risser, Faulkner, Doane, MacLean, Hill, Babcock, States, States, White, Lees, Hodgman, Bryan, Miller, MacLean, Bowman, Welsh, Day, Williams, Van Brunt, Cook, Marshall, Burkett, Davis, Babcock, Lane, Kirker, Beckman, Robbins, Campbell, Fossler, Davidson, Messner, Van Brunt, Scott, Burkett, Webster, Chipperfield, Teeters, Allen, Candy, Hyde, Weesner, Huntington, Hammond, Snelling, Cobb of Texas, and Smith of Washington, D. C.; Misses Lesher, Smith, Johnson and Irwin.

The Ciceronian debating society of the high school held the last meeting of the year Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sawyer. Mr. Charles Sawyer acted as toast master and the speeches were interspersed with music by Misses L. King, Nell Trigg.
