

LINCOLN, NEBR., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1899.

SECOND CLASS MATTER.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY

COURIER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING CO Office 1132 N street, Up Stairs.

Telephone 384.

RAH B. HARRIS,

Subscription Rates-In Advance.

er annum							-14							.1		0
ix months	٠	٠		×	٠		٠	٠	٠		٠		٠		1	7
hree months																5
ne month												8			1	2
ingle copies.															1	0
The state of the state of

THE COURIER will not be responsible for vol stary communications unless accompanied by turn postage.

Communications, to receive attention, must a signed by the full name of the writer, not erely as a guarantee of good faith, but for blication if advisable.

OBSERVATIONS.

Colonel Stotzenburg and the Regiment.

The most important element of clonel Stotzenburg's greatness and uccess was his ability to make a regment out of companies enlisted from Lincoln, Omaha, York, Hastings, Broken Bow, Geneva, and other little owns in Nebraska. In accordance with the national custom of contiguous towns or cities of the same size, hese little towns hate and are jeal ous of each other. No better example of the unifying power of a leader can be found than the regiment that Colonel Statzenburg made out of these incongenial elements. From the ime the regiment left Lincoln until Colonel Stotzenburg was made Colonel, L Company from Omaha was part and outside of the regiment. was maneuvering to secure special rivileges and in several instances it vas temporarily successful. Colonel Stotzenburg realized that the pride of ocality, the sort of fraternity exclusiveness and aristocracy that L company exhibited should be destroyed. As oon as he had the power, the Colonel put L company to work putting it on exactly the same basis as the other companies. For this the Colonel was assassinated by the men who were weeded out of the regiment and who returned while the Nebraska legislature was in session to make a plaint of ill treatment instead of a confession of incurable incompetency. But the very satisfactory reult in the Filipines was the unificaion of the regiment and the rapid evelopment of as brave and perfectly ded a body of men as ever fought ogether. The Omaha men when in him when he ordered a charge in dents. the face of an intrenched foe was

A Fire Chief.

Unless Lincoln is to be destroyed by fire, it must have a fire chief whose recommendations the council will consider with respect, who can command the respect, obedience and emulation of every fireman and who will drill them till they are letter perfect in the specific duties of a fireman engaged in putting out a fire The present force are undrilled men who are clumsy and excited when a fire breaks out In last week's fire, the rawness and lack of drill was apparent to any one who has seen a thoroughly organized fire department at work. It is not so essential that the fire chief's wagon should be painted a brilliant red, white and gilt as that the firemen should learn how to handle and work the ladders and water tower, that each man should learn his post and his duties when the fire alarm sounds and afterwards, when the swinging, swaying fire engine and hose carts have arrived at the fire. Firemen of the Lincoln department might grumble if the mayor should place a man from outside the state at the head of the department. But the right man would make good firemen out of the stalwart fellows who now spend too large a portion of their leisure time painting the chief's wagon and lounging about the different stations. A thoroughly competent, experienced fire chief possessing the quality of leadership would organize the Lincoln fire department as Colonel Stotzenburg organized the First. H's success would disarm envy and the very men who threatened the mayor with political disfavor would take increased pride in him for this crowning evidence of his discriminating judgment.

The Fire Chief's Salary.

Since the present chief's administra- spired by a single motive—the needs

Colonel Stotzenburg's birthright, ed by a lack of funds and the partial- complish by means of the fire depart-Without it the regiment would have ly bankrupt condition of the city ment something for which it was not remained as it was first composed- makes are medy difficult. But at every created, viz., the popularization and companies of men from Lincoln from fire the need of a controlling and com- exaltation of Mr. Woodward. Such Omaha from here and there over the prehending chief is more and more a suspicion may not be altogether with a rise in insurance rates, for the his fellow citizens. sake of keeping in office a well-meaning but incompetent man.

It is urged that the fire department should be commended for preventing the burning of the frame parsonage north of the Methodist church last Friday night. But this feat indicates that the same time and effort expended on the stone church would have kept it from burning. The distance between the North building and the church and between the church and the frame parsonage is the same and the church being constructed of stone it was easier to prevent the latter ig- the location of a fire without going to niting from the adjacent burning the station, he was not able to anbuilding. On the church it would swer. The chief did not approve of only have been necessary to keep the firemen being stationed on the streets roof, eaves, and window frames wet. and when Chief of Police Hoagland The old pine house, every inch of stated that he had placed extra police which is inflammable, was soaked men in the street fair district with inith water and thus preserved from structions to guard against fires fire though only a few feet away from motion was lost. Then the unabashthe burning church. Long after the ed Woodward moved that the city enflames were in complete control of the gineer be instructed to advertise for North building on the west of the bids to put in a cistern on Eleventh church the firemen were pouring water street, between O and P streets, with into the front of the building. In a capacity of 2,500 barrels, and that large fires it is as necessary to know the cistern be connected "up" with the when to abandon a position as it is to city water main, and with the down direct new hose streams. It is a spout leading from the Richard's matter of retreating from an impossi- block so as to conduct the rain water ble position to take a stronger one in off of this block to the said cistern. time to hold the new position. The President Webster said that the reso-North building had surrendered to lution was impracticable and to setthe fire long before the firemen were tle the question it was left to the city allowed to turn the streams upon the engineer. church and then the enemy was inside and the water had very little chief be instructed to remove the fire property destroyed by fire would more the fire department are ineffectual after placing the apparatus. than pay a competent chief's salary, and have not the credit of being in-

The Fire Department.

they were once disciplined made good man is an industrious, honest, eco- conclusion is inevitable that Mr. fighters and capable, faithful officers. nomical man, but he is entirely lack Woodward wishes to have a cistern The realization that the regiment ing in the qualities of leadership, an dug there to give work to men who was a whole, composed of fighting essential qualification of one who have votes, or to gain popularity with parts whose devotion to the First was must command in emergencies. The the people of that section. He is one complete, whose esprit du corps had climex of a firechief's responsibility is of those unfortunates who cannot finally and completely destroyed any that always unexpected exigency—a keep things separate. It has become petty allegiance to Omaha, Lincoln, fire. As in the case of a great general impossible for him to consider the Hastings, York, or Grand Island, partly whose troops are well drilled and ac- good of the fire department by itself recompensed the Colonel for any customed to instant obedience, the in- and without regard to the political personal affronts he was made to suf- dividual peculiarities of each fire will effect his recommendations may have fer from the legislature. The quality be comprehended by the chief, and upon blmself. This mixture of moof leadership, which gave every man his commands will reflect his compre- tive has retroacted upon Mr. Woodin the regiment implicit confidence hension and mastery of these inci- ward to his own loss. His influence in the council is trifling on account of Mayor Winnett's action is hamper- the suspicion that he is trying to acapparent. It is spendthrift folly to well founded, but there is little doubt jeopardize the safety of the city, be- that it has undermined his standing sides being constantly threatened with the other councilmen and with

Councilman Woodward's Resolutions

At the council meeting on Monday night Mr. Woodward moved that the chief and chairman of the fire committee (Mr. Woodward is the chairman) be instructed to put on ten extra firemen at $1.50 for each twenty. four hours. Mr. Woodward said that the men ought not to be kept in the fire stations but in the street fair dis tricts. On being questioned as to what their duties should be and how, in case of an alarm they would know

Mr. Woodward moved that the fire engine from engine house No. 2, to engine house No. 1, and replace it at No. 2, with a ladder truck. This mat-With Councilman Woodward as the ter was opposed by many members. chairman of the council committee Councilman Malone said he did not of the fire department the cause of care to discuss such a question, as its present disorganization is partly that was the fire chief's business. Mr. explained. Mr. Woodward's recom- Mockett moved a point of order, as The loss to the city of the taxes on mendations to the council in regard to the city employed a fire chief to look Woodward withdrew the resolution.

These recommendations are not retion the city has been afflicted with of the department. When he advo- ferred to here for fear that they may larger and more disastrous fires than cates, week after week, a cistern in a become operative but for the purpose in any other one period. Chief Wied- locality where it is not needed, the of considering their futility and of ar.