

was unable to be present and named Mrs. L. W. Huntington as her substitute. In the absence of Capt. Mally, Captain Herpolsheimer responded.

Miss Ella Robertson, president of the young ladies auxiliary, being ill, Miss Nina Prey, vice president, appeared for her. Miss Prey's remarks were very clear, and representative of the public sentiment.

The soldiers having explained that public speaking was not so much in their line as fighting, were not heard by the expectant people, but were promptly and cheerfully forgiven.

The program in full was as follows:

"The Stars and Stripes Forever," Sousa, Hagenow's band.

Invocation, Mrs. Persis Bentley.

"Home, Sweet Home," Miss Pauline Oakley.

Address of welcome on behalf of women's patriotic league, Mrs. W. J. Bryan.

Response, James Mailley.

Music - Overture "Stradella," Flotow, Hagenow's band.

Address, Miss Ella Robertson, young ladies' auxiliary.

Address, Mrs. L. C. Pace, Appomatox corps.

Patrol, "The Blue and the Gray," Dalbey, Hagenow's band.

Address, Mrs. Belle C. Bolshaw, Columbia Rebekah Lodge No. 90.

Address, Mrs. O. S. Ward, Farragut corps.

Waltz, "Birds' Voices," Vollstedt, Hagenow's band.

Address, Mrs. Maggie Allen, Charity lodge No. 2.

Address, Mrs. Marian E. Cramphin, General Custer circle.

Medley, "The Winner," Mackay, Hagenow's band.

Occasional poem, Miss Flora Bullock.

Address, Mrs. L. W. Pomerene, women's bimetallic league.

American Patrol, Meacham, Hagenow's band.

The committee on the program comprised the following: Mrs. L. W. Pomerene, Mrs. Mary Heaton, Mrs. Kate Zehrunge, Mrs. O. S. Ward, Mrs. Anna Pace, Mrs. Marion Cramphin, Mrs. Maggie Allen, Miss Howland and Miss Ella Robertson.

After the program each soldier was decorated with a gold badge of unique design. After which they with their mothers, wives and sweethearts adjourned to the senate chamber from which all except those for whom the reception was primarily intended were excluded. Here refreshments were served amid surroundings most pleasant. The senate chamber had been tastefully decorated. At midnight streams of people were still pouring through the corridors, and each soldier who appeared immediately became the center of a worshipping group. The affair closed with dancing.

"Brave sons, your mother smiles today
And though from far-off islands come
The mournful 'taps,'

her tears she'll stay—

"Lights out!" but "Welcome home."

Jamestown, New York, Evening Journal, August 18th.—There was a quiet but interesting wedding in St. Luke's church on Thursday morning, the contracting parties being Mr. James A. Camp Canfield and Miss Stella M. Elliott, both of Columbus, Ohio. Miss Elliott is the assistant director of the gymnasium at the Ohio state university, having entire charge of the work with young women, and has been spending the summer at Chataqua, taking a course in remedial gymnastics, which has just closed. Mr. Canfield is with the Central Ohio Paper company of Columbus. It was more convenient for the families of both parties to meet here, so Jamestown and St. Luke's were chosen for the ceremony. The wedding party left the New Sherman house at eleven o'clock and entered the church through the chapel porch at the side. Mr. Canfield was accompanied to the chancel rail by the bride's brother, Dr. Charles A. Elliott, of Mercy hospital, Chicago. The bride followed with her mother, Mrs. Frances R. Elliott, supervisor of drawing in the public schools of Salt Lake City, Utah. Then came Mr. Canfield's only sister, Miss Dorothy Canfield of New York City, who passed to the bride's left at the chancel, and acted as the bridesmaid. Following came Mr. Canfield's mother and father, Dr. James H. Canfield, librarian of Columbia university, New York, and Mrs. James H. Canfield. In the unavoidable absence of the bride's father, her brother gave her away. The beautiful service of the Episcopal church was followed throughout, the organist of St. Luke's maintaining a soft accompaniment. The church was tastefully decorated with potted plants. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party passed to the vestry, where the parish records were duly signed and witnessed. Several photographs of the party were taken by Mrs. James H. Canfield, to be sent to absent relations and friends. The entire party was breakfasted at high noon at the New Sherman by Mrs. Elliott, after which the bridal couple left for Buffalo—beyond which point their destination was not revealed. Dr. and Mrs. Canfield and daughter returned to New York on Thursday evening, and Dr. and Mrs. Elliott go back to Chataqua for a few days—then to Chicago and the west.

An interesting reception was that given on Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Andrews of 3041 S street, to their son Howard L. Andrews, a member of the First Nebraska. The parlors were decorated with evergreens and golden rod, and without the house, red, white and blue dominated. Above the entrance were the words "Welcome Home" in the national colors. Lanterns lent an additional touch of gayety, while two large head lights brilliantly lighted the lawn. In the receiving line were Mr. H. L. Andrews, Mr. Harvey, Captain Coogrove of Company I, Mr. Sterns of the First regiment and Mr. Zediker of the Second. Miss Zediker, Miss Neham and Mr. Baker also assisted. A number of photographs and relics were scattered about the parlor. At half past nine the guests gathered on the lawn and listened to addresses of welcome delivered by Mrs. King and Dr. Polk of Raymond. Responses were made by Captain Coogrove and the soldiers. Ices were served on the lawn: During the evening more than a hundred friends had the pleasure of meeting the soldiers and congratulating them upon their safe and happy return.

One of the popular melon parties which have been social features of late was given on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Davenport of 3002 R street. Guests to the number of eighty enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Davenport. Some were the members of the Welcome Circle of the aid society of Grace M. E. church. The membership is limited to ladies but on this occasion the men so fortunate as to belong to the families of the members were invited to the party. The lawn decorated with lanterns presented attractions not to be resisted and the majority of the guests enjoyed its inviting coolness.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kimball, Masters George and Willard and Misses Katherine and Margery Kimball have returned from a delightful summer outing in Colorado, the greater part of which was spent at Pine, a woody place which has won the favor of many Lincoln people Mr. Kimball is very busy looking after the preliminary arrangements for the opening of the University School of Music which takes place Monday next. Mr. Kimball expresses himself as much pleased with the outlook for the year. The house is already filled and preparations are being made for a larger number of students than ever before. Mr. Kimball thinks a larger number of instructors than are now announced will be needed. Miss Florence Worley, well and favorably known in Lincoln, and for the past two years instructor of music at Peru, will arrive soon having accepted a position at the University School of Music.

On Monday evening at half past eight was performed the quiet ceremony which united the lives of Mrs. Emmeline Peckham and Rev. John L. Gregg of Manhattan, Kansas. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride 1117 L street. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Dr. Wharton. The invited guests were Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Wharton, Rev. and Mrs. R. T. Chipperfield, Elder and Mrs. T. H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peckham and Mrs. George Root. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gregg were serenaded by the Epworth League of St. Paul's church of which Mrs. Gregg has long been an honored and efficient member. Mr. and Mrs. Gregg will reside in Kansas.

Miss Maud Shamp entertained the Good Templars at her home at 1636 South Seventeenth street on Monday evening. Miss Gullick and Miss Lydia Shamp furnished music and Mr. Sylvester Johnson entertained the guests with a pleasing recitation. The guests enjoying Miss Shamp's hospitality were Messrs Peters, Medger, Johnson, Lane, Kitt; Misses Manley, Kitt, Malong and Mrs. Wineberger.

Mrs. Geo. Bonnell, Miss Bonnell, Miss Winnie and Mr. Roland Bonnell are home again after a delightful summer spent in the Lake Geneva region. The cottage occupied by Mrs. Bonnell is situated on Lake Beulah, a small but beautiful lake north of Lake Geneva. Mr. Bonnell joined the family for a few days rest and recreation before their return. The party report the situation an ideal one for summer vacation, including in the category of its inducements fine scenery, clear waters, which furnish boating, bathing or fishing as optional amusements. Mr. Bonnell has leased the same cottage for next year.

A reception was held at the home of Thomas Darnell at 25th and Y streets, on Monday evening in honor of Miss Jennie Pentzer who left Lincoln this morning for Bertrand where she will fill a position in the public schools. Miss Pentzer is a graduate of the state university, class of '99. The reception was attended by about a hundred of Miss Pentzer's friends. The evening was warm and the young people found the lawn, which was brilliantly lighted by two headlights and many lanterns, an enticing place. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening passed. Miss Barnaby, Miss Woodly, and Miss Dill furnished some delightful music. The East Lincoln quartette composed of Messrs Van Sickle, Odell, Rheinschild, and Crawley also sang acceptably.

Rev. Maans, pastor of the First Congregational church, returned Wednesday from his vacation trip which included visits to Cincinnati, Polo, Ill. Chicago and Sault Ste Marie. Mrs. Maans has not yet returned, remaining for a few days more in Polo, Ill. At present Mr. Maans is immersed in the delights which accompany a change of residence. Mr. and Mrs. Maans will reside at 1212 K street.

Cards are out announcing a postponement of the marriage of Miss Bessie Sizer to Mr. Fred C. Hurd, announced for Wednesday of this week. Mr. E. R. Sizer, father of the bride elect, sailed from Havana last Saturday and expects to reach Lincoln in time for the wedding which is to take place September sixth.

Miss Clara Watkins gave a morning
