Freshness . . .

The strength and efficacy of many drugs are in proportion to their newness and freshness.

Our Stock-RIGGS'-

Sales are fast. Our business is growing faster than we ever anticipated. We appreciate the valued patronage of our many customers. With their continued trade we can keep on the increase, without it we can do nothing. Their trade means our business, our living, that is why we are so particular to give them only a service and goods which we know will meet their approval. Their confidence is a great inspiration to us and will always be. We invite you to get your prescriptions filled at Riggs' Pharmacy-Funke Opera House, 12th and O Streets, Lincoln.

SOCIETY

The children, bless them, have held the boards in the social world for a part of this week. This means much to them now, more perhaps than it will a few years hence to give a party. This has also been a favorite week for weddings as many as eight or ten happy couples having been launched upon the sea of matrimony since last the Courier appeared. The important events for grown-ups came yesterday in the receptions given by Mrs. Sanderson and Mr. and Mrs. Woods. Miss Ferrenberg's recital this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer is anticipated with pleasure by many. The social clubs will begin their meetings soon, one Kensington meeting for the first time next Monday. The whist clubs which include men, wait I believe until after the election to begin operations. Apropos of whist the mottoes given below were selected from the works of Shakespeare by a member of an Ohio whist club to be used in connection with the game. They may be of interest to our readers:

Whatever else shall hap tonight give it an understanding, but no tongue. (Ham. i. 1).
Seal up your lips and give no words but mum; the business asketh silent secrecy (2 Henry VI i. 2).
No tongue! all eyes! be silent (Tem IV 2).
Be assured we come to use our hands and not our tongues (Rich. III, i. 3).
I am fain to shuffle (M. W. ii. 2).
Who leads? (I Hen. IV iv 1).
The most patient man in loss, the most coldest that ever turned up ace (Cymb. i. 3).
I have been in continual practice; I shall win at the odds (Hamlet v 3).
Have I not here the best cards for the game, to win this easy match? (K. John i. 2).
One out of suit with Fortune, that could give more but that her hand lacks means (A. Y. L. i. 2).
Our sport shall be to take what they mistake (M. N. D. v 1).
I'll mark the play (Ham. iii 3).
Our forefathers had no better books but the score and the tally (2 Hen. VI iv 7).

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Miss Katherine Carveth and Mr. John Warren Freeman were married, Rev. N. A. Martin of Trinity M. E. church officiating. It was a pretty wedding though simple. The bride wore a gown of white baptiste made entraine and carried bride roses. A canopy of smilax and pink and white roses was arranged in a corner of the drawing room and beneath it the ceremony was performed; the same colors were used in the decorations in the dining room. Mr. Wilcox played Mendelssohn's wedding march. Mrs. Carveth was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Worsley, and Mr. and Mrs. Freeland uncle and aunt of the groom.
