

Leese and Stevens. The guests were admitted to the house by William J. Bryan, junior. Miss Ruth Bryan served punch in an alcove in the hall, and Mesdames Stewart and Thompson, and Misses Stewart and Young served ices and cakes in the dining room. It was a pink and white wedding. The lights were shaded with pink, the doors festooned with ribbons and roses in those colors, and bouquets of roses were everywhere. Ribbons extending from the chandelier were caught at the corners of the table with bows, and the centre piece was of roses. The bride's popularity was attested by the large number of beautiful gifts she received. She was for some time stenographer for Bryan and Talbot in their law offices, was afterwards stenographer for Mrs. Bryan, and more recently has been employed in the land commissioner's office. The groom is a successful physician in St. Louis. They left at half past nine for their new home. Mrs. Hinchey's traveling gown was of blue broadcloth made with drop skirt and tunic. The bodice was appliqued with white lace, the stock and belt were of velvet in a fuchsia shade. The blue hat was trimmed to match the gown. Those present at the wedding were: Mr. Harry W. Shreve of Denver; Mr. D. J. Hinchey of Chicago; Messrs. and Mesdames David Whitney, Burt Whiting, Walter G. Clark, O. C. Holmes, Miss Adelaide Clark and Mr. Lee Herdman of Omaha. Messrs. and Mesdames Ray Nye, Dr. N. H. Brown, W. R. Wilson, John Thomson, S. N. Watson, Fred Draemel and Miss Olga Draemel of Fremont. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Alexander, Miss Mabel Alexander and Miss Alexander of Hastings. The Lincoln guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. V. Wolfe, E. N. Nelson, J. S. Hyatt, D. D. Lynch, Albert Sjoberg, A. K. Gift, A. R. Talbot, T. S. Allen, Wm. F. Schwind, Wm. J. Bryan, Benton Maret and J. E. Houtz; Mrs. R. H. Stewart; Misses Clara Leese, Faith Schwind, Grace Stewart, Florence Hawley, Jennie Abbott, Greta Muman, Lizzie and Mary Stevens, and Ruth and Grace Bryan; Messrs. M. S. Hawley, J. H. Graves, Milton Schwind and Henry Blum.

"The melancholy days are come, The saddest of the year" for a society editor. He has already recorded that Mrs. Smith has gone to the sea shore, Mrs. Brown to the mountains, and Mrs. Jones to the Thousand Islands, and if Mr. Smith, Mr. Brown, and Mr. Jones have remained at home as is very likely the case, they may be having a glorious time, but the society editor is not allowed to record it. All that breaks the monotony is an occasional wedding (for it is still June), picnics and trolley rides, or perchance a garden party the weather permitting. Truly these be the times that try men's souls. Apropos of weddings, that of Miss Margaret Core Rady, of Sioux City, to Dr. H. H. Everett, of Lincoln, of which only brief mention was made in the columns was an unusually pretty affair. It was a sweet pea wedding occurring in St. Thomas' Episcopal church which was adorned with a profusion of these lovely blossoms and palms. The bride was, of course, in purest white, but the gowns of the bridesmaids were in the dainty shades of the sweet peas, one being pale lavender, one pale green, and one pale pink, while the maid of honor wore white over pale green, and all carried the fragrant flowers. All of the gowns were made with pointed tunics over accordion plaited flounces. A reception for the bridal party was given at the residence of the bride's parents, Captain and Mrs. J. W. Rudy. The house was beautifully decorated, the dining room being especially worthy of mention. A white bird hovered over the table holding in its beak ribbons which, separating, fell to the table and were caught with large bows on three of its sides, the ends reaching to the floor; sweet peas and ferns formed a center piece. A pretty feature of the refreshments was the ice cream moulded in the form of a cupid with his bow hung over his shoulder. Mr. and Mrs. Everett are at Sylvan lake and will return soon to reside at 632 South Seventeenth street.

Married Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. S. M. Walker, 1642 M street, Miss Emma J. Wurtz, of Unadilla, and Mr. Arthur Tool, of Murdock, the Rev. C. E. Bentley officiating. The wedding march was played by Miss Kate Walker. The house was decorated with roses and smilax. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Walker assisted by Misses Turner, Beulah, and Edna Albright. Mr and Mrs Tool left in the afternoon for Murdock where they will reside. Those at the wedding were Rev. and Mrs. Albright, Mesdames Bentley, Turner, Davis, Acker; Misses Tool, Allen, and Wurtz.

Married on Saturday at five o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Columbus, Nebr., Miss Grace Gerrard to Dr. Roscoe Pound of Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Pound are now taking their wedding journey. The groom is one of the brightest young lawyers here and he has a career as assured as brains, integrity and energy can make it. Mrs. Pound is a graduate of the State university and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrard of Columbus, old residents of that city which was one of the earliest, established in Nebraska.

Married on Tuesday evening at the East Lincoln Baptist church by Dr. Bently, assisted by the Rev. Spen, Miss Grace Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morgan, to Mr. F. T. Riley of Kansas City. The church was decorated with palms and roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Eoith Morgan and Artha Binford. The groomsmen were Mr. George McKenney of Nelson, Nebr., and Dr. Frederick Teal of Omaha. The ushers were Messrs. Whitmore and Weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Riley will reside in Kansas City.

Two carloads of members and friends of the Young Women's Christian Association enjoyed a trolley ride given on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Bertha Snyder a former officer of the association, who is soon to leave for her new home in California. After the ride the company went to the association parlors for a social time. Miss Pierce presided as toast mistress and the following were the responses:

- "Stillwaters," Mrs. Nellie M. Richardson.
  - "Vacations," Miss Atkinson.
  - "Our Business Women," Miss Hodges.
  - "Sweet Sorrow," Miss Burns.
- Ice cream and cake were served.

The Y. W. C. A. received a gift of $50.00 last week from Mr. W. D. Fitzgerald. Such remembrances are highly appreciated.

On Tuesday evening a "Texas Chile Party" was given by Mrs. J. Remley and Miss Rosa Scott. The party took its name from the refreshments, the principal feature of which was made of Texas beans, Texas peppers and Texas steak. Some good music was rendered. The guests were: Mesdames Hagensick, Hall, Smith, Garten, Johnson, Dean, Scott and Scott; Misses Givens, Druse, Smith and Johnson; Messrs. Hagensick, Garten, Dean, Fisher, Hallett, Barry, Francis, Shively, Marsh, Lamar, J. M. and R. C. Scott.

The Q. A. T. girls gave a farewell picnic on Friday evening at Lincoln park for Miss Mae Biltgen who left on Monday for her vacation. Dancing in the theatre followed the supper. The company consisted of: Mrs. Stewart;
